FORD POINTS TO HOOVER

Secretary Urged as Candidate

[illegible] Maker Reviews Stand of Coolidge and Believes His Word Final

President Refuses Comment on Magnate's Statement; Lowden Men Gather

DETROIT, Aug. 4 (AP)—Herbert Hoover was indorsed as the logical [illegible] for the Republican Presidential nomination to succeed Calvin Coolidge, in a statement issued here today by Henry Ford. The manufacturer said the President is sincere in his decision not to become a candidate.

Mr. Ford's statement follows:

"No one who knows President Coolidge will doubt his sincerity in declining to run again. It is a poor compliment to his character to twist his words from their plain meaning or to seek a loophole by which that meaning may be escaped.

"Mr. Coolidge evidently has thought this matter out with his usual care and has decided his course. No other President has so nearly possessed the power to break the third-term tradition, but he has chosen not to use that power.

"In the time and manner of his announcement Mr. Coolidge has allowed the country ample time for the consideration of his successor.

"For myself, I think that Herbert Hoover is the logical Republican candidate. This is a business generation and he is a business man. His experience as engineer, business administrator and Cabinet member has been [illegible] successful and has really been a training for the Presidency.

"He is in the prime of life, active and accustomed to tackling great [illegible] hopefully and bearing great [illegible] cheerfully. The American people have subconsciously thought of him as Presidential material for a number of years.

"He is the type of man to succeed [illegible]."

[illegible] KEEPS SILENT [illegible] OF FORD PLEA

[illegible] (S. D.) Aug. 4. (AP)—[illegible] to continue [illegible] prevailed with President Coolidge again today regarding [illegible] of Tuesday that he [illegible] choose to run for President [illegible].

[illegible] of the Associated Press [illegible] of the announcement by Henry Ford that he indorsed Herbert Hoover for the Republican nomination [illegible] to Mr. Coolidge before he boarded the train late today for [illegible] to the State game lodge, [illegible] read it in silence and without any change of expression.

If the President has in mind any [illegible] whom he would prefer to [illegible], he has not given the [illegible] of it. He leaves his [illegible] still somewhat amazed [illegible] the suddenness and unexpectedness of his Tuesday declaration. SIOUX ADOPT COOLIDGE

Wanblee Tokaha His Name Now

Indians Make Him Great Chief on Par With Sitting Bull and Red Cloud

President Given Gorgeous War Bonnet in Colorful Outdoor Ceremony

DEADWOOD (S. D.) Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge is now Wanblee Tokaha (Leading Eagle,) great chief of the Ogallala Sioux Indian tribe. He now ranks with Sitting Bull, Red Cloud and two other famous chiefs in the councils of the tribe.

"You are now 100 per cent American," Chief Yellow Robe told the President, as he escorted him to the Presidential box at the "Days of '76" show after the ceremony of induction into the tribe.

This ceremony was short and simple, out of doors in the green gulch of Deadwood, where the days of the gold rush were re-enacted.

THEIR HIGHEST HONOR

Canyon walls and climbing spruce and pine forests formed the background. It was home to the Indians, grouped in their barbaric finery in the field in front of the grand stand. It was a strange place for a New England President. But the President, on signal from his aide, marched with Mrs. Coolidge across the open space to the Indian throng and stood before the chiefs. They could bestow no higher honor on a man than this. It was not an idle, empty show for them, but a ceremony of ancient meaning and deep significance. And the President entered into the spirit of this and acted as though he were receiving a degree from a university. He was addressed by Chief Yellow Robe and Chief Standing Bear, the first in English and the second in Sioux language. He was told that his acceptance of the war bonnet was the greatest honor that had come to the Sioux tribe.

Then the lovely Rosebud Yellow Robe, who might be Pocahontas come to life, or the princess of an Indian legend, stepped forward with the double-trailed bonnet for the President. It trailed at her dainty feet as she held it aloft and moved toward the President, placing it on his head. He gave his straw hat to his aide and blinked in the sunlight, as he faced the solemn row of Indians and the cameramen. His face was pale against the feathers and in contrast with the bronzed, painted features of the Indians.

MRS. COOLIDGE GETS GIFT

Mrs. Coolidge stood by his side, somewhat unnoticed by the Indians, who do not have women in their war councils. But she was placated by a gift of bead work and walked beside the buckskin-clad figure of Rosebud. Trailing his plumed, gay bonnet, the President went back to his seat and invited the other chiefs to sit with him. He then lit a long cigar and contemplated the hills of his new brethren, the Indians.

The war bonnet given the President is one of the finest ever made. Its value, if it ever could be sold, would be at least $2500. It was made by White Thunder and Pretty Bowl

Suicide Warns Against Pastors

LANSING (Mich.) Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Leaving a note to her husband in which she begged his forgiveness for wrecking their home and warning him to "beware of all ministers of the gospel," Mrs. Peggy Stowe of Findlay, O., died late today of self-inflicted wounds.

The death climaxes an asserted romance between Mrs. Stowe and Rev. Austin M. Christ of Lima, O. They were recently released on bonds from a Findlay police court, where they faced a statutory charge preferred by her husband, Dewey, to whom the note was addressed.

Mr. Christ, according to the husband, was a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. Etta Powell of Findlay, where Mrs. Stowe was living at the time. Mrs. Stowe later confessed the indiscretions.

NEW NEVADA DIVORCE ACT HELD VALID

Supreme Court Sustains Three-Months Act Passed by State Legislature

RENO (Nev.) Aug. 4. (AP)—The constitutionality of Nevada's three-months' divorce law, enacted at the last session of the State Legislature and in effect since March of this year, was upheld in a decision by the State Supreme Court today. Justice Sanders wrote the opinion which was concurred in by Justice Coleman with Justice Ducker filing a separate opinion.

The law was taken to the Supreme Court last month when one district judge expressed a doubt as to its validity. A test case was taken to the district court, an appeal made, and the matter argued before the Supreme Court two weeks ago.

Nevada's former divorce law required a residence in the State of six months, an amendment being made to the law by the Legislature, which gave three months as the residence requirements.

Alimony Club Has Grievances

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Alimony Club of Illinois with a constitution and by-laws—and many grievances—today was ready to begin in earnest its fight against "gold digging and profiteering" in the divorce courts.

The seven by-laws embrace the club's stand against gold digging, urge less litigation, and express the desires to discourage scandalous testimony, to promote reconciliations where possible, and to care for children.

RELATIVE OF FORMER PRESIDENT EXPIRES

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Aug. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] All the newspaper men that were in the room when Mr. Coolidge handed them out his statement have written about his being very serious and very pale. When a New England Yankee gives up $75,000 a year the surprise is not he was pale but that he didn't faint.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Alien Property Bill Forecast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Passage by the next Congress of an alien property bill providing for the return of approximately $265,000,000 in stocks, patents, real estate and other holdings seized from enemy aliens when the United States entered the World War is deemed likely by Howard Sutherland, alien property custodian.

The sale or return of most of the property to its owners would be completed within a year after the bill's passage, he says, while the affairs of his department would be wound up within a few years. The government probably would have some of the property on its hands between five and ten years, he adds, as some delay would result incident to obtaining permission of the original holders to sell.

More than 90 per cent of the property was seized from German citizens.

Acting Secretary Mills of the Treasury expressed the view recently that the bill should take precedence even over tax legislation, and predicted its early passage.

Denial on Offer of Mexico Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Reports that Thomas E. Campbell, former Governor of Arizona, had been offered the post of Ambassador to Mexico are denied at the office here of Mr. Campbell.

State Department officials also declare that Campbell had not been offered the diplomatic post at Mexico City. They say that his name has been recommended repeatedly for diplomatic appointment, although the former Governor himself never has sought office.

Munitions Found on Mexico Train

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4. (Exclusive) Shipment of contraband munitions of war from the United States into Mexico was disclosed today by an official announcement made by the War and Navy Department. A train which was thought to contain only general merchandise arrived here last week, and on examination the cars were found to be loaded with aviation machine guns, machinery for the manufacture and repair of arms and ammunition, radio equipment and other military paraphernalia.

Pair Victims of Three-Day Law

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Lorain Francis Johnson and Miss Zella Hester, both of this city, apparently are the first victims here of California's new three-day marriage law. They obtained a license last Monday.

The application, conforming with the new regulations, was published. When it appeared a woman who said she is Johnson's mother telephoned the license bureau from Sebastopol, declared her son is only 20 years of age, and asked to have the license rejected. Johnson failed to call for it.

HOT SPELL BREAKS RECORD IN OREGON

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Oregon's hot spell broke records for duration today, and the Weather Bureau had no promise of relief except that temperatures will be somewhat lower tomorrow. The hot weather with low humidity has prevailed here for fourteen days. Today's maximum was expected to be about 91 deg.

GIRL KILLED ACTING WILD WEST GAME

"Empty" Pistol Goes Off With Fatal Results as Children Scuffle

BURLINGAME, Aug. 4. (Exclusive) Little Sally Smith, 7 years of age, added a touch of realism to a game of Wild West she was playing with her two chums here this afternoon by getting a revolver out of her home while her mother was absent. The revolver, "empty," as usual, went off during a scuffle and Sally is dead tonight.

Charles Dickey, 12, a Boy Scout, was telling a story of the "good old Injun" days to Sally and his brother, Duvall, 11.

When he finished, Sally thought they ought to act it out and went for the revolver she knew was in the house. Charles, remembering his Boy Scout training, "broke" the weapon and cartridges spilled on the floor.

"Can't be too careful," said he, "something might happen."

With the weapon "empty," the game started. Sally played with the gun, then Duvall tried it. Charles thought Duvall was too promiscuous with the weapon and tried to take it away from him. In the scuffle the weapon suddenly was discharged. Sally shrieked and fell dying at their feet.

Her father is en route to Washington on a business trip.

Oil Worker Dies as Oxygen Fails

BORGER (Tex.) Aug. 4. (AP)—A race with death was lost last night when Russell Neill, Fullerton (Cal.) oil field worker, died here.

Neill was scalded July 15 when another oil-field worker accidentally turned on the steam in the boiler in which Neill was working. In an intermittent coma and unable to take nourishment Neill was kept alive by stimulants and by relays of neighbors who pumped oxygen into his lungs. Yesterday the oxygen gave out, and the nearest supply, in Kansas City, arrived after Neill had expired.

Mrs. Neill, who started to fly from California to the bedside of her husband, became ill and came on a train.

The body will be sent to Fullerton for burial.

INYO BANKS SHUT DOORS

Five Close in Owens Valley

Shut-down Causes Surprise; District Left Without Banking Facilities

Water Policy Blamed But Last Statement Shows Gain in Resources

BISHOP, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—All five banks of the Owens Valley closed their doors today, leaving Bishop, Big Pine, Independence and Lone Pine without banking facilities.

The closing came at midday, after a meeting of directors of two institutions which are practically identical in ownership. The closed banks are the First National Bank of Bishop and the Inyo County Bank, with main office at Bishop and branches in the other three principal valley towns.

Coincident with the closing came the discovery that Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, had arrived in town and taken personal charge of the situation so far as the Inyo County Bank is concerned. A State bank examiner, it also was learned, has been in town several days.

M. Q. Watterson declared tonight that he could not say as to protection which will be afforded small depositors, who held accounts with the banks. Neither would he make any statement as to the probability of recovering outstanding revenue, such as loans, etc., sufficient to protect the institutions and reopen the doors.

"I would prefer not to make a formal statement at this time," Mr. Watterson said. "The bank examiners have complete charge of the situation now and any statement would necessarily have to come from them."

Posted on the doors of each of the closed institutions was this notice:

NOTICES BLAME CITY

"We find it necessary to close all of our banks in Owens Valley. This result has been brought about by the last four years of destructive work carried on by the city of Los Angeles."

These notices were taken down promptly by the State bank examiners and formal notices in regular form were posted in their place.

Closing came as a complete surprise to most of the Owens Valley residents, few of whom had heard even any rumors that the banks were in trouble. The branch at Independence accepted approximately $2000 in deposits from the Los Angeles Water Department this morning, it was learned.

The Inyo County Bank was organized in 1902 and was the older of the two institutions. Its last available published statement, that of December 31, 1926, shows capital of $125,000, surplus and undivided profits of $90,000 and deposits of $1,700,000; loans and discounts, $1,600,000, bonds and securities, $60,000, cash and exchanges, $175,000, and other securities, $80,000. W. W. Watterson is president, Eliza Watterson, vice-president, and M. Q. Watterson, brother of the president, cashier.

FIRST NATIONAL FIGURES

The First National Bank of Bishop was incorporated in 1917. Its last available statement, also of December 31, 1926, gave the following figures: Capital, $50,000; surplus, $20,000; undivided profits, $5000; individual deposits, $680,000; bank deposits, $116,000; other liabilities, $45,000; loans and discounts, $568,000; bonds and securities, $105,000; cash and exchange, $233,000, and other resources, $10,000. M. Q. Watterson is president, W. W. Watterson, vice-president, and William J. George, cashier.

Both banks are members of the American Bankers' Association and the California Bankers' Association, and the First National is a member of the Federal reserve system. The Inyo County Bank maintained both commercial and savings departments. The annual report of the State Banking Department last issued showed deposits of $962,055 subject to check, $87,697 of time deposits and $50,000 of State, county and municipal funds in the commercial department, with $477,916 of savings deposits, as of June 30, 1926. These figures indicate an increase of deposits between June and December of approximatly $200,000. The loans and discounts of June 30 were $1,519,168, so that there appears to have been an increase of some $400,000 in this figure in the same space of time.

The closing of both institutions appears to have been voluntary.

Besides his banking connections, W. W. Watterson is president of the Natural Soda Products Company, with authorized capital of $1,000,000, president of the Tungsten Products Company, a director of Watterson Brothers, Inc., a company operating general stores, and a director of Coso Hot Springs, Inc., which produces mineral waters. M. Q. Watterson is treasurer of the Natural Soda Products Company and is connected also with the other three corporations.

WATER DEPARTMENT DENIES RESPONSIBILITY

Denial that the city or the water department could be properly charged with any responsibility for the failure of the Owens Valley banks was made in a statement last night by Commissioner John R. Richards. L. M. Anderson, controller of the department, declared that the Water Bureau has deposits of approximately $40,000 in the Owens Valley banks, the largest amount ever kept there. These deposits, it was said, were payments made by leaseholders of city-owned

NAVY LIMITATION PARLEY ENDS WITHOUT RESULT

Three Powers Express Hope for Future Pact and Adjourn; Amity Marks Speeches

GENEVA, Aug. 4. (AP)—The tripartite naval conference, at which agreement on limitation of auxiliary warships was hoped for, officially ended today. Before adjourning the delegates adopted a joint declaration expressing conviction that the obstacles encountered here should not put an end to the effort to further naval limitation.

The delegates also agreed, the declaration says, to recommend to their governments the desirability of advancing the second Washington conference to an earlier date than August, 1931, so that any decision reached at that meeting could go into force before November of that year, when the capital-ship construction program begins.

The program of bringing the conference to a close was carried through as agreed upon by the plenipotentiaries last night. The head of each delegation delivered a speech, after which the joint declaration, prepared in advance, was adopted. Then the conference adjourned sine die, and tonight the delegates have begun to scatter homeward.

GIBSON'S SPEECH

War between Great Britain, the United States and Japan is unthinkable, declared Hugh S. Gibson, America's chief representative, and hence there is no reason why an agreement which has not been obtained at Geneva, should not be reached shortly as the result of direct negotiations between the governments for a reconciliation of the divergent views.

The burial ceremony of the conference, held in the presence of a large assembly, was carried out without the employment of words of recrimination and, as W. C. Bridgeman, head of the British delegation, said.

"We are not dispersing in a spirit of bitterness or despair."

When the conference adjourned Mr. Bridgeman walked up the stairs of the Hotel Des Bergues to the private office of Mr. Gibson and shook his American colleague warmly by the hand. This was hailed as an indication that the First Lord of the British Admiralty believed the differences between the United States and Great Britain, manifested at the conference, were nothing more serious than a slight family tiff.

JAPAN OPTIMISTIC

Admiral Saito, distinguished member of the Japanese delegation, joining in the thought of Mr. Gibson and Mr. Bridgeman, declared in a valedictory address that he, for one, declined to view the results of the conference as a rupture of negotiations. He was convinced, he affirmed vigorously, that, in some form or another, attempts to limit extravagance and competition in naval building, already limited in practice by common sense, will continue and eventually succeed.

The joint declaration, adoption of which involved automatic adjournment of the conference, represents an effort to summarize the viewpoints of the three delegations on the matters on which they agreed and on those on which they disagreed. The declaration shows that the conference was wrecked on two points—first, that of total tonnage limitation for cruisers, on which the British and the Americans were unable to attain an accord; second, on the problem of so-called eight-inch gun cruisers.

The declaration emphasizes that the British, while proposing a limitation of the size of warships of all classes, opposed the principle of limitation by total tonnage alone. This opposition was based on the ground that the largest ship and the heaviest gun permissible must inevitably become the standard.

THE BRITISH DEMANDS

The declaration shows that the British desired, first a strict limitation of the number of 10,000-ton, eight-inch gun cruisers, and, secondly, the establishment of a secondary type of cruiser of a minimum displacement of 6000 tons, carrying guns of a maximum caliber of six inches. Furthermore, it shows that the American delegation insisted on liberty of action to build, within the total tonnage allocation, the number and type of cruisers which might best be suited to America's national needs.

It is suggested in the declaration that the second Washington conference, to be held in August, 1931, to determine whether scientific developments justify modifications in the characteristics of warships, be advanced to an earlier date. This suggestion is made with the idea that any conclusions reached at the Washington conference might go into effect before the capital ship construction programs commence in November of that year. The declaration then registers the conviction that the obstacles encountered at Geneva should not be interpreted as terminating the effort to secure further limitation of naval armament.

Then, incorporating the hopes previously expressed by Mr. Gibson, Mr. Bridgeman and Admiral Saito, the declaration insists that the extent of the agreement reached and the work achieved in the clarification of the respective positions will make it possible for the governments later to

SLIDES BURY LARGE AREA IN WYOMING

Mountain Quivers While Earth and Rock Rush to Cover Huge Forests

PINEDALE (Wyo.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Forest Service officials today were in the Fremont Lake region investigating a report that landslides on a steep mountain at the head of the lake are covering up acres of forest.

George Reddick, who has a summer home at the foot of the mountain, which is near the continental divide, and rises to a height of 12,000 feet, said the slides were shaking buildings three miles distant like an earthquake. The mountain appeared to be splitting in two from the force of internal pressure, he said.

Government in Control of Deer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The government views the question of right to control and dispose of deer within the limits of the Grand Canyon national game preserve in Arizona as settled in its favor and believes the matter closed.

The Department of Justice today announced its determination to accept as final the decision of the Arizona Federal court granting an injunction against enforcement of State game laws against Federal employees carrying out orders of the Department of Agriculture to reduce herds. The Department of Justice announced it regarded as immaterial to successful operation of the Federal law the provision of the court that the decree should not be construed to permit licensing of hunters to kill deer.

German Flyers Continue Aloft

DESSAU (Germany) Aug. 4. (AP)—Cornelius Edzard and Johann Ristics, in their Junkers plane, still are aloft late today striving to surpass the duration flight record of more than fifty-one hours held by Clarence Chamberlin and Bert Acosta. They have completed the thirty-fourth hour of their flight, in which they already have broken the German record.

They estimated that they had flown 4250 kilometers (2656 miles.) The last message dropped from the plane reads "everything O. K. but damned monotonous."

ROYAL GORGE SLIDE TIES UP FOUR TRAINS

DENVER, Aug. 4. (AP)—Interrupted several hours by a thirty-minute rock slide in the Royal Gorge of the Arkansas River, traffic over the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad was resumed today. The slide, caused by rain, tied up four trains and threw the locomotive of the line's crack scenic train from the track. The crew of the locomotive escaped injury by jumping and no passengers were injured.

reconcile their divergent views and attain an agreement at an early date for the limitation of auxiliary naval vessels. This, it says, will not only permit of economy but promote a feeling of mutual confidence and good understanding while simultaneously safeguarding national security.

AT JAPAN'S REQUEST

The expressions of good will which characterized the final proceedings were partly the result of earnest Japanese counsel for moderation in the closing address. They were also partly the result of the appeal voiced at last night's meeting of the plenipotentiaries that nothing be allowed to creep into the final meeting, which would endanger in any way the relations of friendship and render only more difficult the success of future pourparlers.

In his final address to the conference, restating the American position, Ambassador Gibson pointed out that the invitation to the conference by President Coolidge left no room for doubt as to the nature of the proposals the American delegation would make. Those proposals, he said, had conformed strictly to the spirit of the invitation and he recalled that Japan had indicated willingness to negotiate on the basis of minimum figures suggested by the American delegation.

"From the first, however, we encountered a serious difficulty in the claim of the British government that it needed a considerably larger number of cruisers than it now possesses," Mr. Gibson said.

He added that while the British claim had been defended on the ground of absolute naval needs of the Empire, the American delegation never had been able to reconcile "the conception of absolute naval needs with the negotiations of a treaty to fix limitations on the basis of mutual concession."

"Further," he said, "we have not yet been able to understand why, in a time of profound peace and at the moment that we are seeking to reduce the burdens of naval expenditures, the British government considers a considerable program of naval expansion as an absolute and even a vital necessity."

Calling attention to the British suggestion for strict limitation of the larger type of cruiser armed with eight-inch guns and for limiting all smaller craft to six-inch guns, Mr. Gibson said the smaller ships would be of relatively small use to the United States for lack of cruising radius and protection.

THE DIRECT RESULT

"The immediate and obvious result of acquiescing in these British proposals," he maintained, "would have been that the British Empire would have been able to build exactly what it desired and that we, on the other hand, would be restrained from building what we considered we might need, and yet the tonnage levels insisted on by the British Empire would result in a substantial increase even over present strength."

Ambassador Gibson also took exception to the effort of the British delegation to classify 10,000-ton ships armed with eight-inch guns as "offensive vessels," while the 6000-ton cruisers with six-inch guns were termed "defensive cruisers." The Washington treaty, which established the 10,000-ton cruiser and the eight-inch gun, recognized no such distinction, he said, nor did the United States commence construction of ships of that size. Mr. Gibson emphasized in the statement that the British Empire has already five 10,000-ton ships practically completed, six more under construction and four ships of 9750 tons already in commission, while the United States has two 10,000-tonners about 15 per cent complete and six others contracted for. He pointed out also that the act authorizing these American cruisers also authorized the President to suspend all or any part of the construction in the event of an international limitation agreement which, in his judgment, justified that action.

BLOCKS ALL EFFORTS

"We cannot follow the reasoning which attributes to six-inch-gun cruisers a purely defensive role," Ambassador Gibson said.

"When we come down to essentials the claim on the part of any nation for the right to maintain in time of peace a cruiser strength sufficient to afford complete security to its commerce in case of war renders impossible any effective naval limitations by international agreement."

The Ambassador recalled that the British delegates to the Washington conference had looked upon a total tonnage of 450,000 for surface auxiliary craft "as an acceptable and reasonable figure," while at Geneva a British program had been presented calling for 647,000 tons in such ships.

"What has brought about this change on the part of the British government?" Mr. Gibson asked. "What new factor in world affairs has appeared upon the horizon which has caused them apprehension?

"One of the mightiest fleets on the high seas, that of Germany, has disappeared. So far as we know, no other great maritime nation has embarked on a program which could conceivably be considered a menace to the British Empire. Other than the powers here represented there are in the entire world but five navies possessing modern cruisers of effective combat value; the strongest of these has approximately 72,000 tons and the total effective tonnage of all five combined is now less than 200,000 tons."

FLAYS ECONOMY CLAIM

Gibson said the American delegation could not admit the justice of the British claim that the British proposal made for economy, while the American made for large naval outlays. He insisted that the American program obviously would permit drastic naval economies while the British proposals would largely increase such expenditures and "impose, we believe, an unnecessary burden."

Reverting to the British resistance of the American proposals that each country, within a total cruiser tonnage limitation and under restrictions as to size and armament imposed by the Washington treaty, be permitted to build types of ships it thought best, Mr. Gibson said:

"I cannot but feel that the British government has an unnecessary apprehension as to the use which might be made by the United States of reasonable freedom of action in the cruiser class within strict tonnage limitations."

Mr. Gibson pointed out that the Washington government had not indicated "misgivings or concern because the British Empire has built up a cruiser force entirely disproportionate to our own."

ON WAR PHASE

Referring to the recent statement of the British Foreign Secretary that war between Great Britain and the United States was already outlawed "in the hearts of both nations," he added:

"We find it difficult, however, to reconcile the British conviction that war is already outlawed between us with their present unwillingness to recognize our right to build a limited number of the type of ships we would desire or with their willingness to risk the success of this conference because they fear the problematical possession by us during the life of this treaty of a small number of eight-inch gun cruisers and this in spite of the fact that any apprehension which might be occasioned by such problematical construction is amply covered by the political clause (proposed by the United States) which offers a release from the obligation of the treaty."

In closing his remarks Mr. Gibson insisted that adjournment of the conference should not be regarded as "indicating a permanent inability" to agree upon further naval limitations. He expressed the hope that a thorough study by each nation of the whole problem would lead at some future date to a satisfactory formula for limiting auxiliary craft.

The chief British delegate, W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, in his speech, repeated the argument that Great Britain needed cruisers to assure the food supply of the island kingdom. He recalled the wartime food stringency and said that no doubt it was quite hard for other nations, more fortunately situated, to comprehend Great Britain's special problems.

The discussions of the conference, he continued, had not been useless. The explorations made were advantageous in preparing for further advances in the direction of limitation.

BASED ON SECURITY

Mere fixation of total tonnage, as desired by the United States, he asserted, would not remove the danger of a naval building competition and would, in fact, increase it, for if one power used its total tonnage for the construction of the largest type vessels, the other powers would follow its example.

Mr. Bridgeman insisted that the British plans were based solely upon security for Great Britain. "We have banished aggression from our minds," he declared.

Referring to the American delegation's objection to the six-inch gun cruiser, he added:

"While we are unable fully to understand the American objection, I can assure them that our attitude is not due to fear of any unfriendly action on their part."

The British leader declared that if an agreement was impossible, it was not an indication of a spirit of antagonism, between the three powers, and did not mean that they intended to enter upon competition in new construction. He said that no formula could succeed in insuring peace if the spirit of peace was not present, and that he was convinced that all present would adhere steadfastly to "detestation of aggression."

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Living conditions in America are such that the average American has reached the point where he lives in a garage with a bedroom attached, the Retail Furniture Association of California was told here today. The speaker was A. B. C. Dohrmann, dean of Pacific Coast merchants. He declared that happiness will cease soon unless a change is made.

"All classes are coming back to a sense of responsibility for restoration of the old home life that we remember," he said.

COOLIDGE KEEPS SILENT WHEN TOLD OF PARLEY'S END

DEADWOOD (S. D.) Aug. 4. (AP)—News of the adjournment of the Geneva naval-armament conference without an agreement was flashed to President Coolidge upon his way here to attend the frontier days' celebration, but he received the word in silence and there was no indication that this would be broken today.

Mr. Coolidge placed much hope in the conference and if he has any other plans for a new parley seeking to reach a further limitation upon naval armaments he did not indicate it.

News of the collapse of the conference had been anticipated at the summer White House after it became evident that England would not accede to the program insisted upon by Mr. Coolidge. He held the view that Great Britain's demands would force construction of a larger navy than this nation cared to undertake.

FIVE BANKS IN VALLEY CLOSE

farming land. He denied there had been any heavy withdrawals lately.

While these announcements were being made it became known that Assistant Chief Engineer Van Norman, Deputy City Attorney Hill and Commissioner Richards were subpoenaed during the day to appear before the Inyo county grand jury next Tuesday. A subpoena also was issued for W. B. Mathews, chief counsel of the department, but he is on his way to Phoenix to attend the Colorado River conference and it could not be served.

Dist.-Atty. Hession of Inyo county announced some time ago that he intended to summon Van Norman, Mathews and Hill to explain to the grand jury what they have learned about the various dynamitings of the Los Angeles Aqueduct. The issuing of a subpoena for Commissioner Richards was a surprise. The Inyo grand jury adjourned July 23 after calling a number of witnesses in its investigation of the dynamite outrages. It reported no indictments.

At the Water Bureau last night, the only comment on these subpoenas was that none of the officials named had been in Inyo county at the time of any of the dynamitings and that it seemed strange that comparatively uninformed outsiders should be called in such an investigation.

The statement of Commissioner Richards regarding the bank closing was as follows:

"As a member of the Commission of Water and Power, which has long been in contact with the Owens Valley situation, it is with great regret that I learn of the failure of the Inyo county banks, operated by the Watterson group.

CITY USED BANKS

"The city of Los Angeles has sent a great deal of money into the valley and it has all cleared through these banks. Proper banking methods in the past should have enabled them to keep in a sound financial condition. Of course all of us in the department regret the loss that is to come to the people of the valley who have trusted these institutions. The causes of failure appear to us to be internal, certainly the city can in no way be charged with responsibility."

The closing of the Inyo banks came as a surprise also to the Los Angeles office of the State Banking Department. It was said there that so far as the office knew the closing was entirely voluntary. Examiners of the department were on their way to Bishop, it was said, and were due to reach there late last night.

"We will know nothing further until our examiners have made their report," it was said.

The report of the bank as of June 30, last, was not available here.

The Water Department has about 200 guards at various points on the Aqueduct, to prevent if possible further dynamitings. These are concentrated on the siphons and the spillways, the most vulnerable points of the water system, with a few guards where the Aqueduct is an open ditch. The siphons and spillways are all illuminated also with powerful lights, installed since the first dynamiting in 1927, which destroyed the siphon in No Name Canyon.

At the publicity office of the Water Bureau it was said there has been no recent increase in the number of Aqueduct guards, as far as was known there.

KELLOGG SEES HOPE FOR PACT

Thinks Geneva Conference Has Pointed Way

Navy Plans Action in Line With Parley Failure

Building Program Will Go to Next Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Intimations that the Washington government will continue informally efforts toward an early agreement for further naval limitations met today the official notification from Geneva that the British-American-Japanese naval conference had foundered on the rocks of British and American disagreement over the cruiser problem.

"I am certain that the failure at this time to enter into an agreement will not impair the cordial relations existing between the British government and the United States," Secretary Kellogg said in a formal statement expressing regret that the Geneva meetings had been fruitless so far as a limitation treaty was concerned.

"I do not consider the failure to make an agreement now as final; and I am confident that the work done at Geneva will make it possible after consultations between the governments to find a basis for reconciling the divergent views and lead to the early conclusion of an agreement for the limitation of auxiliary naval vessels."

BREAK ON CRUISERS

The Secretary, whose view was similar to that expressed in a joint statement agreed upon by the three delegations at Geneva, emphasized the fact that the conferees found little difficulty in harmonizing viewpoints as to destroyers and submarines and that "it was only when the conference took up the question of the limitation of the cruiser class that difficulties were encountered."

Meanwhile, as soon as word of the collapse of the conference was received at the Navy Department, preparations were made for a series of conferences to draft naval recommendations for Congress.

While Secretary Wilbur declined to discuss the break-up until after he had conferred with Mr. Kellogg, it was said he would leave tomorrow for the Pacific Coast with a stopover at Rapid City, S. D., where he is expected to discuss the naval situation with President Coolidge.

Inability of the conferees at Geneva to reach an agreement leaves the Washington government in exactly the same position as when the gathering was called by President Coolidge.

The expected visit of Mr. Wilbur to the summer White House in South Dakota will be watched here with interest as the administration now is faced with the task of drafting and putting through Congress a naval building program based on the needs of national security.

While it is regarded here as almost a certainty that the administration will not sanction a building program designed to exceed or even equal the announced British intentions, it is felt that the collapse of the conference will increase "big navy" strength in the forthcoming Congress.

Secretary Kellogg in his statement today said that the administration had sought at the Geneva parley to extend the principles of the Washington arms treaty to other naval auxiliary craft.

"This was found impossible," he said, "without greatly enhancing a cruiser building program, which we thought neither necessary nor wise.

"I do not think the United States can afford to give its moral approval to such an expansion with all it implies. We proposed as a maximum 300,000 tons of cruisers and were not prepared to increase this by 126,000 tons and probably more in order to make a treaty.

"Pursuant to the Washington treaty, the United States made drastic cuts in its capital ship program and scrapped the largest capital ship navy in the world. It made greater sacrifices than any other country; in fact, it scrapped 780,000 tons of capital ships.

"It had every reason to believe that the British government was prepared to carry out a real reduction and our delegates labored earnestly and conscientiously along these lines. Japan was anxious to go even lower than the maximum set by the United States.

"I do not believe, however, that the general discussions which have taken place at Geneva will be fruitless."

BRITISH FOREIGN OFFICE DISCONSOLATE AT FAILURE

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—So far as Great Britain is concerned the naval position is exactly the same as before the Geneva conference was called. This statement was made this afternoon by a spokesman for the Foreign Office, who declared the British are bitterly disappointed over the breakdown at Geneva.

"Our proposals at Geneva were based on our needs and our needs have not changed in the slightest," he said. "We will continue with the program mapped out before Geneva was thought of but we will not accelerate it one iota. It is based entirely on the needs of empire communications and safety, without a thought of the American fleet, and it will continue so based.

"It is a tragedy of futility, however, that the conference should be allowed to break up as it has when an agreement was reached on submarines, destroyers and destroyer leaders, with a substantial agreement on 10,000-ton cruisers and prolonging the life of capital ships simply because an agreement could not be reached on one class of small cruisers. All that is now lost."

PREMIER OF JAPAN REGRETS PARLEY FAILURE

TOKIO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—"While the breakdown of the naval conference will be much regretted as a blow to the peace of the world, Japan cannot do more than it has done," Premier Tanaka told the correspondent.

"In my capacity as Foreign Minister I have notified the delegates to attempt no second plan or compromise, although I recognize and appreciate the efforts of Admiral Saito to snatch success from failure," he continued.

PRESTON BOY ESCAPES

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4. (AP)—O. H. Close, superintendent of the Preston School of Industry at Ione, today notified the Sheriff's office here that Ricter Dotten, an inmate, escaped Tuesday night. The escaped youth was traced as far as Twin Cities, Sacramento county.

FREIGHT DROPS FROM PLANE

Six Typewriters Lowered with Parachutes from Ford All-Metal Ship

CURTISS FIELD (L. I.) Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Six typewriters, attached to parachutes, were dropped at Curtiss Field today from a Ford all-metal airplane to test the practicability of using such planes for freight service.

Three of the typewriters were dropped each time and appeared to land lightly on the field. Officials expressed their satisfaction with the test and hope it will lead to a regular "air-truck" service between New York and Detroit. The plane is to go to Hartford, Ct., to receive its first load of typewriters.

prophesying about what Mr. Coolidge might do.

It is admitted, however, that he is the titular head of the party and in a position to go a long way in dictating the Republican party nominee at the convention next June if he would. But there is every indication that he has said his say and is prepared to let the people have theirs.

LOWDEN CONFERS WITH FRIENDS IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Frank O. Lowden, former Governor of Illinois, and frequently mentioned as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, conferred here today with friends advancing his interests, but no information as to his intentions was obtainable.

Those attending the conference would not commit themselves on the day's discussion. Conspicuous among the conferees was a delegation from Iowa, headed by Maj. Frank L. Lund of Des Moines, and Clarence F. Buck, Illinois State Senator. Mr. Lowden would not add to previous declarations that "no man has yet run away from the Presidency."

Today's conference, however, was considered to have an important bearing on the former Illinois executive's actions. He hurried here from his summer home near Alexandria Bay, N. Y., especially for the meeting. He said he expected to return to Alexandria Bay tomorrow.

Although it was said Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican national committee, had been called here for the conference, Mr. Hays could not be found.

A long friendship between Mr. Lowden and Vice-President Dawes will prevent the latter from entering the race for the Republican nomination so long as the former is a possibility, says the Daily News today.

"Should the nomination come to either it would be accepted," continued the paper.

The story points out that Dawes and Lowden have been personal, business and political friends for many years, and that their views on farm relief are identical.

Without Lowden's knowledge a non-partisan Lowden League opened headquarters here today with E. F. Garrity, who organized the Coolidge-Dawes Non-Partisan League in 1924, in charge.

It is understood Mr. Lowden's friends urged him to announce his candidacy, inasmuch as the declaration of Mr. Coolidge that he does not "choose" to enter the race, puts a different aspect on the Republican situation.

SENATOR BINGHAM STATES THAT NATION WANTS COOLIDGE

of the Pine Ridge Reservations, and has a double trail or plume of black tipped eagle feathers nearly six feet long. It took three years to select and assemble these feathers. The double-trailed bonnet is a distinction given to few of the Sioux chiefs. It has only been worn by Red Cloud, Sitting Bull, Spotted Tail and Chief Gall. There are 180 feathers in the bonnet. Sinew and buckskin hold it together, instead of thread.

The President's party arrived at Deadwood at 1:30 o'clock and found thousands at the station and along the narrow, colorful streets.

HAS PICTURE TAKEN

"He's our Cal, hooray," yelled the cowboys as the President stepped down to have his picture taken with the Indians.

"How, how!" cried the old braves as they rode past the President, saluting with upraised arm. The women looked at him and said nothing.

The historical pageant that filed past brought back the gold rush days with faithful reproduction. There were few false whiskers. Idaho Bill, Wild Bill Hickok, Deadwood Dick, Calamity Jane, Preacher Smith, Buffalo Bill, Deadwood Charlie, the man who was hanged at Yankton for killing Wild Bill, and other lesser characters of the days when this gulch had to make its own law, came back to life. Prospectors, ox-team travelers, "bound for Deadwood or bust," the sun-bonnet girls, cowgirls, cowboys, soldiers of the early cavalry, the famous Fourth Cavalry from Fort Mead, formed part of the parade.

The President looked happy and seemed to smile more than usual. Races and drills preceded the ceremony of adoption. He left soon after for the long ride back to the lodge. He made no comment today on the ending of the Geneva conference or other public questions, and as to the political situation he had the attitude of one who has settled that, for himself, at least, and is satisfied.

DENTISTS APPEAL IN LICENSE REVOCATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Four Los Angeles men today petitioned the State Supreme Court to overrule decisions by the State Dental Board, revoking their licenses. The men are Karl W. Messner, D. A. Humphrey, Roy C. Leach and C. E. Meager. Action was taken by the dental board against the dentists, when it was asserted that they were working for W. W. Kohn, an unlicensed dentist, in violation of the State law.

SACCO BATTLE WILL CONTINUE

New Counsel Retained for Condemned Pair

Unions Urge General Strike as Decision Protest

Twenty Wounded in Berlin Radical Demonstration

BOSTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Although Gov. Fuller has refused to extend executive clemency to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, principals in a famous murder trial, the long battle to save the lives of the two men has not ended.

Today while the minutes of the last week of life for the condemned men ticked away, it became known that the attorneys who had fought their case before the State Supreme Court and the Governor had retired, and that new counsel had been retained to take any further legal steps possible to avoid the electric chair.

HILL NEW ATTORNEY

Arthur D. Hill, Boston lawyer, who formerly was associated with Fred Moore of California in the Sacco-Vanzetti defense, was selected as the new attorney. He refused to discuss reports that the United States District Court or the United States Supreme Court would be approached in an effort to stay the hand of the executioner.

"I have been consulted with a view to seeing what steps of a legal nature, if any, can be taken in the circumstances," he said. "It is not possible at this time to make any further statement."

The retirement of William G. Thompson and Herbert Ehrmann, who have had charge of the defense in the proceedings before the Supreme Court looking to a new trial for Sacco and Vanzetti, was based on the ground that new counsel would be "untrammeled by the committments of the past and less disturbed than we by a sense of injustice."

FULLER CRITISED

In a lengthy statement issued late today the retiring counsel critised the secrecy with which Gov. Fuller conducted his personal investigation of the Sacco-Vanzetti case and referred to the fact that the decision of the advisory committee named by the Governor to conduct an independent investigation had not been made public.

While their friends were studying new means of averting their death sentence, now set for the 10th inst., Sacco and Vanzetti in the death house at the Charlestown State prison heard with little show of emotion the news that the Governor had refused to intervene in their behalf.

Sacco professed to have expected an adverse verdict, but Vanzetti, more optimistic, indicated surprise.

Attorney Thompson went to the prison to break the news to the condemned men. With him went Mrs. Rose Sacco, wife of one of the prisoners, and Aldino Felicani of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee.

From the death house of the State prison Sacco and Vanzetti wrote brief, fiery letters to "friends all over the world," denouncing Gov. Fuller, prosecuting officials and "State perjurers," as "murderers." Vanzetti's letter ends with "We die for anarchy. Long life to anarchy!"

UNIONS PROPOSE STRIKE OF PROTEST

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Protests and demonstrations against the decision of Gov. Fuller, dooming Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti to death for the murder of a Massachusetts paymaster, were reported from many sections of the country and from many European nations today.

In New York mass meetings were arranged for, in Brooklyn and in Union Square, at which a general strike of union labor was to be demanded.

In Washington guards were placed at the State Department and in other Federal buildings, while American embassies throughout the world were notified that a final decision had been made and that they were to take all necessary precautions against possible outbreaks by radicals.

Agitation was reported in South American countries. In Uruguay labor leaders planned for strikes.

A resolution asking William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to call a general strike as a protest against the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti was passed unanimously by 3000 Brooklyn barbers.

The men were on a one-day strike to indicate their support of the two radicals. They passed their resolution at a meeting at Brooklyn labor lyceum. The acclamation vote was accompanied by shouts of approval and boos and hisses for Gov. Fuller.

When the vote had been taken the assemblage sang the "Marseillaise."

CIGAR MAKERS HOLD DEMONSTRATION

TAMPA (Fla.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Approximately 1000 cigar makers employed at the factory of Jose Escalante & Co. here walked out this afternoon. Labor officials stated the demonstration was in protest against the failure of Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts to extend clemency to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

TWENTY WOUNDED IN BERLIN DEMONSTRATION

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Twenty were wounded and scores of Communists were arrested this evening when 100,000 Communists streamed to the center of town before the former Kaiser's palace to demonstrate against war, but above all to protest against Gov. Fuller's order to execute Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti.

This was the biggest demonstration Berlin has witnessed for a year. The Communists paraded with floats with electric chairs and young Communists personifying Sacco and Vanzetti, with priests at their side motioning them to the electrical chair.

Police officers held up their floats and ordered the Communists to give up their religious vestments. The latter refused and a fight ensued in which many were clubbed down and arrested. The floats were taken to the police headquarters.

The Communists adopted a resolution "against American murder justice," ordering all factories to order deputations to call on the American Ambassador and protest "for the life of two honest Italians unjustly condemned."

WIDOW OF VICTIM DENIES SENDING WIRE

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Mrs. Sarah Berardelli, widow of the man for whose death Sacco and Vanzetti have been condemned to die, today branded as spurious a telegram sent to Gov. Fuller over her name last week, urging clemency.

GUARDSMEN ASSIGNED TO COAL FIELDS

Ohio Militia Officers Sent to Scenes of Disorder as Permanent Observers

COLUMBUS (O.) Aug. 4. (AP)—While Gov. Donahey today awaited action of coal operators and union miners of the central competitive field on his proposal of a resumption of their wage-scale conference, Ohio National Guard officers were dispatched as permanent observers, to the scenes of the recent disorders in five counties.

A flurry caused at the capital early in the day over the murder in Athens county of P. J. Merz, president of the Lickrun mine, Nelsonville, was quieted tonight when the Governor's office was informed by Maj. John Edwards, stationed in Athens county, that the shooting was "a domestic affair."

"The killing of Merz by his son-in-law, James McManaway, grew out of a domestic quarrel," Maj. Edwards reported.

The Governor's office was informed, however, that McManaway had been active among union miners, opposing his father-in-law.

France Frees Apache Chief

RIO DE JANEIRO (Brazil) Aug. 4. (AP)—Set free by the Ministry of Justice on the receipt of official word from France, Eugene Dieudonne, recaptured recently after escaping from penal servitude on Devil's Island, French Guiana, is ready to surrender to the French consul to be sent back to his native land. He says he wants to clear himself of many of the crimes with which he was charged and start life anew.

Dieudonne, a member of the notorious band of Parisian apaches, made his escape from the penal colony on Devil's Island last December and after almost unendurable hardships was captured by the Brazilian police in the State of Para, ten days ago.

The French government offered him a pardon if he surrendered to the French authorities and waived the formalities of extradition. He consented to this and official word is received from France asking that he be set free so that he may return to France.

Tourists' Gold Rains on Europe

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Times]

PARIS, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—American tourists are spending $650,000,000 this year, principally in Europe, according to a statement made by Julius Klein, director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, in an address at the American Club here today. Of this sum, $250,000,000 will go to France, he says.

Mr. Klein stressed the importance of invisible items in international economic relations at present. He said such items are overlooked in trade balance sheets and the relations of nations, whereas their importance should be recognized.

Money spent by tourists in another country on hotels, luxuries, taxis and so forth gives a high retail profit, perhaps double the profit realized by wholesale exporters. There are also such important items as insurance and shipping, as the greater part of international insurance was done through European companies, and much of America's commerce was carried in foreign ships.

Brazil Bids for Asia Immigrants

TOKIO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—The new Brazilian Ambassador, Senor Feitosa, presented Premier Tanaka with an invitation from the Brazilian government to Japanese immigrants to the number of 5000 a year until 1932 and assisting each to the extent of $70.

The Japanese government has been assisting emigrants to Brazil to the extent of $100 a head. Six thousand emigrated to Brazil this year and 12,000 are preparing to migrate in 1928.

RIVER REALLOCATION PLEA INDICATED BY ARIZONANS

Hint of Plan to Ask Agreement of Other States in Compact Given at Phoenix Conference

BY CHESTER G. HANSON
"Times" Staff Correspondent

PHOENIX, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Arizona will ask the rest of the States in the Colorado River compact to agree to a reallocation of the waters of the river among the seven interested States and Mexico, according to indications at the conference which opened here today between the Arizona and California Colorado River commissions.

The commissions are meeting here to determine if there is not some common ground on which the two States can agree before the opening of the Denver conference of all the interested States tentatively set for the [illegible] inst. The California delegation arrived here this morning and, after making an appearance before a joint session of the State Legislature, went into formal conference with the Arizona commission, presided over by Gov. Hunt. After an all-afternoon session during which most of the time was devoted to preliminary verbal sparring, the conference adjourned until tomorrow morning.

One agreement was reached between the two bodies during the afternoon's discussion. It was that a limit should be put upon Mexico's appropriation of water from the Colorado River if a dam is built and that the United States should not sleep on whatever rights she may have in waters that may be appropriated by Mexico prior to building of a dam.

This thought was set forth after considerable discussion covering the history of the appropriation of water from the river for agricultural lands below the border and the trend of possible future development.

REALLOCATION QUESTION

It was toward the close of the afternoon's talk that H. S. McCluskey, member of the Arizona commission, advanced the questions of reallocation of the waters of the Colorado.

"How does California stand," he asked, "on the question of getting back to the original proposition of allocating the waters of the river among the interested States and Mexico, leaving out any question as to the development of any project of any nature?"

After some questioning from the California members, it developed that McCluskey meant an entire reallocation, going back to the original Santa Fe compact when the water was allocated between the upper and lower basin States. This compact left an unappropriated 5,000,000 acre feet to be allocated at the end of forty years. McCluskey's proposal would include this unappropriated 5,000,000 acre feet in the reallocation.

W. B. Mathews, attorney for the water board, asked McCluskey if he had put that proposition up to the upper-basin States recently and McCluskey said he had. In the midst of discussion, during which the California spokesmen were trying to get the question clearly delineated before answering, Mulford Winsor, secretary to the Arizona commission, moved the adjournment until tomorrow morning.

An interesting touch was injected earlier in the afternoon when Senator Winsor said: "Have not you commissioners from California come in touch with the rather general sentiment over here in Arizona that all California wants is legislation to help California?"

HIGH-LINE SCHEME

The fantastic Arizona high-line scheme was dragged before the conference shortly after it was opened but was shooed out hurriedly by the Arizonans.

"Oh," said McCluskey, "that represents a minority view, although some estimable people are interested in it."

Other Arizona members quickly announced that "the matter is not before us for discussion."

It had been brought up innocently by a California commissioner in the shape of a sheaf of typewritten papers which had been handed to him on arrival here.

Members of the California delegation were frankly pleased when, upon stepping off the train from Los Angeles, they were greeted by Gov. Hunt. He bundled the delegates into his personal car and whisked them off to the hotel. The Governor has not done this with all California delegations who have come to Phoenix to talk over the Colorado River problem.

Again the delegates were pleasantly surprised when the Governor sent his car to the hotel an hour later and conveyed the visitors to the Capitol, where spokesmen were invited to address a joint session of the House and Senate of the State Legislature, now in session. The invitation was extended by Mrs. Vernette Ivy, Representative from Maricopa county, and Senators Jones and Kimball.

DELEGATION PRESENTED

In presenting the visiting delegation to the Legislature, Mulford Windsor, president of the Senate, indulged in some humorous remarks directed at the Governor, who was seated on the rostrum, over the deadlock between the Legislature and the Governor over the State Highway Commission legislation. Good-natured shafts were hurled at the Californians during the course of the official welcome.

Former Mayor John L. Bacon of San Diego, chairman of the commission, in responding, told his audience that the commission had come over in the spirit of good-fellowship and with an earnest desire to co-operate with Arizona in any way compatible with California's needs on the Colorado River problem.

He expressed faith in Arizona's ability to co-operate, pointing out that in California various cities had found that when prejudice crept in results were not obtained. He expressed the belief that while we on this side of the Mexican border were talking, Mexico was busy appropriating the waters of the Colorado, and in this way building up a menace to the agricultural interests north of the line. He closed with the remark that not all Californians necessarily grew hoofs and horns and gave it as his opinion that much good would come out of the present conference.

Mr. Bacon's remarks were echoed in brief talks made also by W. B. Mathews, attorney for the Board of Water and Power Commissioners, and by Earl C. Pound, president of the board of directors of the Imperial Irrigation District. Mr. Pound enlarged particularly upon the urgent need for flood control for the Imperial Valley, remarking that the river levees even now are not strong enough to withstand heavy floods that are expected. The delegation then retired and prepared to take up the formal session with the Arizona commission at 3 o'clock.

INDIANS END THREE-DAY DANCE

FORT WASHAKIE (Wyo.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Twenty-four sturdy young Shoshone bucks with dragging feet and hollow eyes today finished the annual sun dance which sixty braves began here Monday. Clad only in breech cloths and vivid paint, the Indians had danced steadily day and night for three days without food or drink, blowing their whistles monotonously.

RICH MAN DROPS DEAD

OCEAN BIRDS OIL WINGS

Honolulu Flyers Start to Coast

Preparations for Forthcoming Dole-Prize Air Race Go Forward

Several Will Reach Bay City Within Next Two or Three Days

BARTLESVILLE (Okla.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Private advices to the Phillips Petroleum Company late this evening say that Lieut. Griffin and Lieut. Henley in the monoplane Oklahoma, landed at Amboy, Cal., southwest of Needles, after being in the air for thirteen hours and forty minutes. After fighting head winds and storms practically all day, the plane was brought down and minor repairs made, which were necessitated by faulty insulation of the exhaust stacks. The plane will proceed to San Francisco tomorrow. They left Bartlesville at 5:20 a.m. today.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—From the Mississippi West, those birds that will point their steel-jacketed beaks toward the Paradise of the Pacific a week from tomorrow, were preening their wings tonight.

At least one of them was on the wing. The monoplane Oklahoma, which will be piloted in the $35,000 Dole race to Honolulu by Bennett Griffin, was expected at Bay Farm Airport, Oakland, tonight. It hopped off from Bartlesville, Okla., this morning and was en route via Las Vegas, N. M., and Bakersfield. With Griffin is his navigator, Al Henley. This is the pair that plans to hop to Tokio if they make Honolulu successfully, and if they make Tokio, figure on going on around the world in successive hops.

From Los Angeles, San Diego, Detroit, Peoria, Wichita and Dallas came word that motors are being tuned for the preliminary jump to San Francisco Bay. There was only one false note in the entire symphony of engine hums.

ENTRY MAY BE SCRATCHED

The entry which Fred Burgh of Los Angeles made, hoping to send two San Diego naval lieutenants, may be scratched. Word came from San Diego that the ship designed for the flyers has not yet arrived. Adding to the anxiety in its regard was a reported statement from Lieut. George W. D. Covell, its prospective navigator, that he may not be able to fly.

Frederick A. Giles, Canadian war ace, who will fly a Hess Bluebird biplane for a Detroit contractor, wired Secretary Frank Flynn of the local chapter National Aeronautic Association, that he will arrive at Mills Field, San Francisco municipal airport, some time Sunday. He expects to leave Detroit Saturday and estimates twenty-two hours for the trip to the Pacific Coast.

Art Goebel, Angeleno and champion upside down flyer of the Pacific Coast, is still in Wichita, where the finishing touches are being put on his Travelair monoplane. He expects to get away from Wichita for Bartlesville in the morning and will leave almost immediately for the Coast, arriving here Sunday.

ILLINOISAN COMING

Charles W. Parkhurst of the National Airways System at Lomax, Ill., may not get in until Monday in the biplane, City of Peoria, which Ralph Clowes, Jr., will navigate.

Capt. William P. Erwin, third of American flying aces in the war, will leave Dallas, Tex., with his wife at his side, Saturday or Sunday. Erwin is at Wichita today getting his Travelair from the factory, and he wants to go through his home town on the way West.

Livingston G. Irving, Berkeley's war ace, came back to Bay Farm airport from Point Sur, near Monterey, where he was forced down on a prospective test trip yesterday by a leaky gasoline line. When he came back it was learned that the feed line broke, spraying Irving and his mechanic, Harold Edgar, with fluid. They thought for a few minutes the Pacific flyer was going to go up in flames but they landed safely in a cow pasture.

LOS ANGELES PLANE TO BE FULLY EQUIPPED

Declaring that navigating an airplane from the mainland to Hawaii is no less difficult than finding the proverbial needle in a haystack, Edward Fisk, aeronautical engineer and designer of the triplane, the Pride of Los Angeles, an entry in the Dole air derby to Hawaii on the 12th inst., announced yesterday that every navigating device known to science will be installed on the plane before it takes off on the projected trans-Pacific hop.

With most of these instruments already in place, the ship is being made ready at the plant of the International Aircraft Corporation for a final test flight during which it will circle over Los Angeles several hours one day early next week, Mr. Fisk stated.

Capt. James L. Giffin, army air service officer, and Theodore S. Lundgren, former army aviation instructor, have been chosen as pilot and navigator, respectively, for the Pride of Los Angeles.

Sponsors of the entry of the plane in the Dole flight are Hoot Gibson, motion-picture cowboy, and a number of associates, including C. B. Kerr, P. H. Halbriter, Kenneth H. Preuss, Maurice De Mond, L. H. Rounsavelle, F. G. Hoffine, Arthur H. Laack, Arthur R. Rude, James L. Miller and Phillip Forve, Jr.

CANADIAN WILL START FLIGHT LATE

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Curzon OD. Usborne, Canadian airman, announced today he cannot hop off for Honolulu before the 22nd inst. If the American flyers fail and he reaches Honolulu first he will claim the Dole prize despite regulations imposed by San Francisco chapter of the National Aeronautical Association, he declared. His ultimate objective is Australia.

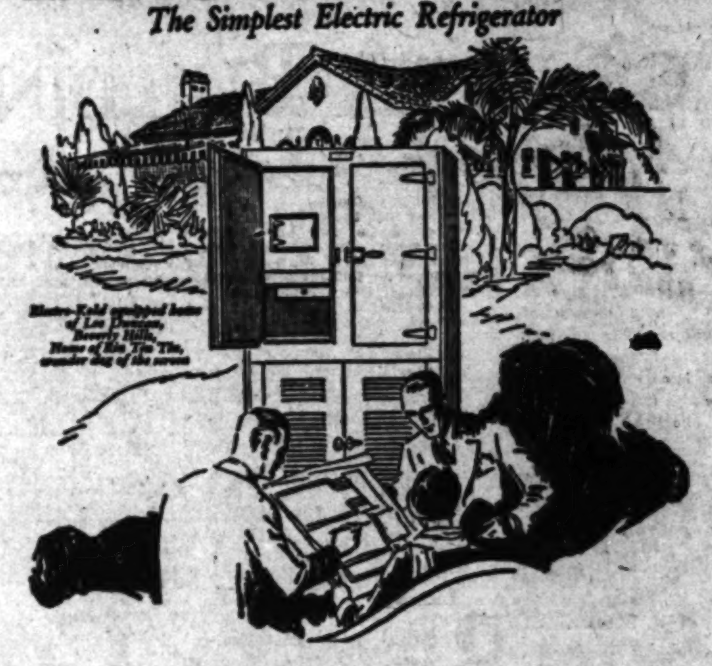
ELECTRO-KOLD
The Simplest Electric Refrigerator



Electro-Kold equipped home of Lee Duncan, Beverly Hills, Home of Rin Tin Tin, wonder dog of the screen

IN new homes now, architects recommend Electro-Kold, the simplest electric refrigerator

ALONG with fine plumbing and other modernizing conveniences, consider Electro-Kold for your new home. "Without Electro-Kold, our homes would not be modern," Electro-Kold users say.

An Electro-Kold keeps foods better, without bother and worry. It freezes dainty, tempting desserts and salads, or makes ice cubes for table use. Best of all, it works automatically.

Many Electro-Kold refrigerators have been in daily use for more than four years. Fine homes up and down the Pacific Coast have them and scores of apartments are Electro-Kold equipped. Electro-Kold adds to the value of every apartment house.

"We consider refrigeration just as important as heating," apartment house builders say. Be guided by their experience.

Electro-Kold's simplicity (over 100 less parts than any other machine) makes for ruggedness and longer life. It makes for reasonable prices also. Convenient terms. Made by one of the oldest electric refrigerator manufacturers in the U. S., originators of the open frost tank compartment.

You can use your present refrigerator in your new home. We will equip it with Electro-Kold in a few hours. Or, if you wish, you may choose from self-contained unit models of porcelain or Duco finish. See Electro-Kold in actual operation on our sales floor.

Knights of Columbus Again in Scathing Denunciations

Resolutions Passed During Supreme Convention

Aims at Destroying Economic Structure Charged

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 4. (AP)—The Knights of Columbus supreme convention in session here was on record today with resolutions denouncing the government of Mexico as "aiming to destroy economic values and the social structure." That government was declared to have "already succeeded in corrupting the schools, disrupting the family and rooting out religion from the hearts of millions of our fellow beings."

The resolution omitted a hint in favor of intervention, which was contained in resolutions adopted last year in Philadelphia. Membership of the Knights of Columbus was commended for contributing a fund of $1,000,000 for use of the Supreme Board of Directors in carrying out the Mexican policy of the order; and use by the board of the fund was indorsed.

STORMS ADD TO FIRES IN NORTH

Lightning Cause of 300 in Washington Forests

Several Still Raging Through Klamath Area

Dominion Blaze Unchecked After All-Night Fight

PORTLAND (Oor.) Aug. 4. (AP)—More than 300 forest fires have been set by electric storms which have been sweeping over Washington the past four days. Reports to district national forest headquarters here from Columbia Forest, just north of the Columbia River, say more than 100 are burning today. Eighty men were dispatched to the forest today from Portland and Vancouver, Wash.

Ranier Forest, to the north of Columbia Forest, has about 106 fires, all fairly well controlled; Wenatchee Forest, sixty-four, the Chelan Forest about thirty and the Olympic Forest has about six.

Yesterday's thunderstorm over the Columbia brought a heavy rain, the first precipitation since the electric bombardment began, but the territory covered was a narrow strip and more fires blazed up on both sides.

In the Rock Creek district of the Columbia Forest, about 180 acres are burned over in the Yacolt burn. The upper Washougal River district today called for more men. Seventy-five men are fighting a 300-acre blaze on Moss Creek in an old burn on Little White Salmon River. About forty acres burned yesterday on Grizzly Mountain in South Central Oregon. A few small lightning fires in Mt. Hood Forest have been stopped.

Closing of two large areas to cooking was announced today—1400 acres in the Sulphur Creek burn in Mount Baker Forest, Washington, and 40,000 acres on Wildcat, Pope and Mud creeks in the Wallowa Forest in Oregon.

KLAMATH FOREST FLAMES UNCONTROLLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (AP)—The local district headquarters of the United States Forest Service reports receipt of word today that several fires still are burning uncontrolled in the Klamath National Forest in Northern California near the Oregon State line.

One serious fire is declared to be burning in the Peter Camp district. Another on Bluff Creek is expected to be under control within three days. A third conflagration on Preston Peak, is not considered serious.

Approximately forty-one fires were started in the Klamath Forest last week by an electrical storm that swept northward from the central part of the State. Fires also were started by lightning in Southern Oregon forests.

BLAZE SPREADING IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Aug. 4. (AP)—In spite of an all-night fight 350 men were unable to prevent the spreading of a large forest fire on the logging operations of the Alberni Pacific Lumber Company, it was reported here today. Fanned by a westerly wind, the blaze burned over 1000 acres four miles from the town of Alberni.

AMERICANS BLAMED IN BORDER RUM BATTLE

RIVER PATROL DECLARED TO HAVE FIRED WHEN IN CANADIAN WATERS

SARNIA (Ont.) Aug 4. (AP)—Local police who investigated the shooting affair between officers of the United States St. Clair River patrol and asserted bootleggers declare the evidence shows the latter were in Canadian waters when fired on.

Harold Holmes of Toronto, who was wounded, is said to have returned the fire, wounding a United States officer, Arthur Lazatte. This officer says the gasoline boat used by the asserted bootleggers was in United States waters and that the Canadians fired first. The charge is denied by the Canadians.

The United States authorities issued a warrant for the arrest of Holmes, who is in a Chatham hospital.

BYRD REVEALS FLIGHT PLANS

Antarctic Expedition May Cost $250,000

Edsel Ford Not Alone in Backing Project

Miniature City Will Arise on Discovery Bay

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—The New York Evening Post today says Commander Richard E. Byrd's scientific expedition into the Antarctic promises to be one of the most stupendous undertakings in history and will cost about $250,000.

This, Commander Byrd admitted, is an extraordinarily large sum, but declared it really a very conservative one measured against the size of the expedition, the distance the supplies will have to be transported and the fact that two, and perhaps three years will be required for its completion.

Commander Byrd said that Edsel Ford will not be the sole backer of the expedition. He said conferences have been arranged with ther men who have been interested in the expedition and who have expressed a desire to back it financially.

SILENT ON NAMES

The commander declined to reveal the names of the projected backers. What is more important, he said, is the extensive preparations that must be made before the flight to the South Pole, which, in itself, will not take more than a dozen hours or so.

At the major base in Discovery Bay a miniature modern city of thirty persons will be constructed. Portable houses will be brought from Norway to serve as homes and workshops for the scientists, mechanics and flyers who will comprise the community.

The houses will be provided with telephones, and heat will be furnished by oil and coal. A radio station, operating on a short wave length, is expected to maintain communication with the United States. An airdrome will be erected at the edge of the city for the housing of the two planes that will be used in the expedition.

There will be no automobiles in the expedition, but there will be several small tractors for towing the planes to the runways and for transportation of supplies.

DEPEND ON HUNT

A large amount of canned goods will be taken along, but the party expects to depend for meat on birds and Antarctic animal life.

Commander Byrd said he and Floyd Bennett, his pilot on his flight to the North Pole, have been working on the plans for the last three weeks and have made remarkable progress.

"It really is a stupendous undertaking," he said, "and it seems to be growing more so every moment. Requests have come in to [illegible] from all over the country—from scientists asking me to do this and that, from individuals who want to go, from companies that want me to take this or that product along."

BLAME PARENTS FOR POOR TEETH

Government Issues Bulletin on Dental Worries

Heredity Not Vital Factor, Expert Contends

Deficiencies in Diet of Mother Cited

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—After a sanguinary encounter, as a result of which he suffered acute pain in the molar region, the immortal Don Quixote directed his faithful Sancho to make a local examination to ascertain precisely what had happened.

"On this upper side, your worship has but two teeth and a half," reported Sancho, "and, in the lower, neither half nor whole; all is as smooth and even as the palm of my hand."

"Unfortunate that I am!" exclaimed Don Quixote. "I had rather they had torn off an arm, provided it were not the sword arm, for thou must know, Sancho, that a mouth without teeth is like a mill without a stone, and that a diamond is not so precious as a tooth."

This apocryphal incident is made the text for a bulletin on better teeth that has just been issued by the Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior.

Cervantes did not exaggerate the value of teeth, both for use and for beauty, when he placed them above diamonds, it says. Nevertheless, a mouth which has not lost one of these jewels or in which some of them are not in part artificial is exceedingly rare. Dental caries—tooth decay—is a most common and most expensive disease, and we have accepted this condition with a calmness, resignation and indifference begot of familiarity, ignorance and helplessness. That there is no necessity for this disease on such a grand scale is indicated by the fact that among wild animals decayed or ill-placed teeth are almost unknown; nor are they frequent among some races of men.

MANY LIKE PASTE

These useful jewels so frequently turn out to be paste diamonds, looking well at first, but wearing badly because there is something lacking in the raw stuff of which they were made or with which they are kept in repair, continues the bulletin. Good bricks cannot be made of mere mud, nor can such marvelous structures as good teeth be made of anything and everything we attempt to use for the purpose. Tooth-making cells must receive through the blood stream sufficient calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, fluorine and other essentials if they are to turn out teeth which will not only look well but last a lifetime.

Chronologically, bad teeth date back to a time long before the beginnings of history, to the discovery of fire, and the development of the art of making certain foods unduly tempting, and coincidentally the change of the business of eating from one of profit to one of pleasure, it is stated.

Decaying teeth have especially plagued those peoples, ancient and modern, that have sinned most against nature's law of dental health, while the races which perforce have followed more closely her rules in the matter, such as the Eskimos, Maoris, African negroes, certain tribes of Indians and the peasants of some European countries, have excellent teeth. To blame dental defects upon the lack of vigorous use of the teeth on raw foods is about as logical it is pointed out, as to blame bow legs due to rickets—a disease of malnutrition allied to and about as frequent as dental decay—to lack of the use of the limbs, or to attribute loss of teeth from scurvy to neglect of mastication.

BLAME HEREDITY

Heredity has been frequently blamed for bad teeth, but Dr. James P. Rogers, the author of the bulletin, says that although good teeth run in families to some extent, family foods and other hygiene are at the bottom of this good fortune. If heredity were an important factor, dental decay would never have occurred, for time was when it did not exist, and certainly bad teeth have not been an aid to survival. Hereditary tendency, he adds, should be even more strongly influential for the production of good teeth than of bad ones.

In short, this authority takes the stand that if you have had teeth you must blame it upon your parents for not having taken proper care of you in your prenatal period and during the years following your arrival in the world, during which you were not personally responsible, or upon yourself for not having been duly careful after you reached the age of discretion. If you were orphaned shortly after your birth you can blame your bad teeth upon your parents for not having done their duty before you were born, upon those who reared you for not having done their duty when they were responsible for you, or upon yourself for not having taken care of yourself.

It is a generally held idea that teeth are formed just before they pop through the gums and are ready to assume the duties for which nature obviously intended them. That idea is all wrong, according to Dr. Rogers.

"We are accustomed to think of teeth as formed at or just before their appearance," he says, "but instead of having their beginning about the sixth month of the child's postnatal career they are already building a year earlier, in the sixth week of his antenatal existence, and from this early time right material and right conditions must be present, if they are to be perfect.

START BEFORE BIRTH

"Even the second set is begun long before birth, and the first of these to make their appearance, the six-year molars, are having their finishing coat of enamel laid on at birth. After the enamel or exposed adamantine covering of the tooth, whether of the first or second set, is finished its preservation must still be dependent, to some extent, on the food the child receives and on his general hygiene."

Dr. Rogers says that malformed jaws and ill-placed teeth are, like decayed teeth, characteristic of man. These conditions, however, appear in animals fed on foods lacking in certain substances, and it can hardly be doubted that such deformities in children are the result of deficiencies in the diet of the mother or of the child, or of conditions which affect the use of such materials.

This expert says toothbrushes and dentifrices are all right, and their use is to be encouraged, but they are not indispensable and their use will not, of themselves, preserve teeth.

Bad Teeth Make Backward Children

MANY diseases from which both old and young suffer are directly or indirectly caused by decayed teeth and diseased gums. Without good teeth, food cannot be properly chewed, and is therefore not properly digested. Indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation and other troubles are often caused by bad teeth. To effect a cure, the mouth must be put in good order.

The best time to begin is childhood. No boy or girl can make progress in school unless the teeth are in a healthful condition. Bad teeth keep anybody from going

MURDER SEEN IN MYSTERY

PRAGUE (Czecho-Slovakia) Aug. 4. (AP)—Detectives are seeking to unravel the mystery of the disappearance of an American girl, Margit Voerdesmart of New York. John Michalko, prominent in Czecho-Slovakia political circles, and his friend and physician, Dr. Klepetar, are under arrest on suspicion of murdering her.

It is asserted by the police that Michalko went through a bogus form of marriage with Miss Voerdesmart last year, after which she, Michalko and Klepetar left for Paris, saying they were going to America. Since then, according to authorities, nothing has been heard of her, although Michalko and Klepetar subsequently returned to Prague.

On being arrested, they denied the charges of murder, declaring that the girl left them on the way to Paris and they have not seen her since. But the police assert they found at the physician's home in Prague a trunk containing all her clothing and effects.

The case is causing a sensation here, as Michalko held several high political appointments, notably that of political secretary to the present Minister of Education, M. Hodza.

Lindbergh Gets Another Ovation

WHEELING (W. Va.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, with his white-winged "Spirit of St. Louis," landed at Langin Field, Moundsville, W. Va., from Pittsburgh, this afternoon for another round of receptions as the guest of Wheeling and the West Virginia Panhandle.

As Col. Lindbergh stepped from the cockpit of his plane he was greeted by city officials of Wheeling and Moundsville. A large crowd gathered on the field cheered lustily and Lindbergh acknowledged with a smile.

Col. Lindbergh rode at the head of a twelve-mile automobile procession from the field to the State Fair Grounds, where he was to be greeted by Gov. Howard M. Gore in behalf of West Virginia. The route to the grounds was lined with cheering throngs.

The next leg of his national air tour will take him to Dayton, O., for which city he will take off tomorrow.

PREDIVORCE UNION HELD LEGAL BY COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (AP)—A marriage performed in California is legal, even if one of the principals has not received the final decree of divorce from a former union, filed in another State, Superior Judge Harold Louderback ruled here today.

Annulment of her twelve-day marriage was refused Mrs. Genevieve Cox of Tacoma, Wash., who testified that her husband, Lee O. Cox, had not waited six months for his final decree from his first wife in Tacoma before marrying again in California.

Judge Louderback ruled that the California marriage was legal because performed beyond the jurisdiction of the Washington divorce law.

CHIANG KEEPING PARTY IN CHAOS

"Right Wing" of Nationalists Confused Over Aims

Anti-Military Talk Offset by War Lord Policies

Position Anomalous and His Government Wobbling

[Vincent Sheean, a trained observer who knows China well, has written a series of seven special articles giving the background of the Chinese situation as it exists today, and describing the outstanding elements and leaders in the country's turmoil.]

BY VINCENT SHEEAN

(Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

HANKOW, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—The "Right Wing Nationalist government" at Nanking was created by the decision of Chiang Kai-Shek, commander-in-chief of the Cantonese and Hunanese armies, not to obey the orders of the Central Executive Committee at Hankow.

When this Nanking government was proclaimed April 18, last, it declared itself against Bolshevism and opposed to the labor and peasant policy of the Hankow Nationalist government.

Chiang had difficulty getting a government together, however, as few civilian officials belonging to the Nationalist party were willing to serve under a military chief. That has been all along the drawback to his success, and constitutes the chief weakness of his movement.

Although he is operating according to the traditions of all the Chinese war-lords, with forced loans and dictatorial powers to maintain him, he still keeps up the formulas and catch-words of the Nationalist movement, "anti-imperialism" and "antimilitarism." To these he has added "anti-Bolshevism."

The confusion he has created in the situation by the incompatability of his aims and his methods is only equaled by the confusion of his own mind, for it is difficult to get out of him exactly what he believes or wants.

REORGANIZATION BLOCKED

There always has been a moderate element in the Nationalist party which would have been willing to organize the party over again without Communist elements. Chiang ruined the chances for such a reorganized Nationalist party by taking the law into his own hands, "summoning" the moderate leaders to Nanking to help him, and "proclaiming" a government of his own without party authority.

Naturally, most of the Nationalist leaders, even those who were most distrustful of Communist aims and most fearful of the results which might follow a mass revolutionary upheaval, refused to obey Chiang's orders. Not a single Kuomintang leader in good standing joined Chiang's Nanking government. He was forced to make up his government out of ex-Kuomintang members who had been expelled for infringements of party discipline.

NANKING MINISTER

The most prominent of these is C. C. Wu, now Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Nanking government. Wu is a son of the famous Wu Ting-Fang, who helped Sun Yat-Sen found the Chinese republic.

Wu desires to settle the Nanking incident with the foreign powers, as a prelude to obtaining foreign support; but Chiang is as anti-Japanese and anti-British as he is anti-everything else.

He is driving up the railway to Peking in the hope of reaching there before his enemies, the radicals of the Nationalist movement, occupying the capital. In the meantime all the reactionary forces in China, from the British to Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, have offered their friendship to Chiang Kai-Shek and the Nanking government.

It is difficult to see how he can refuse these alliances, and the pressure of his own "government" is in that direction.

DECISION DUE SOON

His position is anomalous and his government is shaky, but before the summer is up he will have to decide in one way or in the other, either for his natural counter-revolutionary allies or for that Hankow revolutionary government he so flamboyantly denounced last April.

Meanwhile he has disarmed the labor and peasant unions throughout the territories he controls, and the total deaths from these conflicts in Shanghai, Nanking and down the coast to Canton are said to have been well in excess of a thousand. This fact would make it almost impossible for the Hankow government ever to accept him back into the fold, for to do so would be to insult the labor unions which form Hankow's support.

Dan Parker, MONARCH of the Los Angeles Tailoring Field makes his SUPREME SUIT OFFER again To-Morrow

A TAILOR-MADE SUIT for $20.00

MADE-TO-MEASURE
Choice of 500 Patterns
-embracing BLUES, TANS, GRAYS, BROWNS,-in Hard Worsteds, Twists, Cheviots, Serge, Cassimeres and Tweeds

YOU WILL BE AWED BY THE RICHNESS OF VALUE presented to you TOMORROW in this great offer. DAN PARKER has bought woolens for about one-third of what the average "small tailor" pays. He can tailor a garment of identical grade for nearly one-half the small tailor's cost, because of an established and perfected organization, and extensive shop volume. Dan Parker can sell a suit on a margin of profit that is one-fourth to one-sixth of that charged by the "small tailor" because he sells greatly in excess. These savings are converted into real values for the consumer, at a PLEASING PRICE. An inspection of Parker's offer $20.00 and up will prove convincing. Be your own salesman, if you choose.

QUIZ ORDERED ON PRISON ISLE

Many Innocent Reported at Mexican Penitentiary

Penal Colony Known as Place of Living Dead

Investigator Will Also Make Inquiry on Treatment

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4. (Exclusive) Probability that there are many innocent persons confined on the Three Marys' Isles, Mexico's penal colony, off the Pacific Coast, and considered a place of the "living dead," has prompted Col. Adalberto Tejeda, Secretary of Interior, to authorize the noted lawyer, Juan De La Cruz, chief of the Department of Interior, to make a special trip to the islands to investigate.

Friends and relatives of condemned men on the Three Marys' Isles have persisted in writing the department of the innocence of some of the convicts. De La Cruz was ordered to hear all cases concerning immediate release and to make those pardons, which he deemed necessary. He was further authorized to release prisoners whom he felt had served a sufficient portion of their sentence.

A special boat will carry the lawyer from Manzanillo, State of Colima, to the site. It is thought that many of the convicts were ordered to the colony by the District Governor of the Inspector General of Police, who possibly were not guilty. Repeated protests have caused the sending of the government's envoy to right possible wrongs.

De La Cruz is further authorized to investigate charges that conditions are unsanitary and that prisoners suffer brutal treatment, with the view of recommending reforms upon his return to this city. He is expected to make a detailed report of his findings to Col. Tejeda, when he returns.

The boat, which will take De La Cruz to the prison, will be used to return the last of the Catholics, exiled on the Three Marys' Isles, who were convicted of conspiracy against the Mexican government, but were recently pardoned by President Calles. These persons will be brought by train from Manzanillo to Mexico City by way of Guadalajara, State of Jalisco.

Guardian Asked for Fading Riches

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (AP)—A request by Guernsey K. Frink of Salinas, that he be appointed guardian of the remaining $18,000 from the $10,000,000 estate left by his grandfather, George Frink, was today taken under advisement by Superior Judge Thomas Graham.

The elder Frink died twenty-seven years ago, leaving the vast estate to his widow and two children, one of whom was Dr. George Frink of Reno, Nev. The petition states that under the administration of Dr. Frink, the estate dwindled to $18,000. He was removed by the court and the Mercantile Trust Company substituted.

Guernsey, a son of Dr. Frink, petitioned for guardianship of the estate in behalf of himself and two sisters, stating he hoped to increase the bequests for their benefit.

CO-EDS' PIPES SHOCK PARIS

Girls Smoking Calabashes "Trop Fort" Even for Latin Quarter

PARIS, Aug. 4. (Exclusive) There is one thing a lady must not do in Parisian cafes, and that is smoke a pipe. This precedent was set for all time today in the famous Cafe De Sarcourt, in the heart of the Latin Quarter, noted for its liberality in other little vices, when two students of literature at the neighboring Sorbonne—two lady students, were ejected for doing this very thing.

Other customers who came to sip their cheap but lawful imitation absinthe and other aperitifs were utterly astonished to discover when the cloud of smoke blew away that it emanated from two old-fashioned calabashes, now much in vogue, in the lips of the two co-eds. There are lot of things the French stand for, but they found this "trop fort" had a bad influence on the young, who merely smoke cigarettes.

GANG ROBS TWO BANKS IN BAY AREA

Four Bandits Believed to Have Staged One-Hour Crime Wave in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—In a one-hour reign of crime, bank robbers struck on both sides of the bay today, holding up the Hayes Valley branch of the United Bank and Trust Company here and the Forty-first-street and Broadway branch of the Bank of Italy in Oakland. The local bank yielded between $8000 and $10,000 and the Oakland bank $16,000, nearly $14,000 of which was in travelers' checks upon which payment can be stopped.

Four robbers entered the Hayes Valley branch and forced the manager and two girls to lie on the floor while they rifled the cash drawers and the vault, which was open. All were well dressed and wore white handkerchiefs as masks.

Because of the time elapsed between the two robberies, an hour and three minutes, it is believed the raiders of the local branch crossed the bay on an automobile ferry and staged the robbery on the Oakland institution. Only two men were seen, however, by attaches of the Bank of Italy branch. The manager and four employees of the second bank were ordered to lie on the floor in the same manner as that practiced on this side of the bay.

Residents near the Hayes Valley Bank reported seeing a car parked across the street for some time immediately prior to the robbery. In it were a man and a woman. It drove away a few minutes after the time of the bank robbing, police learned when they checked back, but no one was found who saw the number of occupants at that time.

CURTAILING OF OIL PLAN APPROVED

Corporation Commission of Oklahoma Will Ratify Seminole Curb Today

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Ratification by the State Corporation Commission of plans made by Seminole oil operators yesterday to curtail production in that field was indicated today when the commission, on application of Ray M. Collins, umpire of the field, vacated its temporary restraining order and postponed hearing on the case until the 15th inst.

The commissioners announced that the curtailment plan agreed upon at Tulsa yesterday and approved by all Seminole operators will be ratified in an order which will be handed down tomorrow. While it vacated its temporary restraining order which provided that no wells in remote areas of the field should be drilled pending the hearing tomorrow, the commission declared that the continuance was for the purpose of keeping the case open should there be objections to the working of the plan adopted yesterday.

The curtailment program calls for holding production in the greater Seminole area to 450,000 barrels a day. The program is to extend over a period of sixty days.

It is indicated that should the plan prove successful, the Corporation Commission on the 15th inst., will again continue the date of hearing.

The plan means a reduction of between 50,000 and 75,000 barrels daily in the output of the field, Collins said.

Valley in New Crop Ventures

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4. (AP)—The opening up of Imperial Valley lands to three new field crops—rice, flax and hemp—on commercial scales, is reported by the Bureau of Field Crops of the State Department of Agriculture.

Between 6000 and 8000 acres of rice have been set out in the southern valley this year for a dual purpose—to get the crop and remove alkali from the ground and make it productive for other crops. This is one of the first years an attempt has been made to raise rice in the valley on a commercial scale.

The flax plantings are principally south of the border, although there are a few fields this side of the line. The crop has been planted principally for seed rather than fiber, the seed being for the manufacture of linseed oil and linseed meal.

Hemp production, while a new venture, is not expected to reach great proportions until a machine has been perfected to do the work of the elements in other districts in separating the fiber from the stock. In the big hemp districts the crop is stacked in the open and the rains and weather rot the native glud and free the fiber, but in Imperial Valley it is said the weather is too dry for this and that a machine will have to be made to do it.

STATE LAND COMMITTEE DESIGNATED

Board Named to Study Conditions at Durham and Delhi Colonies

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Appointment by Gov. Young of an unofficial committee to investigate conditions at the Durham and Delhi land colonies, control of which has but recently passed from the Land Settlement Board to the Department of Agriculture, was announced today at the Governor's office. Those on the committee are:

C. C. Teague, Santa Paula, president of the California Agricultural Legislative Committee; Earl Houghton, Berkeley, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation; George R. Harrison, Sebastopol, master State Grange; R. V. Garrod, Saratoga, State president of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union; H. C. Carr, Porterville, prominent agriculturist and banker; Senator Frank S. Boggs of Stockton, and Assemblyman Charles H. Deuel of Chico.

The Governor in announcing the committee, said in his opinion it would be only fair to the Land Settlement Board and the Department of Agriculture to have the condition of the two settlements determined at the time control is transferred, so there will be no ground for future difference.

C. W. Cleary, Lindsay farmer and a prominent figure in agricultural circles of the State, has but recently been named by G. H. Hecke, director of the Agricultural Department, to supervise the two settlements.

CHINESE-JAPAN CLASH BREWING

PEKING, Aug. 4. (AP)—A situation threatening a Chinese-Japanese incident has arisen on the Korean-Manchurian border as a result of a Japanese project to establish a consulate at Linkiang, Manchuria, on the Yalu River.

Chinese sources assert that 800 Japanese troops, having nine machine guns and two field guns, are concentrated on the Korean side of the Yalu River opposite Linkiang, to support the entry of the designated consul into Manchurian territory, which the Chinese authorities and the populace are opposing.

A Japanese diplomatic spokesman asserted today that the troops were on the border for annual maneuvers and that their presence there during the consulate dispute was "probably a coincident." At the same time, he added that Japan was fully determined to establish the consulate, whatever means were necessary, declaring that there are many Koreans in the Linkiang district plotting against Japan and although technically Japanese subjects, require watching.

RAIL VALUATION CUT BY BOARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Two tentative valuations for western railroads were announced today by the Interstate Commerce Commission in totals considerably below the corporate capitalization.

For the San Diego and Arizona Railway, as of June, 1921, the commissioner's valuation was $10,323,376. The company's capitalization is $31,980,348, and its book investment is $13,009,000.

For the Rio Grande Southern, as of June, 1921, the commission's valuation was $6,273,000, while its capitalization on the same date was $9,295,427, and its book investment was $8,520,000. Both companies will be given an opportunity to protest the tentative figures before they are declared final.

WOMEN REPORT LOSS OF $30,000 IN JEWELS

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Mrs. James B. Smith, 35 years of age, wife of the chief surgeon in the St. Louis Medical University, and Mrs. Mildred Cummings, wife of David Cummings, wealthy contractor and merchant of Long Beach, L. I., reported to the police early this morning that they had been robbed of jewelry worth $30,000 by two unknown bandits, who forced their car to the curb and stripped them of the gems.

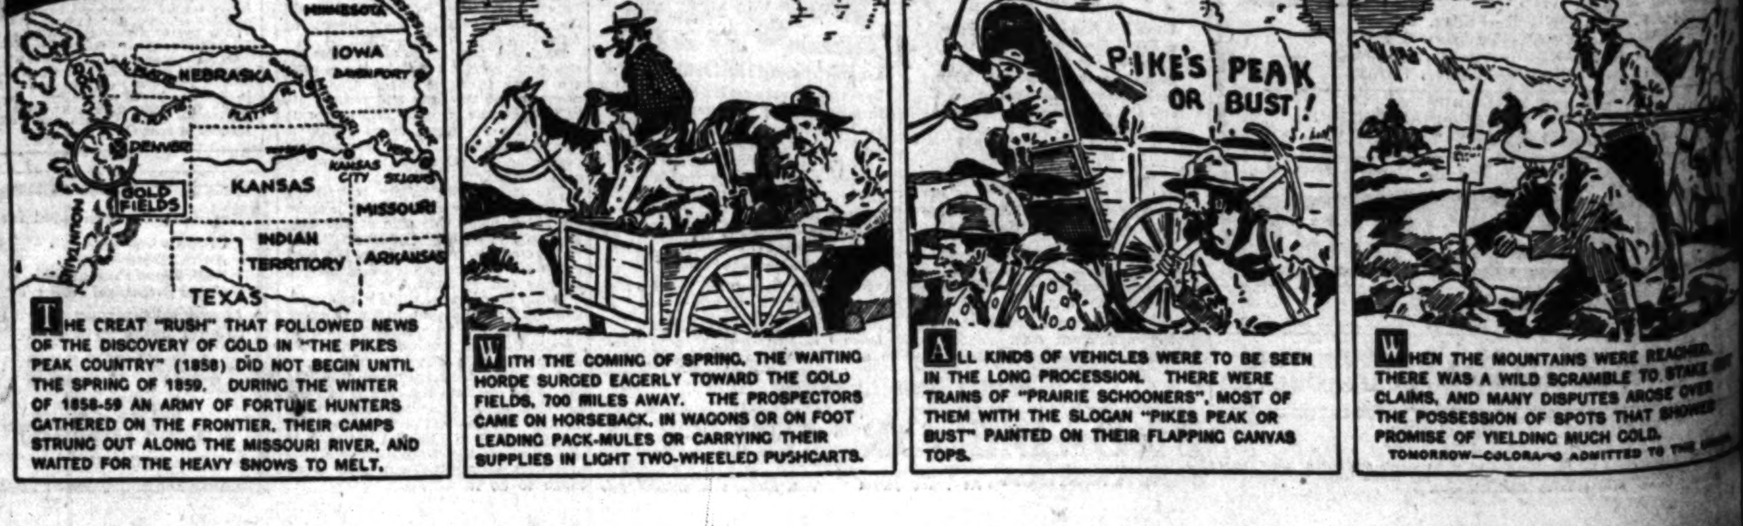
OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 786 The Colorado Gold Rush. by J. CARROLL MANSFIEL



THE GREAT "RUSH" THAT FOLLOWED NEWS OF THE DISCOVERY OF GOLD IN "THE PIKES PEAK COUNTRY" (1858) DID NOT BEGIN UNTIL THE SPRING OF 1859. DURING THE WINTER OF 1858-59 AN ARMY OF FORTUNE HUNTERS GATHERED ON THE FRONTIER. THEIR CAMPS STRUNG OUT ALONG THE MISSOURI RIVER, AND WAITED FOR THE HEAVY SNOWS TO MELT.

WITH THE COMING OF SPRING, THE WAITING HORDE SURGED EAGERLY TOWARD THE GOLD FIELDS, 700 MILES AWAY. THE PROSPECTORS CAME ON HORSEBACK, IN WAGONS OR ON FOOT LEADING PACK-MULES OR CARRYING THEIR SUPPLIES IN LIGHT TWO-WHEELED PUSHCARTS.

ALL KINDS OF VEHICLES WERE TO BE SEEN IN THE LONG PROCESSION. THERE WERE TRAINS OF "PRAIRIE SCHOONERS", MOST OF THEM WITH THE SLOGAN "PIKES PEAK OR BUST" PAINTED ON THEIR FLAPPING CANVAS TOPS.

WHEN THE MOUNTAINS WERE REACHED, THERE WAS A WILD SCRAMBLE TO STAKE CLAIMS, AND MANY DISPUTES AROSE OVER THE POSSESSION OF SPOTS THAT SHOWED PROMISE OF YIELDING MUCH GOLD.

Davis Cup Stars Clash in Finals of Seabright Tennis Tournament

SEABRIGHT (N. J.) Aug. 4. (AP)—The cannon ball strokes of Big Bill Tilden and the bullet drives of Francis T. Hunter today carried the pair to the final round of the men's singles in the annual lawn tennis tournament here.

Still more formidable when paired together, the two also gained the final round in doubles, and seemed destined to add the coveted Seabright tandem bowl to the doubles championship of England, which they won in their tour of Europe earlier this summer.

BILL TILDEN

In the singles final today, Tilden did not need to extend himself to defeat George Lott of Chicago, but Hunter caught a Tartar in Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa. Tilden won in straight sets at 6-2, 6-4, to remove the stain

THEIR CROWNS IN DANGER

George Herman Ruth, the first, and William T. Tilden, II, have their worries these balmy summer afternoons. Ruth, the heretofore undisputed Sulton of Swat, is now trailing Lou Gehrig, a team-mate, by three in the matter of pounding out home runs. Tilden has been beaetn on quite a few occasions recently by the strong French netmen and will have quite a battle on his hands this summer keeping the Davis Cup and the American tennis crown from sailing over the sea. This picture shows the Bambino trying out the tennis "racket" with Tilden while they were out here making movies this spring.

DIEGEL TOPS GOLF FIELD

Yankee Star's Card Shows Five Strokes Under Par in Canadian Tourney

TORONTO (Ont.) Aug. 4. (AP) Leo Diegel of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., led a field of 155 competitors over the first eighteen holes for the Canadian open-golf championship here today. His two 34s represent a card that is five strokes under par for the stiff Toronto Golf Club course. The 68 was two strokes better than George Christ of Rochester, N. Y., who finished the day in second place.

In a tie for third place was Tommy Armour, the United States open champion, and Al Watrous of Grand Rapids, Mich., who gained 72s.

The championship is to be decided over seventy-two holes. There will be eighteen holes tomorrow and the final thirty-six Saturday.

Diegel held the Canadian open championship in 1924 and 1925.

OAKLAND HUMBLES SERAPHS

Takes Third Straight in Angel Series by Score of Four to Three

OAKLAND, Aug. 4.—Al Gould's fourth straight win on the hill for the Oaks also was the third straight trimming handed the Angels. The count was 4 to 3. By winning, the Oaks gained a full game in the Coast League race, because the Seals were blanked by the Missions across the bay.

PUDGY GOULD.

Manager Marty Krug, in an attempt to stop the Seraph slump, benched himself, shifted Brazill to third and brought Hood in from the garden to cover first, but it did not do any good.

Bill Piercy, who opposed Gould on the mound, helped to beat himself when he made a poor throw to first in the second inning. It put the Oaks in the lead.

The Angels started with one run in the second. Jahn singled and took third on another single by Hood. Cox hit into a double play in which Lary and Reese did some fast work, but Jahn scored on the play. With one out in the Oaks half, Fenton singled to center, and took second when Caveney beat out a hit to Mitchell. Bool hit an easy roller to Piercy, who threw low to first base and when the ball rolled out into right field, Fenton and Caveney scored.

EX-CHAMP FEELS SURE HE CAN STOP TUNNEY

Superb Physical Condition Bolsters Hopes; Reveals Startling Details of Philadelphia Fight

BY PAUL LOWRY

"I'll regain my title by a knockout."

In an exclusive interview Jack Dempsey, challenger, yesterday made this bold prediction about the outcome of his bout with Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, in Chicago next month, and at the same time revealed amazing and hitherto unpublished details of his deplorable physical condition at the time he entered the ring with Tunney last fall.

The day before the battle of the Sesqui Dempsey weighed 196 pounds but on the day of the bout he scaled 187 pounds in the offices of the Philadelphia commission. Overnight Dempsey lost nearly ten pounds from an attack of dysentery.

JACK DEMPSEY

Between the time Dempsey weighed in and the time he entered the ring at night Floyd Fitzsimmons, bosom pal of the ex-champion, declares Dempsey lost additional poundage—that he did not weigh over 183 pounds when he opened the battle with Tunney.

THE TIP-OFF

According to Fitzsimmons it was the news of Dempsey's condition leaking out of the Philadelphia commission's offices htat furnished the tip-off which sent Tunney money on the market at the last minute. It was then that Abe Attell and the other smart gamblers all went for Tunney. Dempsey's true weight was never announced from the ring.

Dempsey was a very sick man when

PROUT PASSES AWAY IN EAST AFTER LONG ILLNESS; SPORT WORLD LOSES VETERAN LEADER

BOSTON, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—William C. Prout, president of the American Olympic council and one of the best-known amateur athletic leaders in the United States, passed away at his home here today after a prolonged illness of three months. He was 40 years of age.

Prout was well known for his work along several lines of endeavor and took a leading part in the affairs of the Knights of Columbus for many years. At the time of his death, he was a member of the supreme board of directors of the national order. His position was one of a number which he had held at various times in the national order.

Taking a prominent place as an athlete during his college career, Prout early took his place as a member of the Boston Athletic Association. He served at various times on many A.A.U. committees. His controversy over Charley Paddock's amateur standing brought him considerable recognition.

As a leader in athletics, Prout's death comes as a severe blow to amateur sports. He was in the prime of life and actively interested in athletics up until the time of his illness.

Prout was well known as a lawyer in this city, where he held a large practice.

HEENEY WINS FROM GORMAN ON FOUL; ROPER DUPLICATES

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—Tom Heeney, New Zealand heavyweight, won from Bud Gorman of Kenosha, Wis., on a foul in the third round of the ten-round feature of a heavyweight carnival at Madison Square Garden tonight. Gorman was warned by the referee several times before the final left to the body brought disqualification. Heeney weighed 194½; Gorman, 200.

Jack Roper

Heeney had a wide margin on points when the bout ended after one minute and seventeen seconds of battling in the third. A low left dropped the New Zealander at the close of the first session, but he was unhurt and continued without a count.

Gorman's sole offensive effort was a left hook to the head and body that had little effect on the rugged husky from "down under." The fans booed the decision for several minutes.

Monte Munn of Lincoln, Neb., knocked out Pat Lester, giant heavyweight from Tucson, Ariz., in the first round of a ten-round semifinal. Munn weighed 214, against Lester's 245. Monte floored Lester with jolts to the jaw.

After counting eight and five on the first two, the referee merely called for assistance and dragged the huge Lester away at the third crashing fall.

EAST VS. WEST GRID GAME PLANNED FOR LOCAL PREPS

An East vs. West high-school football game to be played in the Coliseum some time this winter for the purpose of raising funds to finance athletes to the eastern try-outs and to send the successful candidates to the Olympic Games meet in Antwerp in 1928, was the proposal of a delegation which appeared before the Board of Education yesterday afternoon.

The eyes of Europe will be upon the candidates from Southern California in the Antwerp meet, according to Robert E. Weaver, president of the Southern Pacific A.A.U., and for that reason

Voigt Eligible to Compete in Amateur Ranks

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—George J. Voigt, sensational Washington golfer, today was declared eligible for competition in the national amateur championship and absolved of any charges of violation of the rules of the United States Golf Association.

In the name of the executive committee, Secretary H. H. Ramsay announced that the entry of the winner of the north and south and Mason and Dixon amateur titles had been accepted for the amateur championship.

The committee's action was in connection with the acceptance of entries for the amateur championship, beginning August 22 at the Minnekahda Club, Minneapolis. After he was declared ineligible by the District of Columbia Golf Association to participate in the district amateur championship, his status was investigated by Secretary Ramsay, who reported to the executive committee. Charges made by the District Golf Association were not made public, but it was understood that the golfer was

LATZO TO BOX HERE

Scranton Miner Agrees to Meet Colima or Hudkins in Olympic Auditorium Next Month

Paddy Mullins has accepted terms for Pete Latzo, who lost the welterweight title to Joe Dundee recently, to box a September date at the Olympic with either Ace Hudkins or Bert Colima.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams received a confirming wire from Mullins yesterday. Either Hudkins or Colima would be a natural with Latzo. Colima would probably have to do 154 pounds for the match. Wadhams wants the bout for September 13 or 20, since he is booked up solidly to that time.

PETE LATZO

The Olympic will show three ten-round bouts Tuesday night featuring Ernie Owens vs. Jake Kilrain, Danny Kramer vs. Dario Barron and Cliff Ramies vs. Leo Mitchell.

Kilrain is the black heavyweight that George Godfrey couldn't knock out in ten rounds and has been one of the few opponents sent against the Black Shadow who stayed the limit out here.

Ramies is a new face at the big club. He is a Mexican light-heavy who has compiled a formidable record at the smaller show houses around the State.

He has had fifty-five knockouts, won nine decisions, lost four times, won once on a foul and has one kayo chalked up against him. Ramies claims he knocked himself out when he went down from a slip and struck his head on the floor. In a rematch Ramies knocked out the same opponent in five rounds.

Ramies meets a tough fellow in Mitchell. A few nights ago Mitchell defeated Kid Mexico, having him on

Heathcote's Triple Wins for Cubs in Eighth; Detroit Bumps Yanks Again

CHARLEY ROOT TURNS IN NINETEENTH WIN OF YEAR

Bruins Bump Braves, 2 to 1, in Hot Tilt; Pirates Down Phillies Twice; Giants Beat Reds

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Heathcote's triple in the eighth inning after Adams and English had walked kept Chicago in first place today, the Cubs nosing out Boston, 5 to 4, and giving Charley Root his nineteenth victory for the season. It was the fifth consecutive victory for the Cubs.

CHARLEY ROOT

Chicago hit Genewich opportunely, forcing his retirement in the fourth inning with the score tied, the Braves having bunched hits off Root in the second and third innings. Root settled down until the eighth, when a base on balls, followed by a sacrifice and a single broke the tie putting Boston in front again. R. Smith, who replaced Genewich, grew unsteady in the Cubs' half of the eighth and Heathcote's blow decided the game. The Braves rallied in their half of the ninth and had the bases filled with two out but Farrell was unable to deliver.

BUCS NAB TWO

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Aug. 4. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates drew half a game closer to the league-leading Chicago Cubs by taking two games from Philadelphia today, 8 to 5, and 7 to 3. The Cubs now lead by one full game.

Ray Kremer hurled the Pirates to victory in the second game, and aided his own cause with two singles and a home run. The opener was a hard-hitting contest, which the Corsairs snatched out of the fire with a four-run rally in the seventh inning. Scores:

ROBINS ON TOP

ST. LOUIS, July 4. (AP)—Timely hitting helped Brooklyn down the world champion Cardinals today by 4 to 2. Clark started in the box for the Robins and was relieved in the seventh, when a St. Louis rally threatened.

Bob McGraw, formerly on the Brooklyn staff, was pounded for ten hits by his ex-team-mates in six and one-third innings, when he gave way to Reinhart. Keen evetually finished the game for the Cards. Score:

GIANTS ANNEX

CINCINNATI, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Giants observed the return of John McGraw from a scouting expedition by whipping the Reds today in a series' opener by 4 to 1. Larry Benton, who was born here, went the distance in the box for New York and allowed but six safeties. Pete Donohue made his first start in a month for Cincinnati but gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh. New York has won six of eight games on the present road trip through the West. Score:

NEW GRID BOOKS ARRIV[illegible] [illegible]OR FANS

The first shipment of Spalding's 1927 football rule books to reach Los Angeles, was received yesterday at the B. H. Dyas Company, it was announced by H. E. Gillett, manager of the athletic department at Dyas's. "Never before have I seen such interest in football as this year," said Gillett. "We have been asked for and about the new rule books for several weeks and although this first shipment is fairly large they will not last long at the rate they are going."

McCLENAHAN COPS RACE

DETROIT, Aug. 4. (AP)—Leo McClenahan of the Wyandotte Boat Club won the junior 145-pound singles race at the national amateur championship rowing regatta here today. The time for the mile and one-half was 7m. 44 1-4s. The Wyandotte Club also won the junior 145-pound four-man race.

SOX SOCK SOX

BOSTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Red Sox made it two straight from Chicago and marked up their third successive victory by defeating the White Sox today, 2 to 1. The winning run came in the eighth from Hofmann's single, Weiser's sacrifice and Myer's grounder which seemed an easy catch, but bounded high and went as a two-bagger. For five innings Jacobs held Boston hitless. Chicago had twelve left on base. In the fourth the White Sox made two doubles, drew a base on balls and had a man reach first on an error, but were unable to score. Score:

WEST AND EAST MEET IN TITLE OAR TILTS

DETROIT, Aug. 4. (AP)—Crack oarsmen from the West match strokes with crews from the East in the national amateur rowing association championship regatta, which got under way at the Wyandotte Boat Club course near here today.

The races will continue through Friday and Saturday.

EX-CHAMPIONS have great drawing power when it comes to the box office. Jack Dempsey is knocking all records for a loop and Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion, is going to show to a packed house tonight when he fights Bobby LaSalle in the semi-wind-up at the Hollywood American Legion stadium. The advance sale indicates one of these try-and-get-in situations at the stadium.

WOLGAST ON HAND

Willie Ritchie is attempting a comeback. He has never fought at Hollywood and the Movie City fight fans are anxious to see how Ritchie will stack up against a great youngster like Bobby LaSalle. The odds are on LaSalle to win and he probably will. Ritchie took the lightweight title from Ad Wolgast, and the great little Ad will be one of those present to see Ritchie's comeback.

The main event is a fight that can't miss for thrills. Young Nationalista has never yet thrown a bad fight at Hollywood. He is on a par with Johnny Adams when it comes to giving the stadium fans a run for their money. The Filipino has a tough fight on his hands. Benny (Kid) Carter isn't as well known in this city as some other fighters, but he has more ability than nine-tenths of the kids his weight.

Nationalista is entering the ring on the short end. This means Carter is highly thought of by fight touts. The Filipino is a bad baby to knock over and it makes no never mind to him who the favorite is.

Great things are in sight for Bobby LaSalle if he beats Ritchie. Jack Kearns may grab LaSalle. Bobby hasn't any manager, but he has ability enough to get somewhere in the fight racket if he is properly handled. Kearns will be at the ringside tonight. Ritchie arrives in town this morning and will weigh in this afternoon. He is confident he'll win.

Jimmy Piela comes back for another shot. Herbert Turchi is picked to beat Piela. There are a couple of four-rounders that look like the goods among the less-experienced boys. The gallery will be thrown open at 7 o'clock and first come will be first served, as there are no reserved seats in the stadium gallery.

FAMOUS ATHLETE DIES

OWEN CARROLL HURLS VICTORY

Hugmen Get Five Hits Off Former Collegian

Washington Nabs Twin Bill from Browns, 5-1, 11-2

Tribe Blanks A's; Red Sox Nose Out Jacobs, 2-1

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—Detroit made it two out of three in the current series with the Yankees by a victory today, 6 to 2. Owen Carroll, former Holy Cross star, yielding only five hits to the New York sluggers. Ruether suffered his third defeat of the season. He was hit freely and knocked out in the ninth. Heilmann led the Bengal batting attack with a triple, a double, two singles and a base on balls in five times up.

Ban Johnson's boys' day was observed and the championship contest was preceded by a game between two teams of boys managed by Babe Ruth and George Moriarty. The attendance, exclusive of several thousand small boys who were the guests of the Yankees, was about 20,000. Score:

TWO FOR SOLONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—After Tom Zachary had held his former team-mates, the St. Louis Browns, to four hits today and had turned in a 5-to-1 victory, Thurston hurled Washington to an 11-to-2 win in the second game of a double-header.

Thurston was touched for nine hits but he kept them scattered, thirteen Browns dying on bases. Gaston yielded seventeen hits in the nightcap. Scores:

BUCKEYE WINS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians blanked the Philadelphia Athletics today, 3 to 0. Garland Buckeye, reinstated yesterday after a four-day suspension, held the Athletics to five scattered hits. Lefty Grove hurled well, but was a victim of two-baggers, the Indians making five off his delivery. Joey Sewell made three of the doubles, driving in one run and scoring both the others. Score:

ONLY HERO ADVANCES TO DOG DERBY RANKS

TIA JUANA HOT SPRINGS, Aug. 4. Only Hero, James Regan's year-old black dog, nominated himself for the Tia Juana Hot Springs derby by winning the five-sixteenths elimination race today after a gruelling struggle with seven fleet greyhounds. It was an exciting battle for position, with the Regan kennel colors flashing by the stand a length ahead of Mac McGrath. In the Savoy stakes for the Eddie Lawrence trophy, Gold Leaf, a consistent winner, equaled the track record for the quarter mile in beating Rocky Hill by three lengths. Catch Me, a rank outsider, at 45 to 1, was another feature today when he won the second race ahead of the favorite. Results:

First race, three-sixteenths—Dallas Fashion, Sacramento Lass and So Sure. Time—19 4-5.

Second, three-sixteenths—Catch Me, Golden Tipp and Scamp. Time—20.

Third, one-quarter—Promise Me, Steam Beer and Little Bob. Time—27.

Fourth, futurity—Mong O' Miss, Coffee George and Royal Clair. Time—20.

Fifth, derby elimination, five-sixteenths—Only Hero, Mac McGrath and Pat O'Brady. Time—32 1-5s.

Sixth, Savoy stakes, one-quarter—Gold Leaf, Rocky Hill and Coyotes Hope. Time—25 4-5.

Seventh, three-sixteenths—Bell Racket, Irish Nancy and Flying Cloud. Time—19 2-5.

Eighth, one-quarter—Moon Mist, Shenandoah and Pancho Villa. Time—26 3-5.

PORTLAND DUCKS MAY TRAIN IN SANTA ANA

SANTA ANA, Aug. 4.—President Tom L. Turner and Secretary Roy Mack, the "big guns" of the Portland baseball club, are the men who will have the final say so as to whether the Ducks train at the Orange county fairgrounds next spring, will come to Santa Ana early in September to investigate the local site. This information was given a committee of representative citizens and business men who waited on Manager Ernie Johnson, the fiery Laguna Beach fellow. That Turner and Mack are interested in the Santa Ana proposition is putting it mildly but they intend to go over the situation thoroughly, being sure of their ground before they have any announcements to make.

Santa Ana officialdom and fandom may rest assured that if Portland decides to train here and Turner makes such an announcement nothing will hold up the deal.

TILDEN, HUNTER IN NET FINALS

of a defeat by Lott ni Florida early in the spring, but Hunter was carried to deuce and needed all his forehand-drive power to win by 7-5, 3-6, 6-2.

Later Tilden and Hunter won their semifinal match from Louis Thalheimer, one of the country's leading doubles players, and Charles S. Garland, a seasoned veteran of Davis Cup play. The score was 6-2, 6-2.

Swinging his racquet languidly and looking more a spectator than a player except when the ball was bounded his way, Tilden allowed Hunter to carry the brunt of the work.

In the other doubles semifinal another prospective Davis Cup pair won out. R. Norris Williams, now teamed with Lewis N. White, gave promise of making things hot for the Tilden-Hunter combination by the way they flattened the young Californian, John Doeg, and Arnold W. Jones of Providence. The score was 6-4, 7-5.

Semifinals in women's singles saw easy victories for the favorites, Miss Helen Jacobs of California and Mrs. Molla Mallory, the national champion. Miss Jacobs defeated Miss Eleanor Goss, third ranking player in the country, 6-3, 6-2. Mrs. Mallory outgeneraled Mrs. A. H. Chapin to win at 6-4, 6-0.

The final between Tilden and Hunter for the singles bowl will be fought out tomorrow. The women's doubles finals will be played immediately afterward.

Finals in women's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles will be ployed on Saturday.

HEENEY TAKES BOUT ON FOUL

Time of the round was two minutes and three seconds.

Jimmy Byrne, Louisville (Ky.) southpaw, knocked out Italian Jack Herman of Yonkers in the fifth round of a ten-rounder with a left to the stomach. The fans booed the constant clinching that marred the fracas until Byrne cut loose in the fifth. Byrne weighed 163½; Herman, 191½.

Jack Roper, 190, of Los Angeles, won from Georgie Smith, 184, of New Jersey, in the third round of a six-round preliminary.

WEINERT SHINES AS BELLS BLANK SEALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Phil Weinert, husky Mission left-hander, pitched good ball today while his team-mates turned in some timely hitting and fielding to help blank the Seals, 4 to 0. The Seals outhit their rivals, chalking up nine to five, but they were kept fairly well scattered. Hooper, Mission manager, romped in right field and contributed to the victory with a home run. Score:

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Timely and hard hitting, coupled with five Sacramento errors, gave Seattle an 8-to-3 victory, their first of the series here today. French's triple with the bases full in the sixth netted the three Solon runs. The Tribe picked on Rachac and Vinci for thirteen hits. The score:

DEMPSEY MAY AID BAKER FOR CLASH

Sergt. Sammy Baker may have the wise counsel of Jack Dempsey in training for his go with Mushy Callahan at Wrigley Field August 29. Word emanating from the Webber-Baker headquarters has it that the ex-champion will spend a week at Soper's ranch, previous to the fight.

It is said the trip is, apparently, just a visit, Jack having trained at the Soper Ranch in Ojai, previous to his eastern departure in preparation for the Sharkey affair. Those who seem to be in on the know claim the New York sergeant is going to benefit considerably as a result of the "visit."

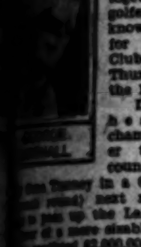
BY BILL WISE

son, ((Mammy! Mammy!) and Dempsey, big sock and swat Hollywood, have been tentatively signed by George Marshall to stage a ten-round medley, free-for-all, as one of the many features on the greatest get-together night golfers have ever known, scheduled for the Lakeside Club home, Thursday night, the 18th inst.



GEORGE MARSHALL

Dempsey, ex-heavyweight champ until after the referee counts "ten" Tunney in a Chicago ring next month, may to pass up the Lakeside affair a more sizable "fraction" predicted $2,000,000 purse, but went into active training for last night.

Marshall has been working unceasingly for several weeks past is prepared to offer the entertainment and program of the season to the select group of Lakeside members, and guests who to secure dinner reservations for the affair.

Reservations may be secured during the next few days by phoning the Lakeside club, HOlly-wood 4486.

GAINES READY TO DEFEND CITY GOLF CROWN AT GRIFFITH PARK

Jack Gaines of the Girard Golf and Country Club shot a 67 over his home course recently, on top of a course record score of 64 two weeks ago, and is practicing hard in an effort to retain his title of city champion in the tournament which starts next Monday over the Wilson course, Griffith Park. But when the players tee off in the qualifying round Monday and Tuesday in Ike Wentworth's city championship golf tournament Gaines will not be the only Girard entrant. Jess Puryear, Girard manager, announces that his club will enter eleven golfers in all whose handicaps are eight or less and in addition he hopes to have at least ten more higher rating members in the tourney.

OAKLAND AGAIN HUMBLES ANGELS fence by Truck Hannah of the Angels, tied the score in the third, but the Oaks took the lead again in their half when Arlett walked and Shinners chased him home with a double to the center-field fence. The Oaks made their last run in the fifth when Piercy hit Shinners in the ribs with a ball and Fenton doubled to the right-field gate.

Gould was in real trouble in the seventh when the Angels came within one run of tying the score. Jahn and Hood started with singles and Hood was out at second when Cox hit to Reese. Mitchell singled to right, scoring Jahn and when Arlett's throw to Fenton trapped Mitchell off the bag, Cox tried to score. He was thrown out by Lary, who handled Fenton's throw.

The Angels filled the bags in the eighth on a single by Sandberg, an infield hit by Weis, and an intentional walk to Jahn. Two were out at the time. Hood, who had already made two hits, fouled out to Fenton. Score:

EAST VS. WEST TILT PLANNED

as many athletes as possible should be sent to the 1928 Olympic Games.

"Since the next big meet in 1932 will be held here in Los Angeles, all the world will be thinking and talking California at the meet in Antwerp next year," Weaver said. "It will cost at least $100,000 to defray expenses of the candidates in the try-outs and to finance them overseas. The United States is the only nation participating in the Olympic Games that does not finance its representatives, and it is up to us to get the necessary money.

"Such a football contest as I have in mind would put every high-school boy on his toes to be a member of the team. We would see to it that the opposing team from the East should be made up of boys of the same age, weight and scholastic standing as those in our home team.

"We could fill the Coliseum at a price that would not only finance our 1928 candidates, but leave us a margin to begin our work for the big 1932 meet here, which will be the biggest international advertisement that Los Angeles has ever had."

Members of the board promised to consult with principals and coaches and to report its decision to the delegation within the next three weeks. Those who appeared before the board were D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Robert S. Weaver, Irving H. Hellman, Patrick C. Campbell and Dr. Edwin P. Ryland, general secretary of the Church Federation of Los Angeles.

charged with having profited indirectly from his skill at the game, through employment by Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher. Voigt said that he was employed by Mr. McLean as an assistant secretary and not as a golfer. He was formerly an employe of the Treasury Department.

PROGRAM COMPLETED FOR MAIN-STREET A.C.

Plenty of punch in every fight is what Promoter Carlo Curtis is offering Main-street A.C. fans tomorrow night. He completed his card yesterday, and each bout promises plenty of action. Joe Blanda and Kid Young will open the evening in a four-rounder, followed by Tommy Cleary, who is climbing up the ladder again, and Jack Hanlon in one event; with Jackie Mandel and Bobby Garcia in the other. Rosalio Caballero and Kid Payo, the main eventers, wound up training yesterday, each predicting a knockout victory for their rematch. Mushy Callahan will start training for his bout with Sammy Baker at the Main-street gym tomorrow.

CORBETT TACKLES MACK

JACK SURE HE CAN STOP GENE

he met Tunney last fall. He expects to be in the best condition of his life when he tangles with the champion next month. It is these two extremes—the low tide and the high tide of his physical condition—that form the basis of Dempsey's confidence in his ability to stop Tunney.

"I'm not going to pull a Jack Sharkey and make a punk prediction about the round in which I expect to stop Tunney," Dempsey said yesterday, "but I feel no hesitation in predicting that I will knock him out somewhere inside the ten-round limit.

"If you had felt as rotten as I did when I fought Tunney last September and as good as I did against Sharkey—and feeling better the farther I went—you would appreciate why I feel so confident in beating Tunney."

WIRES FOR CAMP

Having accepted Tex Rickard's ultimatum that the bout must be staged not later than September 22 Dempsey yesterday wired Leo P. Flynn, his business manager, to secure a training camp within twenty or twenty-five miles of Chicago.

It was at first proposed to have Dempsey train at Battle Creek, Mich., but Jack spiked this because Battle Creek is over 150 miles from Chicago and he believes this is unfair to the newspaper boys who would have a tough time galloping back and forth to their headquarters.

Dempsey says he isn't particular where the camp is located so long as it is near a golf course. Golf plays a big part in the Dempsey training campaign because golf is largely a game of timing and the ex-champ sees a great similarity in a short, well-timed swat to the pin and a short, well-timed swat to the liver.

WIFE BETTER

The condition of Estelle Taylor Dempsey has so improved, the ex-champion said, that his wife will be able to accompany him when he leaves for Chicago the 15th inst. She will stay in Chicago until after the fight, accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Fitzsimmons, although neither will see the fight.

In preparation for his forthcoming encounter Dempsey is working out here daily. One morning he is on the road over the Griffith Park hills, and the next morning he plays golf. And every other day at least he works in the private gym of Tom Mix on the Fox studio lot.

Yesterday the ex-champ played sixteen holes at Lakeside with George Marshall of the Fox company; Jerry Luvadis, his trainer, and a couple of newspaper men and was overjoyed when he shot two holes in a row in par figures.

CALLAHAN HERE FOR BAKER GO

uled to step into the Olympic Auditorium ring and take on Johnny Vacca for the third time.

Curiously enough, both punchers will be attempting comebacks. Callahan suffered a knockout at the hands of the esteemed sergeant in Chicago and is attempting to return to public favor much after the manner of Ace Hudkins, who took a bloody decision from Baker here, after being knocked out in New York.

La Barba lost two decisions to Vacca in nonchampionship fights in Boston and hopes to turn the tables on the easterner in a local engagement. Fidel is due at 2:15 over the Santa Fe lines

FORBES GIVEN NOD IN PASADENA BOUT

Frankie Forbes got the nod over Frankie Burns in the ten-round main event of the Pasadena Armory card last night. Tommy Thompson won by a technical knockout in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round semi-wind-up from Jimmy Lyall. Joe Clark defeated Bob Schureirer by a technical knockout in the fourth round of a scheduled six-round special. Eddie Reed outpointed Johnny Hayward in one four-rounder, and Happy Romero won from Kid Bobo by decision in the opener.

Medal Stars Defeated in Golf Tourney

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Favorites and medal stars fell rapidly in the first two-match rounds of the national public links golf championship at Ridgewood Club today, Carl Kaufman of Pittsburgh being the only one of this clique to survive. He won by the narrow margin of two up in the second round from I. R. Davis of St. Louis, after an easy victory in the morning over George Joyce of Philadelphia.

First of the idols to fall was Clark Morse of St. Louis, the 17-year-old lad who won the gold medal in the elimination rounds with 73-76—149. He lost in the initial match of the day to W. J. Palmer of Baltimore, 2 and 1. His conqueror fell later before Kendall Morrison of St. Joseph, Mo., who after finishing square with R. A. Bowker of Cihacgo in the first round, on the latter's protest of an offense by a caddy, won by decision of the committee, 4 and 3.

VINCINTINI FLOORS GLEASON IN SEVENTH

ERNIE JOHNSON DAY SUCCESS AS BEAVERS NOSE OUT STARS

Holley revived the rally with a single to center and then came Murphy's potent three-base drive to the center-field bricks. That poke somewhat changed the situation from a walk-away to a then pilfered his way to the half-way mark. Bigbee's hit to left put Prothro on third, from where he scored when Strand drove a long sacrifice fly to Twombly.

Yerkes aided his own cause with a run in the third when he singled, advanced to third on Johnson's bunt and Cissell's infield out, and scored on Branom's one-base shot to left.

TWO HITS WASTED

The Stars bunched a couple of hits off Yerkes in the fourth, but there were a couple of fly-outs sandwiched in between and an infield-out after, so the bingles produced nothing but a hope, which doesn't happen to count in the official score sheet.

Portland got its final run off Shellenback in the seventh when Strand singled to left, Yelle sacrificed and the efficient Mister Yerkes came through with another single that drove Strand home.

Les Sheehan opened the Hollywood ninth with a drive down the left-field line that should have been good for a double, but in this instance produced only one base. Vitt, batting for Frederick skyed to Bigbee, while Agnew, who pinched for Heath, forced Sheehan at second. Tom ball game, but Shellenback filed out so that was all.

"Cowbell" Charley, the noisiest baseball fan in this vicinity, bobbed up again after a long absence and helped root the Beavers to victory. After tiring of ringing his cowbell, Charley put on a special nasalphone solo, featuring "Marching Through Georgia," which didn't have any particular connection with the contest, inasmuch as this isn't a Civil War series, but he got a big hand for his efforts anyway. CHEERFUL CHAFF

BY TIMES READERS

WRITE FOR THE "MOVIES" AND WIN CASH PRIZES

The Los Angeles Times produces a popular fun reel called "Cheerful Chaff," consisting of the twelve best jokes submitted weekly by readers. Twelve $1 prizes are awarded each week, the names and addresses of winners together with prize-winning jokes appearing on the screen.

Everyone is invited to send jokes. No formal letter is necessary. Just jot down your jokes, as many as you wish, sign your name and address and mail to "Cheerful Chaff Editor," Los Angeles Times. Jokes for the screen must not exceed thirty words.

Meritorious jokes too long or otherwise not adapted for screen use, are accorded a place of honor on The Times comic page, receiving a souvenir of acknowledgment.

DIGEST OF NEW SHIP RATES OUT

Tariffs Analyzed by Member of Conference

Main Points of Intercoastal Pact Explained

Criticism of Shippers Also Given Answer

An analysis of the new tariff of the United States Intercoastal Conference, affecting rates on all commodities transported by coast-to-coast steamship lines, was yesterday completed by Fred A. Hooper, district manager of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, a conference member. Mr. Hooper's digest graphically illustrates the salient points of this important rate change, which will directly affect the entire American Merchant Marine.

The new tariff, approximating an upward trend of 10 per cent, was effected with the organization of the United States Intercoastal Conference to permanently stabilize the intercoastal fleet—regarded as the backbone of the American Merchant Marine.

Mr. Hooper says that the long series of rate wars and shipping failures since 1922 in the intercoastal field was due to the unnatural condition following the World War, when new, inexperienced companies were able to secure, at bargain-counter rates, entire fleets for coast-to-coast operation from the huge wartime fleet of the United States Shipping Board. These new concerns disrupted tariffs and operating agreements so thoroughly that, in an effort to clear the situation, the Shipping Board called a conference in 1923. A new conference was formed, but only six lines stood by the agreements; all others soon resuming the rate-slashing.

BASIS OF RATES

Ship operators and shippers alike became so dissatisfied with conditions that this spring at Hot Springs, Ark., the United States Intercoastal Conference was organized with a 100 per cent membership and the new tariff, which went into effect the 1st inst., was adopted.

"The basis of this tariff was practically the rates of 1923, which, in turn, were the prewar rates of 1914," says Mr. Hooper in his digest, "so that the tariff which has just been placed in the hands of the public cannot be considered exorbitant, arbitrary, or out of line.

"The criticism of some shippers is undoubtedly based on the fact that here and there where some individual rate through competition was beaten down to an extremely low basis, has again been put back to the point where it was in years gone by. Under these circumstances, the rates in some instances have the appearance of being raised out of proportion from the percentage standpoint when compared with other rates which were not beaten down.

STEEL CITED

"Take the steel rates, for example, which commodities constitute the heaviest tonnage of any individual commodity moving. In 1923 the iron and steel rates were placed on what was called a 40-cent basis. During the past four years, however, many lines—for reasons outlined above—dropped to 20 cents per 100 pounds, and perhaps in some instances less.

"The new tariff again brings the steel basis back to 40 cents, therefore, from a percentage standpoint, it may seem arbitrary to advance rates 100 per cent, but when the conditions surrounding the advance are understood, shippers will realize arbitrary action was not taken by the steamship companies. All rates were not beaten down in proportion to the basic rates, and in many instances the new rates show only a 10 per cent increase.

"When it is considered that the rates on approximately 25,000 commodities were considered, it might be reasonable to expect that an occasional rate might be out of line."

ARBITERS TO ACT

To meet such exigencies, a neutral rate committee has been formed by the United States Intercoastal Conference to settle all differences between ship operators and shippers. The head of this committee is Robert C. Thackara, formerly vice-president of the Luckenbach Steamship Company, and one of the foremost authorities in intercoastal shipping matters.

"The conference is divided into three classes," Mr. Hooper's analysis continues, "Class A lines, those whose sailing schedules provide for weekly or more frequent sailings; and Class B and C lines, with schedules of less frequency. The loading ports on the Atlantic have also been determined by the conference, ports having been apportioned to give the various Atlantic ports the best service and which will avoid a conflict of sailings.

"A differential of 5 cents a hundred pounds has also been established on the base or rough commodities in favor of the Class B and C lines. However, this differential does not exist in high-class cargo, for example the 5 cents differential applies on practically all of the iron and steel commodities."

RULES CHANGE

Mr. Hoopers says that one of the most important of the rule changes is that of the consolidation rule, whereby groups of shippers or consignees of similar commodities have heretofore moved their freight under the name of such an association or one consignee. The rule now provides that an additional charge of 10 cents per 100 pounds will be assessed as a consolidating charge at the Atlantic port and that a segregation charge of 10 cents will be charged at the Pacific port of destination. The steamship companies feel that they are entitled to these nominal charges on account of the huge amount of clerical, stevedoring, handling and assorting work necessary for such small consolidated lots.

A change has also been made in the diversion or "on carrying" rule. Heretofore, the shipper could divert part of his shipment to next port beyond payment by an additional 25 cents per 100, on the first portion diverted. Now, he will have to pay 10 cents per 100 additional on the entire shipment.

"In the final analysis," says Mr. Hooper, "the rates now in effect are practically on the same basis as those of 1914 and 1923, and, where shippers feel that they have not been given just consideration the conference has provided the necessary machinery through the new rate committee, before which their difficulties can be ironed out."

AIR MAIL SCHEDULE

Now in effect: Universal postage rate of 10 cents per half ounce anywhere in the United States or Canada applies on all matters sent via Air Mail.

Transcontinental air mail service to and from Southern California is operated in both directions daily, leaving Air Mail Airport (Los Angeles) at 7:25 a.m. Pacific Time and arriving at Hadley Field (New Brunswick, N. J.) at 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time the second day. Arrival at the New York City postoffice is one hour later.

Westbound departure from Hadley Field is at 12:15 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, with arrival at Los Angeles at 5:25 p.m., Pacific Time, the second day.

The Los Angeles daily closing for air mail is 6:30 a.m. at Arcade Station and at 5:45 a.m. or a little later at the air mail letter boxes, painted red, white and blue, and located in various parts of the city.

Items for the air mail are restricted to not more than fifty (50) pounds in weight and to not more than eighty-four (84) inches in length and girth combined.

PACIFIC COAST ROUTE

Collections are made at all air mail boxes not later than 9 p.m. and at the Arcade Station postoffice not later than 10:35 p.m.

The route will be operated on the following schedule: Northbound, leave Los Angeles, 12:01 a.m.; arrive at Bakersfield 1:45 a.m.; Fresno, 3:30 a.m.; San Francisco, 5:30 a.m.; Seattle, 2 p.m. Southbound, leave Seattle, 11 p.m.; Portland, 7 a.m.; San Francisco, 1:15 p.m.; Fresno, 3:15 p.m.; Bakersfield, 4:45 p.m. Arrive Los Angeles, 6:15 p.m.

TANKERS IN CLOSE CALL DURING HEAVY FOG

The Shipping Board tanker Salina and the Standard tanker District of Columbia fouled each other slightly in the Santa Barbara channel midway between Los Angeles and San Francisco late the 3rd inst., during a heavy fog. Both proceeded, the Salina anchoring in Los Angeles outer harbor for a survey which revealed several plates dented on her port bow. The District of Columbia, which continued to San Francisco with black oil suffered trivial damages. Capt. E. R. Smith was commanding the latter, Capt. L. Zuwie the Salina, which was in ballast from Seattle.

A second minor brush occurred in West Basin yesterday morning when the Tidewater Oil tanker David McKelvey scraped the side of the Chile Steamship Company tanker Chilsco while the latter was loading at the Associated Oil Company's docks. The latter suffered a bent boat davit and damaged life boat, the former a bent plate.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University and Frank Miller, manager of Riverside's famous hostelry, Mission Inn, are returning on the liner City of Los Angeles this morning from the Hawaiian Islands. Dr. Wilbur was an American delegate to the Pacific Relations Conference which recently brought representatives of all nations bordering the Pacific together at Honolulu. The liner is due at the breakwater at 8:30 a.m. to pass plant quarantine, and will reach her dock at Wilmington at 11 a.m. She has 325 first-class and twenty-six third class travelers and an unusually heavy cargo of canned and fresh pineapples, molasses, sugar, pine bran, general merchandise, autos and mail. The liner Calawaii of the same line will depart tomorrow noon for Hawaii.

Lieutenant-Commander Phillip B. Eaton, engineer officer at Coast Guard Base No. 17, San Pedro, received orders from Washington yesterday detaching him from the local base and assigning him to duty on the Coast Guard destroyer Wainwright, to which he will report at Boston September 1. He has been stationed here sixteen months, during which the fleet's mechanical efficiency is said to have attained its highest mark. His duties will be taken over by Chief Machinist Barnett Rashin, who has been transferred from the cutter Tamaroa to shore duty. Machinist Charles Sreechley has been transferred from the new cutter Northland to the Tamaroa, reporting two days ago.

Municipal and civic leaders of Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Pedro were guests at a reception given aboard the Japanese government training ship Shintoku Maru by Capt. K. Itsuno, officers and cadets yesterday afternoon. The ship will sail for Japan tomorrow following the arrival of the Japanese light cruisers Iwate and Asama with 202 midshipmen, after two weeks in port. She carries more than 100 cadets of the Kobe merchant-marine school.

Officers and men of Base 17 observed the Coast Guard's 137th anniversary yesterday. The Coast Guard was organized August 4, 1790, under an act signed by President Washington, forming the first armed sea force of the young republic. Special liberty was given all the personnel who could be spared for the day.

FINANCIAL

POWER UTILITY MAKES REPORT

San Joaquin Company Issues Fiscal Year Figures

Gain in Gross Earnings of $609,055.53 Revealed

Net Declines $37,798 Due to Depreciation Write-Off

Net earnings of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation for the twelve months ended June 30, last, after all charges, including depreciation reserves but before preferred dividends, amounted to $1,846,115.95, as compared with $1,883,914.34 in the preceding twelve months' period, according to the company's semiannual report, issued yesterday by A. Emery Wishon, general manager.

This represents a decrease of $37,798.39 in net earnings over the preceding year, but the reduction is due to an increase in depreciation write-off in the period just passed. For the six months ended June 30, last, the company wrote off $1,136,763.06 for depreciation, as against $1,025,835.21 in the preceding twelve months, an increase of $110,927.85, or more than 10 per cent.

Gross earnings of the corporation for the year ended June 30, last, amounted to $9,087,830.49, an increase of $609,055.53, or more than 7 per cent over the aggregate earnings of $8,478,774.86 in the preceding year. Gross operating revenue amounted to $8,893,915.87, and sundry earnings $193,914.62.

For the year just passed total operating expenses amounted to $4,102,094.93, an increase of 16.05 per cent over the aggregate expenses in the preceding year. This increase was due largely to greater use of purchased power and substantial increases in both State and Federal taxes, Mr. Wishon said.

Following is the income account of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation for the twelve months ended June 30, 1927, with comparison with the same period of 1926:

Gross operating revenue....	$8,893,915	$8,296,377
Operating expenses	4,102,094	3,534,619
Net from operation.........	4,791,820	4,761,758
Sundry earnings	193,914	182,397
Total net income	4,985,735	4,944,155
Total interest charges..	2,334,036	2,257,661
Less interest charged to capital	331,180	223,186
Net interest deductions...	2,002,856	2,034,414
Net before depreciation...	2,982,879	2,909,749
Depreciation reserves	1,136,763	1,025,835
Net income for divid..ends	$1,846,115	$1,883,914

OIL SHARES FEATURE OF NEW RALLY

Standard of California and California Petroleum Up Sharply; Edison Gains

Oil stocks featured activity and the advance on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, the entire list moving into the highest ground in many weeks. Standard Oil of California added 2 3-8 points to a high and close at 56 5-8, while California Petroleum advanced 1 3-8 points to a close at 24 5-8. Union Oil of California closed 1 1-8 points higher at 44 1-4, after touching a high of 44 3-4. Richfield added 1-2 of a point to 20 1-8, and Rio Grande 3-4 of a point to 16. Pan American Western advanced 1 1-2 points to 24 1-2.

Bancitaly Corporation closed fractionally lower at 89 1-2, after moving off to 89 1-4 in the early trading. Bank of Italy added 3-8 of a point to 184. California Bank and First National Bank were firm at 440 and 435, respectively. Los Angeles Investment added a cent to 2.59 and closed firm at 2.58. Broadway Department Store preferred added 1-4 of a point to 100 1-4.

Southern California Edison common opened 3-8 of a point higher at 36 and closed fractionally net higher at 35 3-4, with a heavy volume of trading. The preferred issues were steady.

Idaho Metals touched a new high at 1.43 and closed firm at 1.42 to lead trading in the mines. Big Jim added 1-2 of a cent to 35, and Boundary Cone held at 4 1-2.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—After prices had broken 90 points on the average on yesterday's heavy selling movement from Tuesday's closing decline, there was a sharp rally from the opening today. It was started by a good rally at Liverpool and a renewal of good trade buying here and active covering of shorts.

The rally extended to between 50 and 60 points with October contracts to about 17.45, December 17.70, January about 17.80, March near 18c and May to 18 1-8c. The lowest prices made at the close yesterday were: October 16.95, December 17.18, January 17.23, March 17.47 and May 17.62.

Those prices had shown a maximum break of between 218 and 225 points from the season's high quotations reached on July 26 when the June and July bull movement culminated in a heavily overbought and much overbulled market.

Such an important decline as $11 per bale in such a short time naturally put the market in a position for a good rally. It started from the opening today with a rise of over 50 points up to 2 o'clock, being equivalent to a recovery of $2.50 per bale from the low prices made at the close on yesterday's late decline which had marked four successive days of sharply falling prices, mostly from scattered local, Liverpool and Southern liquidation.

The Liverpool rally today was very pronounced and therefore encouraging to both the local and the New Orleans trade bulls. So was the sharp return in the stock market from the severe break of early yesterday.

Liverpool futures had gone off 35 to 40 English points during the morning from yesterday's 40-point break, due to further liquidation left over from yesterday in that market.

Closing cables, however, were firm, recording a recovery of all of this forenoon decline, with the last prices up 1 to 2 points from the closing of yesterday, due to liquidation there having run its course and a renewal of trade and continental buying.

More unfavorable weather in the cotton belt with unwelcome heavy rains in the Memphis, Little Rock, Atlanta, New Orleans and Oklahoma districts, received much attention and were helpful in holding most of the rally in the late trading.

GOOD OMEN IN OIL INDUSTRY

BY CARL P. MILLER

If the movement of oil prices in the various markets yesterday is a basis from which to judge, the oil industry is facing a much more rosy future than it has faced in several months. Oil stocks got under way at the very opening of the markets yesterday and advanced sharply to the highest level in more than four months. California shares in particular gave a good account of themselves.

Numerous reasons were advanced for the buoyancy of the oil stocks, but the most logical is found in the production curtailment order which goes into effect this morning in the Seminole area. All of the operators of the greater Seminole field have signed the curtailment agreement, providing for proration of the flow of oil from the more than 600 wells in the area, to bring about a daily average output of 450,000 barrels. Production in this field recently reached a peak of 527,000 barrels daily.

Seminole has proved the "bugaboo" of the oil industry. Production in the area has increased from 1000 barrels from a single well on July 16, 1926, to the present enormous output, or one-fifth of the total production of the nation. In the first six months of this year the field produced a total of 55,006,647 barrels of crude oil.

EARNINGS REDUCED

Before bringing in the Seminole field, production of the country was increasing only sufficiently to meet the natural gain in consumption. However, this enormous increase could not be absorbed and consequently a huge overproduction resulted. The inevitable reduction in the price of crude and gasoline came and earnings of practically all of the producing and marketing organizations declined substantially. Some even reported net losses for the second quarter of this year.

While it is unreasonable to think that a reduction of from 50,000 to 70,000 barrels daily in production in the Seminole area will immediately solve the situation, over a period of time conditions in the industry are bound to improve. On the other hand the heavy consumption period has only a couple more months to run and then a further curtailment may be necessary.

California operators have been more successful in coping with the situation. Production in this State has been gradually decreasing from week to week, last week reaching the lowest point in nearly a year. Approximately 90,000 barrels of production is reported shut-in in the various California fields, and new drilling is largely being limited to offset wells and to meet lease requirements.

Seminole operators have apparently united for curtailment, the only possible way under which production in the territory can be reduced. Numerous snags have appeared to impede the progress, but prominent oil operators have contended all along that the oil industry, representing an investment of more than $11,000,000,000 would not permit production to continue at a level that would spell disaster for many companies.

CRUDE ADVANCE RUMORED

Rumors suggesting an increase in the price of California crude oil have been circulating in this territory for several days, and may have had something to do with the stronger tone of the local oil shares. The basis for this prediction is found in the gradual decline in production in this State with stocks of crude storage also being reduced.

Those close to the situation, however, insist that an advance in the price of crude at this time is unlikely, as the industry will soon enter the period of declining consumption, and then the shut-in production must be taken into account. If crude prices improve to a point where it is more profitable for companies to market their output, it is more than likely they will start drawing from the reserves.

Regardless of the unfavorable conditions which still remain, yesterday's news was the most optimistic to the oil industry that has appeared in many months.

BROKER LOANS GAIN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks amounted to $3,171,845,000 on August 3, comparing with $3,141,193,000 the preceding week, the Federal Reserve Board announced today.

BANK ADDS ROBERTS TO PERSONNEL

Pioneer Merchant Named Vice-President by Pan American Board

F. W. Smith, president of Pan American Bank of California, yesterday announced the election of John H. Roberts, pioneer Los Angeles merchant and capitalist, as vice-president. The action was taken by the board of directors at the monthly meeting held Tuesday.

At the same meeting Stephen A. Lanning, assistant cashier, was advanced to the office of cashier. Prior to joining the Pan American at its organization last December Mr. Lanning was for several years connected with the Los Angeles office of the Federal Reserve Bank.

Henry C. Jensen, owner of the Jensen Amusement Center, and B. I. Malouf, president of the Standard Discount Corporation, have been elected to the directorate.

The Pan American, at conclusion of its seventh month in business, had over 11,000 depositors, Mr. Smith stated.

Net Income of Roach Studios in Quarter Out

Net earnings of the Hal Roach Studios, Inc., for the three months ended July 2, last, after all charges, amounted to $49,491.86, or at the annual rate of more than three times preferred dividend requirements, it was announced by the company yesterday. Current assets show a ratio of sixteen to one of current liabilities, with net assets applicable to each share of preferred in excess of $63.50.

The regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent and an extra participating dividend of ½ of 1 per cent, payable September 1, was declared at a meeting of the board of directors in Culver City yesterday.

According to the annual custom, the company's studio was closed during the month of July, the entire organization receiving a full month's vacation with pay. Regular production began again Monday. Beginning September 1, Hal Roach pictures will be released through Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation under a favorable contract, it was stated.

PROFITS OF JONES TEA COMPANY UP

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—The net profit of Jones Brothers Tea for the first half of 1927 was $125,806 against $90,709 for the period last year. Net profit for the quarter ended July 30 was $96,990 against $76,493 for the same quarter of 1926.

EARNINGS OF STEEL FOUNDRIES DECLINE

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—American steel foundrres report for the first half of 1927 net profit of $2,561,240, against $2,925,891 for the first half of 1926. Net profit for the June quarter was $1,275,792, against $1,586,350 for the same quarter in 1926.

Stricter Policy Urged on Banker Group in Matter of Installment Selling

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—In the absence of any serious effects from the rapid expansion of installment selling in recent years relatively little has been heard on the subject in the last year or more. Yet it remains a vital subject in commercial banking circles.

Many opponents of the plan so generally adopted in the industrial world fear a catastrophe will result from overextension of credit in the competition for consumers' dollars that gradually is making terms easier and easier. A keen analysis of the problem prepared by W. P. Hazlegrove, a Roanoke (Va.) attorney, has received much attention since its presentation to the Virginia Bankers' Association. He finds a danger signal in savings bank figures.

Analyzing the increase in savings deposits, he points out:

"The increase in savings accounts for the year ended June 30, 1926, was $400,000,000 less than the increase for the preceding year, though the number of depositors increased 3,000,000. The average savings account increased only 56 cents from June 30, 1925, to June 30, 1926, while the interest at 3 per cent on the average account of June, 1925, would amount to more than $15 a year."

Mr. Hazlegrove finds, therefore, three outstanding innovations resulting from the installment practice. These, he says, are:

"First: It has brought into existence a new middleman—the finance company—a new kind of bank, a bank of discount, but not of deposit, and furnishing the machinery for investigation, supervision and collection which the latter lacked. There are in existence between 1000 and 1500 such companies with aggregate capital and surplus of perhaps half a billion. They have double this amount of outstanding installment paper, or about $1,000,000,000, while their purchases of such paper during the past year doubtless exceeded $2,000,000,000, leaving a majority of the annual installment business to be financed by other means.

"Second: It has meant an extension of credit to a large number of persons who had never before known or had the use of credit. This new and untrained army of credit users presents a new problem.

"Third: The installment plan of selling is a new field for the extension of credit. Now the credit is not extended to the producer or the distributor, but extended to the consumer."

The application of more rigid regulations in purchasing installment paper is urged on bankers by Mr. Hazlegrove. He thinks a gradual tightening would tend to avert dangers.

"Installment selling, then, is, in its first analysis, a matter of credit, and the problem of its extension or control is a problem of credit extensions or contraction and a problem for those who have the power to give or take away credit—the banks in whose hands are the accumulated savings of the nation," he says.

"The bank's loan to a producer or distributor, usually at 6 per cent, is made after careful investigation of the credit risk, and it can be paid off when the goods made or bought with the loan are sold and paid for. The bank's loan to the consumer by the purchase of finance companies' paper at 4 or 5 per cent is entirely dependent upon the credit investigation of others, and cannot be so paid off, for we have seen that the $3,000,000,000 of outstanding consumers' credit cannot be suddenly withdrawn without disastrous results. The banks, then, should not purchase such paper without the guarantee of those who have made the investigation, to insure thereby as much as possible the choice of the credit risk, the guarantee not only of the finance companies, whose combined capital and surplus is only one-fourteenth of the annual installment sales, but the guarantee of the dealer who is best able to know the worth of the maker. This would have a tendency to extend credit only where credit is due."

NET INCOME OF MIDLAND UTILITY OFF

Net Decrease of $94,294 Reported on Operations for Fiscal Year

Net profits of the Midland Counties Public Service Corporation for the twelve months ended June 30, last, after all charges including depreciation reserves, but before preferred dividends, amounted to $62,907.93, as compared with $157,201.64 for the preceding twelve months, according to figures released by the company late yesterday.

This is a decrease of $94,293.71 over the net for the preceding twelve months' period, but is accounted for by the fact that in the preceding year about $95,000 in profit on securities sold was included in the income account, and the charge-off for depreciation was greater in the period just passed.

Net operating income, however, was substantially higher in the twelve months ended June 30, last, amounting to $370,291.01, as compared with $338,710.26 in the year preceding, an increase of $31,580.75.

For the year ended June 30, last, gross operating revenue was $1,258,134.18, as against $1,143,743.68 in the preceding twelve months, an increase of $114,390.50, or nearly 2 per cent. Total operating expenses amounted to $887,843.17, an increase of 10.29 per cent, due principally to purchase of greater amount of power.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Aug. 4. (By Wireless)—Markets opened buoyant here today, the chief factor being that the Bank of England obtained some gold yesterday. The rise of American exchange and the growing expectation that the New York rate will be lowered, helped matters materially. As previously reported there is no chance of the Bank of England rate falling, and to comprehend the effect of these influences on British markets, it is necessary to remember that we had been apprehending an early rise in the bank rate to 5½ per cent. Stocks less affected by money, such as industrials, rubbers and oils, were comparatively neglected. The franc was steady, and sterling still higher at nearly $4.75 7-8.

The Coolidge incident has seemed to bring forward your Presidential election and some persons here have the idea that this fact may restrict business on your side and occasion easier money. In view of the constant demands for gold, there is some concern over the statement that the Rand mines are beginning to suffer seriously from a shortage of native labor.

Seaboard Bank Names Foreign Trade Advisers

Co-operating with President George L. Browning, a special committee of directors of the Seaboard National Bank, will determine future policies for handling the rapidly increasing business of the foreign department of the institution with countries in the Orient and other parts of the world, according to an announcement yesterday.

Directors on this foreign trade committee include Chairman K. L. Carver, vice-president and general manager of the Crescent Creamery Company; Edward Dale, vice-president and general manager of the Safeway Stores, Inc.; E. B. Gilmore, president of the Gilmore Oil Company; A. A. Maxfield, president of the Maxfield Wholesale Dry Goods Company, and F. H. Osler, president of the Racine-Osler Tire Company.

"In dividing the directors of our bank into special committees for the supervision of business in specific lines of industry we hope for excellent results," said Mr. Carver yesterday. "This will afford opportunities for the directors to keep in closer touch with the affairs of the bank and extend the benefits of our individual business experiences."

Seven Unlisted Stocks Added

Seven California corporations were added to the unlisted division of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday following the approval of their shares by the board of governors. All are popular traders in other markets and all have registrars. Those added include:

Caterpillar Tractor Corporation, Central Investment Company, Columbia Steel preferred and common, Electrical Products Company, Peoples National Bank, German American Savings Bank and Pacific-Southwest Realty Company.

Lompoc School Bonds Awarded

William R. Staats Company has been awarded an issue of $30,000 Lompoc Union High School District 5½ per cent bonds bidding a premium of $929. The bonds mature serially at the rate of $3000 yearly between the years 1928 and 1937, inclusive.

Other houses bidding for the bonds were Dean, Witter & Co., $909; Anglo London Paris Company, $870; Heller, Bruce & Co., $843, and the United States National Bank, $861.

AMERICAN TELEPHONE EARNINGS INCREASE

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—Gross earnings of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company for June were $8,219,000, as compared with $7,493,000 for June, 1926. For the six months ended June 30 gross earnings were $48,539,000, against $45,227,000 for June, 1926. The operating income for June was $3,298,000, against $933,000 for June last year, while for the first half it was $20,167,000, compared with $18,215,000 for the first half of 1926.

COOLIDGE MOVE MAIN TOPIC

Question of Bank Rate Cut Forgotten on Wall Street as Discussion Centers on Market Future

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—In its confusion over President Coolidge's unexpected decision not to run again, Wall street has all but forgotten that only yesterday its chief interest lay in the possibility of a reduction today in the rediscount rate by the Federal Reserve bank here.

Discussions on all other topics have given way to speculation on the larger question whether events from now on will turn the trend of stock prices down. Even hard-headed bankers recall with sentiment that the great bull market of the last four years has grown to its proportion almost entirely during the Coolidge administration. Nobody would say that it has been a product of the present government, but clearly the conservative policies maintained at Washington have provided the foundations for our present prosperity.

Since the four-year upswing in stock prices began about the time that President Coolidge took office, it is only natural that speculators now are revising their opinions on the market's future. Radicalism in politics has been so effectively eliminated in both parties that nobody seriously fears victory by any candidate outside of the conservative ranks. Perplexity now over the market position does not reflect anxiety that the conservative Coolidge policies will be thrown to the wind or that the fundamentals of business will be changed. What it does reveal is of a more intangible character. Perhaps the financial district could not give reasons for any change in market sentiment, but it is plain that important traders who anticipate a long period of liquidation soon in the stock market were more numerous after the Coolidge announcement than before.

So far as the underlying condition of business goes the outlook for continued prosperity should not be changed so long as the present conservative policies are perpetuated. That they will be is all but a foregone conclusion. Conservatism in politics in this country now is rooted deep in our economic system. This year's unprecedented recovery in agricultural prices even promises to cure the long-standing farm ill. What may happen to the stock market, the financial district does not profess to know, but everywhere firm confidence is expressed in the stability of the forces behind prosperity and in the prospect that they will keep business prosperous.

Discount Rate Cut by Federal Reserve Banks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The rediscount rates of the New York and Boston Federal Reserve banks will be reduced to 3½ per cent from 4 per cent, it was announced today by the Federal Reserve Board.

The board approved application of the bank for permission to reduce the rediscount rates on all classes of paper of all maturities, effective the 5th inst.

D. R. Crissinger, governor of the Federal Reserve system, declined to comment on the reductions, which follow similar cuts by the Federal Reserve banks of Kansas City and St. Louis.

The cut brings the rediscount rate more in line with the interest rate on bankers' acceptances, which have been quoted at 3 1-4 to 3 1-8 per cent for the past few weeks.

The tremendous accumulation of surplus funds in New York, coupled with the relatively small commercial demand, apparently was the chief factor in the decision to lower the rate at this time. By reducing the cost of monetary accommodations to industry and trade, it is also expected to act as a stimulant to fall business.

SAFETY ZONES FOR DOLLARS

LXXXVII.—NEVER BUY A STOCK THAT ISN'T PAYING DIVIDENDS

It's an ancient axiom, wherever stocks are dealt in, not to buy a stock that isn't paying dividends. Like every other financial homily, it's full of exceptions. It is good only as long as it is properly applied. For the most part, however, it usually is a solid rule when applied to newly formed companies. If the company is new there is all too little to judge by as to its ability to compete and succeed. The only persons who usually can put a sensible dollar into it are those who are organizing and operating it, or are associated with the organizers and operators and, therefore, more able to judge the safety of the venture.

If it is an old compmay that has come into unprofitable years and is not paying dividends, it is more difficult to apply the rule. The stock of a company that isn't paying dividends usually is low. If the company is in a position to revive and become profitable, obviously a handsome profit might be made by buying the stock when it is low. Several of the larger farm-implement manufacturing companies are an example of this. The postwar depression damaged the industry because farmers couldn't buy implements. Their stocks sold low. Then business improved. The companies made money. Their stocks went up. But it must be remembered that some companies in these industries failed to survive the depression. That was especially true of farm-tractor manufacturers. They had two handicaps. First, they were a new line of industry, trying to introduce machines to farmers, some of whom were of a horse-minded generation. Then, second, they couldn't weather the financial storm when the agricultural depression made sales still more difficult.

All in all, the rule of never buying a nondividend-paying stock is at least a good warning. It is protection against the ever-blooming rumor that this or that company or industry is about to turn the corner and make money again. Possibly that rumor may be true, but it is common sense to follow the rule at least to the extent of waiting to get authoritative information on the company or the industry.

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (Exclusive) General Motors ruled above the final levels of yesterday, but there were intervals when heavy realizing appeared to be in evidence. A good many of the conservative elemtns in the street were urging the taking of at least a portion of existing profits in that stock. They based their advice on the belief that the rise of some 40 points from the low levels of little more than a month ago had gone far toward discounting any special action which may be taken at the meeting a week from today.

Nash Strong Feature

Nash Motors attracted widespread attention as impressive buying carried that stock into new high territory. Doubtless a short interest was helping the rise in the stock, but in usually well-informed quarters it was declared that the bulk of the buying was of excellent character. Nash earnings for the first six months of its fiscal year were nominally below the 1926 rate, but almost double requirements necessary to cover the dividend for the period on the present $4 annual basis, and plants are operating now on a high schedule.

Buying the Oils

Probably the most surprising development of the session was the pronounced strength which marked the oils as a group. Aside from growing indications that restriction measures are being made effective in the Seminole area, there was little in the way of news to explain it. Yet this much-maligned group showed the most consistent strength apparent in the market. Petroleum stocks have been the target of bear operators for many months and doubtless had been worked into a heavily oversold condition. A tremendous short interest presumably was helpful in making the demonstration here possible. Atlantic Refining, Marland, Phillips, Standard of California and Pan American were up from 1 to 5 points.

Call Money Relaxes

Fresh ease in call money was cheering to bull forces and served to restore confidence among traders working on the side of the advance. Very little calling of loans was reported and shortly after mid-day the rate for new loans was dropped from 4 per cent, the renewal figure to 3 3-4 per cent. A good deal of strength in investment stocks and in bonds generally was ascribed as based on the belief that a lower rediscount rate might be considered at the Federal reserve meeting after the close.

Crucible Head Optimistic

Crucible Steel was a strong feature in that group, despite the fact that net results for the half year ended June 30 ran slightly under profits reported for that period a year ago. Buying was apparently inspired by the optimistic reference of H. S. Wilkinson, chairman of the company to the outlook for the industry. In the report to stockholders he said: "From all the information we can obtain from others in the steel industry, there is a feeling of optimism that the present decline is only seasonal and we are led to believe that the last half of 1927 will show a satisfactory volume of business."

Steel Tonnage to Gain

Steel was helped by the appearance of the usual preliminary estimates of what its unfilled tonnage statement for July, due next Wednesday, will show. The wise ones were badly fooled a month ago when the corporation's figures showed a gain, even though a small one, when the forecasters had been busily predicting another big drop.

SHIP TONNAGE SHOWS HEAVY GAIN IN YEAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—World's ship tonnage in existence at the end of June, 1927, was 402,340 tons greater than at the end of June, 1926, with Germany and Italy showing the greatest increases and United States vessels decreasing in tonnage, due to the large number which have been broken up, the Bankers' Trust Company is informed. Steam and motor tonnage increased from 62,671,930 gross tons in 1926 to 63,267,300 in 1927, while sailing tonnage decreased about 186,000 tons.

CITIES SERVICE OIL OUTPUT AT NEW HIGH

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—Production of crude oil by domestic subsidiaries of Cities Service in July established a new high, exceeding the 2,800,000 barrels produced in May, the previous record, and possibly approximating 3,250,000 barrels. Production for the second quarter was more than 7,000,000 barrels, a gain of 144 per cent over the same period in 1926, while the 11,755,000-barrel production of the first half represents an increase of 118 per cent over that during the first half of 1926.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—Prices of stocks on the curb market today made further recovery from yesterday's break following the announcement that President Coolidge was not a candidate for re-election. Strength of the oil shares was the outstanding feature, based on a belief that declines in production in the Seminole field foreshadows success in curtailment plans. President Coolidge's recent statement on the necessity for oil conservation probably was an added factor in the activity of these issues.

Standard of Indiana and Humble Oil were the favorites in the petroleum group, the latter advancing more than 3 points to 62½, a new top. Prairie Oil, Standard of Kentucky, Vacuum and Ohio Oil also shared in the movement into higher ground.

Public utilities, recorded some substantial advances in further reflection of good earnings reports of various companies. United Gas Improvement and Mohawk Hudson Power were particularly buoyant, soaring 3 1-4 and 4½ points, respectively, to new highs for the year. Associated Gas and Electric also displayed outstanding strength.

The movement into new high territory was continued by several recent favorites among the specialties, including Cuneo Press, Neiser Brothers, Borden common and preferred, Westinghouse Air Brake (when issued) and Bunker Hill sulphur. The last named, however, met heavy profit-taking at the top and declined to 101½, a loss of 2 1-4 points on the day.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Soft coal operators at Cleveland see little possibility for success of conference of Governors proposed by Vic Donahey of Ohio. When the Miami meeting adjourned sine die several months ago, 'the central competitive district died along with it. The far northern States have pooled their interests and have presented a sliding scale of wages for the consideration of miners. The only alternative of the miners, operators say, is to accept this scale at Philadelphia.

"Scrap iron and steel is showing a marked improvement, forecasting early betterment of mill schedules. Inquiries involving large tonnage of pig iron are pending at Philadelphia and a test of the market is expected there next week. New York sellers of pig iron have indicated to preferred customers that prices likely will be stronger in the near future.

"Copper is unchanged at 13.37½c, Connecticut, this price holding firmly. Zinc is quieter, 6.42½c, East St. Louis. Lead trading is moderate, with slightly higher prices being asked, today's quotation being 6.55@6.65c, East St. Louis. Tin is also fairly active and somewhat higher at 63.37½c spot New York.

STOCK TRADERS RECOVER POISE

Ohio and three Erie issues, but the gains were not wholly maintained.

Commodity markets were firm. Cotton futures advanced about $2.50 a bale, recovering more than half the ground lost yesterday, on reports of unfavorable weather. Wheat futures advanced about a half-cent a bushel, with buying stimulated by reports of increasing damage from black rust. Coffee and sugar showed little change.

A further advance of 3-16 of 1 cent in demand sterling to $4.85½ was the outstanding development in the foreign-exchange market. Other rates held firm, with French francs again quoted around 3.91 3-8 cents.

Futures Point Up Sharply on Grain Markets

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—Continuation of black rust reports from the spring-wheat territory, both sides of the international line, with a lessening of pressure in the pit, brought about an advance of ½@⅝c. with September 1.28⅝@1.28¾, December 1.41¾. Minneapolis and Winnipeg both gained ⅝@¾c and showed a firm undertone the greater part of the day.

Fears that the continued cool weather over the corn belt would result in much acreage failing to mature grain, brought in sufficient eastern and local buying to advance the market sharply, with net gains of ⅞@1⅛c. with September 1.06⅝@1.06⅞ and December 1.09⅞@1.09⅞. Oats were ⅝@1c higher on unfavorable crop reports from the American Northwest, while rye gained ⅝@⅞c.

Rust reports from both the American and Canadian Northwest are increasing and further claims of damage are received, and should temperatures become higher, it is feared that the rust would spread rapidly. The reports are coming from conservative sources.

The lateness of the Canadian crop with the rust menace, causes locals to go slow in pressing the selling side on the declines. Export demand was somewhat less active, with sales of 400,000 bushels in all positions, including 200,000 bushels winters, but the bids from abroad were on a somewhat less favorable basis.

Liverpool wheat was ⅜@¼d higher at the close, with Buenos Aires unchanged. Outlook in Argentina is more favorable, as the result of recent beneficial rains, while Australia needs more moisture.

Lecount's report, suggesting that probably 50 per cent of the corn crop in parts of Iowa would not mature with an early frost, combined with relatively low temperatures at night, led to local bulls becoming more aggressive and prices advanced sharply. Cash demand was relatively slow. Buenos Aires closed 1@1⅛c higher, with September 74⅛, or 33⅛c under Chicago.

Oats market came in for more attention. The Vanduzen-Harrington report indicated a very spotted situation in the American Northwest and there were also disappointing threshing returns on late sown oats from Illinois and Iowa. The close was about the top, with commission houses showing more interest on the buying side.

Cash interests were fair buyers of rye, and with strength in wheat, an advance was easily attained. Hedging sales from the Northwest checked the upturn. The seaboard reported 50,000 bushels sold for export.

A feature in the lard market was the absence of liberal selling at the opening, the reverse of that of a week ago, while there were good buying orders. Offerings were well taken, and despite the weakness and 10c break in hogs, prices advanced and closed at the top, with net gains of 7½@15c, January leading. Lard in Liverpool was weak and 3@9d lower.

not considered to be sufficient for any hope of production, and the well may be redrilled. Bottom of the hole is at 4864 feet, but it was plugged to 2950 feet, where the showings were found. Several hundred feet of drill pipe is cluttering up the bottom of the hole, and if any further work is done, it will be necessary to sidetrack, and redrill.

Starts New Wildcat

The Trinitas Oil Company is among the recent entries in the search for commercial oil production at Piru, according to field reports. The new well is being drilled on the Eureka lease.

Gets Small Well

The Superior Oil Company which brought in its Ruby Jones No. 1 well at Huntington Beach with an initial production of about 200 barrels a day, is now getting about 100 barrels a day out of the well, and this yield is showing a cut of about 11 per cent, according to unofficial reports.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—French combing, fine domestic wools are fairly strong. Graded fine territory French combing is selling readily at 1.00@1.05, scoured basis. Choice fine French combing Ohio wool has brought 41c in the grease, equal to 1.05, scoured basis, for lots with the stubby or clothing wool removed. Half-blood is moving quite readily.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (AP)—The bond market today anticipated the reduction from 4 to 3½ per cent in the New York Federal Reserve Bank's rediscount rate with an exhibition of strength such as has not been seen since last spring. The volume of transactions was unusually heavy for a summer day's session, sales totaling well over $14,000,000. The buying movement embraced bonds of all classes, but high-grade railway mortgages encountered the greater demand.

Numerous new peaks were recorded in the railway division, with advances ranging up to a point or more. Chesapeake Corporation 5s attracted a large number of purchasers, selling as high as 98 3-4, while Union Pacific 4½s, Burlington 4½s, and several of the low-priced St. Paul issues also attained their best figures of the year.

Convertible liens were again active, particularly the Erie "D" 4s, which gained stimulation from strength of the stock and crossed 130 to a new record high. Brooklyn Union Gas 5½s climbed 3 points to 221.

Third Avenue Adjustment 5s, which have been advancing on expectations that interest payments would be arranged soon, encountered realizing around 63 7-8 and lost ground.

United States government issues were firm, with chief interest centering in Liberty Fourth 4 1-4s and Treasury 3 3-4s.

Trading in the foreign group was well distributed and prices on the whole improved. Italian and Japanese bonds were accumulated rather freely, and Budapest 6s were particularly active on an ascending scale.

The appended represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Rather active demand cleaned up the small supply readily at generally steady prices. The steer supply was largely Mexicans, while the larger part of the she stock was dairy types. Two cars of Mexican steers averaging 1011 pounds from Central California brought 7.60, while two cars of 764-pound Mexicans from the Imperial Valley turned for 7.25. A few head of 1113-pound stags brought 6.00, while a short load of 973-pound Imperial stags realized 6.25. Half a load of 800-pound steers for feeding purposes went out at 7.50, with a few head at 6.50.

Odd head and small lots of good cows and heifers were fairly numerous around 7.00, with heifers higher, while several other lots of good cows turned from 6.50@6.85, including good weighty dairy type cows. Most of the she stock, common and medium kinds, went over from 5.50@6.25, the latter price taking half a load of 963-pound beef type cows from Central California. Very common kinds sold around 5.00, while cutters went over from 3.75@4.50, with low cutters down to 2.50. Bulls were in light supply and ruled firm, medium to good kinds selling from 5.50@6.25, with common bulls down to 5.00 and below.

CALVES—A fairly liberal supply of calves, mostly Arizonas, arrived and generally met an active trade. This was especially true of the good and choice kinds, while the plain calves and heavies were slower sellers. Prices were uneven, mostly steady to 25c lower. Odd lots of vealers sold up to 12.50, while two loads of choice 251 to 253-pound Arizonas cashed for 11.00 and 12.00. A load of plain 173-pound weights brought 11.00, with plain 215-pound averages at 10.75. A liberal supply of common and medium calves, both light and weighty offerings, was included, the majority selling from 7.00@9.50, with a few very thin kinds down to 6.00.

HOGS—Yesterday's estimated run included two loads of eastern butchers that arrived early in the afternoon. These, however, were already sold to arrive at 12.25, with a 25. Other offerings included a small lot of 117-pound Texas pigs at 12.75 and half a load of 295-pound local fed trucked-in butchers at 10.50. The market generally was quoted steady to strong.

SHEEP—None. Medium to choice lambs were quoted from 10.75@12.75, with medium to choice wooled ewes from 5.25@6.75.

Louisiana Court Gives Flogger Ten-Year Term

ONEONTA (La.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Eugene Doss was found guilty of assault and battery and kidnaping by a jury today in connection with the flogging of Jeff Calloway, farm youth, several weeks ago.

Trial was immediately begun of L. A. Clayton, another of the seven men indicted for whipping Calloway.

Doss was sentenced to eight to ten years in the State penitentiary.

Dr. L. S. Fennell, reputed Tarrant City Klan head and one of the men under indictment, was fined $50 for contempt of court because of a street-corner speech last night in which he told a group of persons that two Birmingham newspapers were responsible for his indictment because of investigations they made into the flogging.

Fennell, who had also been sworn as a witness in the Doss trial, had been cautioned by Judge O. A. Steele to say nothing about the case in public.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR SERVEL CORPORATION

EVANSVILLE (Ind.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Appointment of a receiver for the Servel Corporation, manufacturer of electric and gas refrigerators, automobile truck bodies and gasoline motors, was asked in a petition filed in Circuit Court here yesterday by the Kirkpatrick-Heim Printing Company. The petition alleges nonpayment of $4000 due for printing, and declares appointment of a receiver is necessary for the protection of creditors.

SEVENTY-ONE SCHOOL DISTRICTS SUSPENDED

LAPSE FACED BECAUSE OF ATTENDANCE DECREASE DURING LAST YEAR

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4. (AP)—Suspension of seventy-one elementary school districts because the average daily attendance last year fell to five pupils or less is announced by the State Department of Education. The districts will lapse unless at the opening of the coming term they can be re-established upon a showing that there are eight pupils ready to attend.

Included among the districts suspended were one each in Amador, Calaveras, Colusa, Humboldt, Inyo, Kern, Merced, Modoc, Napa, Placer, Riverside, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Tehama and Tulare counties; two each in Lassen, Nevada, San Benito, San Diego, Santa Cruz, Solano and Sonoma counties; three in El Dorado and Los Angeles; four in Contra Costa, Mariposa, Mendocino, Monterey and Shasta; six in Siskiyou and eight in San Luis Obispo.

RAZOR BLADE PACT HITS FEDERAL SNAG

ANTITRUST ACTION DROPPED WHEN COMPANIES HEED INJUNCTION

NEW YORK, Aug 4 (AP)—Proceedings under the Federal antitrust laws against the Gillette Safety Razor Company, the United Cigar Stores Company of America, the Unico Distributing Corporation, D. A. Schulte, Inc., the Louis K. Liggett Company and the National Cigar Stands Company were terminated when they consented today to a Federal Court decree enjoining them from further activities complained of by the government.

The government charged that the defendant companies had entered into an agreement for the distribution of Gillette razor blades on terms that injured the trade and good will of competitors. The decree was entered by Federal Judge Goddard.

RICKENBACKER PLANT TO BE SOLD IN FALL

LIQUIDATORS APPOINTED TO DISPOSE OF PROPERTY AT SALE AND AUCTION

DETROIT, Aug 4 (AP)—Three liquidators have been appointed by the Security Trust Company and B. F. Everett, receivers for the Rickenbacker Motor Company, to dispose of the personal property of the receivership estate at public and private sale, following authorization by the United States District Court.

The receivers have authorized the sale of some of the machinery at private sale at once. The remainder of the personal property, valued according to the company's books as of March 31, 1927, at more than $2,000,000, will be sold at public auction the latter part of September.

GAIN MADE IN PATCHING LEVINE ROW

Attorneys for Columbia's Owner and French Flyer Talk of New Contract

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Some progress was made today in the task of patching up the differences between Charles A. Levine, owner of the trans-Atlantic plan Columbia, and Maurice Drouhin, French aviator whom Levine engaged to pilot the ship on a return flight to the United States.

Their lawyers met today to discuss the service of a summons on Levine last night by Drouhin demanding that Levine carry out his agreement with the pilot as to financial arrangements. The lawyers reached no final agreement, but said a new contract might be agreed upon tomorrow.

Levine's answer to the summons, that he would deposit the 300,000 francs insurance fund for Drouhin's family, was followed today by a more optimistic note in the Drouhin camp. The French aviator took the Columbia up for a gasoline consumption test and it was found that the same motor that took the airplane from New York to Germany consumes 5 per cent less fuel.

Drouhin expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the test, as did "Doc" Kinkade, the Wright motor expert, and John Carisi, the Bellanca expert.

The question remaining to be settled is just when the 300,000 francs it to be deposited.

Ex-Banker and Girl Indicted

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 4. (AP)—Walter Cravens, former president of the Kansas City Joint Stock Land Bank, and Miss Alice Todd, former secretary of the institution, were charged jointly in eighty-eight counts with misapplication of funds of the bank in indictments returned today by the Federal grand jury here.

The counts also included charges of false entries involving particularly the outside enterprise fostered by Cravens, including the Missouri-Hydro-Electric Power Company project at Bagnell, Mo.

The misappropriations and false entries, asserted to include personal diversions of the bank's funds, would exceed $1,000,000, according to government agents.

Political Aid of Obregon Slain

NOGALES (Ariz.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Aurellano Rabelo, manager of Gen. Alvaro Obregon's Presidential campaign in the State of Chiapas, was shot dead in a political row at Juarez, Chiapas, says a dispatch received here today.

Excitement was reported running high in Chiapas.

It is intimated that Rabelo was shot down following an argument over recent speeches made in connection with the forthcoming election.

AIR ROUTE DECIDED

Mexico Plans Aerial Mail Planes North Via Matamoras

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4. (Exclusive) The Mexican government has decided that the aerial postal service between the United States and the Mexican capital should be via Matamoras because it is the shortest route and the aviators, following the lowlands, can arrive at the Mexican capital without the danger of crossing many ranges of mountains and other obstructions. Besides, the aviators will have an unobstructed course at a much lower altitude than via Laredo or El Paso, Tex., both of which cities have, it is said, made representations in favor of having the aerial line pass through them.

Matamoras, anxious to get the aerial post line, has offered through its chamber of commerce to give, free of cost, grounds for an aviation field near the city. The Mexican government is said to be waiting for the request from the American aerial service through diplomatic channels, to present its views in favor of having the line pass through Matamoras.

Las Tormentas Eléctricas Han Causado en Estos Días Más de 300 Incendios

PORTLAND (Oregon) Agosto 4.—Han sido provocados más de 300 incendios forestales por las tormentas eléctricas que en los últimos cuatro días ha habido en el Estado de Washington. Según informes recibidos en la oficina de selvas nacionales de aquí, procedentes del bosque de Columbus, al norte del río Columbia, se han declarado allí más de 100 conflagraciones. De esta ciudad y de Vancouver (Washington) se han enviado ochenta hombres a dicho bosque.

En la selva de Ranier, al norte de la de Columbia, hay como 106 incendios, todos los cuales están ya dominados; en Wenatchee hay sesenta y cuatro; como treinta en el bosque de Chelan, y unos seis en el Olímpico.

La perturbación eléctrica de ayer sobre el Columbia determinó un fuerte aguacero, primera precipitación desde que comenzó el bombardeo eléctrico; pero sólo cayó sobre una estrecha zona, a ambos lados de la cual se declararon más incendios.

El Fuego se Ha Extendido a la Colombia Británica

VANCOUVER (Colombia Británica) Agosto 4.—A pesar de que toda la noche han estado luchando contra las llamas 350 hombres, no pudieron evitar que se propagara un gran incendio forestal hasta los trabajos de corta de la Compañía Maderera del Pacífico, de Alberni. Súpose hoy que, avivadas por un viento del oeste, las llamas ardieron en una extensión de 4000 acres, a cuatro millas de la población de Alberni.

Combate con Licoristas en la Frontera Canadiense

SARNIA (Ontario) Agosto 4.—La policía de aquí, previa averiguación instruída con motivo de la refriega a balazos entre celadores de la patrulla norteamericana del río St. Clair, y presuntos matuteros de aguardiente, declara que las pruebas evidencian que estos últimos se hallaban en aguas canadienses cuando los celadores dispararon sobre ellos.

Asegúrase que Harold Holmes, de Toronto, que resultó herido, contestó el fuego, hiriendo a Arthur Lasatte, celador norteamericano. Este afirma que la gasolinera en que iban los presuntos "bootleggers" estaba en aguas estadounidenses, y que los canadienses hicieron fuego los primeros. Estos, a su vez, rechazan el cargo.

Los Estados Unidos han librado un exhorto contra Holmes, que se halla en un hospital de Chatham.

Los Soviets Van a Estudiar la Industria Frutera Californiana

MOSCU, Agosto 4.—Ha salido para California una representación del sindicato de frutas y legumbres del Estado y del departamento de exportaciones e importaciones del Estado, con el fin de comprar maquinaria para enlatar frutas, y estudiar la industria frutera california.

Ha sido comisionada la referida delegación, por el Comisariato de Comercio Soviético para que inicie gestiones tendientes al envío de peritos norteamericanos que presten la mano en el desarrollo de las fases mecánicas de dicha industria, en este país.

Según informes de la oficina de identificación del Estado, Anderson, en la fecha de su muerte, tenía pendiente en Salt Lake City un proceso por supuesto robo de automóvil, perpetrado en 1926.

Busca la Policía a un Joven por Atentado Contra una Criatura

Anda la policía tras un joven que, con halagos, hizo que una niña de seis años se separara ayer tarde de sus compañeras de juego y lo siguiera. El nefando sátiro trató de abusar de la criatura en una casa desocupada sita en la esquina de Broadway y la Decimoséptima. Los gritos de la niña hicieron huir al criminal. Según los transeuntes que pudieron verle, se trata de un joven de 17 a 18 años de edad, como de cinco pies, siete pulgadas de estatura, y unas 130 libras de peso. Llevaba gorra oscura, camisa de cuello postizo blanco, y traje de trabajo de mezclilla azul.

Prospector Near Death in Fall

NEW WESTMINSTER (B.C.) Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—After lying badly injured and helpless without food on a mountain north of Port Haney from 3 p.m. Friday until found by a search party at 8 p.m. Monday, W. J. Porter, 60 years of age, a prospector from North Vancouver, is recovering in the Royal Columbian Hospital here. His two partners and twenty lumberjacks are suffering from badly burned backs and shoulders caused by the glaring sun Tuesday while carrying out the injured man on a litter made from shirts they took from their own bodies.

Twenty men took seventeen hours to carry Porter fifteen miles through the mountainous country.

While prospecting alone Porter stepped on snow that started a slide. He was carried 500 feet down the slope, then plunged down a twenty-foot cliff. His hip was broken and mouth so badly lacerated that he could not reply when he heard the searchers shouting.

Rum-Raid Fund Inquiry Ordered

CARSON CITY (Nev.) Aug. 4. (AP)—The Federal grand jury, convened here today, was advised by United States Judge E. S. Farrington to investigate the disposition of money declared collected by Tony Morgan, deputy prohibition administrator for California counties and Nevada, during liquor raids conducted by his force in July.

Judge Farrington called attention to a Reno newspaper article in which Morgan was credited with stating that during July he had made thirty-eight arrests, and that for the defendants $5800 was deposited in court.

The amount of money deposited was questioned by the United States marshal and his clerk, Judge Farrington declared.

"Mr. Morgan has attempted to correct the statement but he has not made it clear," the judge told the grand jury, and he recommended that body investigate to ascertain the amount of money involved and where the money is.

FUROR CLOSES VETERANS' CAMP

Councilman Jacobson Starts Police Inquiry

Spanish War Society Denies Law Violation

[illegible] poignant memories of the days of '49" were conjured up by a "camp" conducted by Roosevelt Camp No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans, at 227½ South Main street, [illegible], disappeared into the limbo of things gone but not forgotten last night, following a verbal explosion by City Councilman Jacobson and [illegible] police activities.

Jacobson, during a hectic Council session yesterday, described the "camp" as a "regular Tia Juana gambling place." He asserted that he and Police Commissioner Thorpe had visited it and seen things with their own eyes.

Whatever the Councilman may have seen, however, it was not on display last night. Nothing, in fact, remained in the large second-story establishment but a few janitors who were industriously cleaning up the place where the camp had recently flourished.

However, William Baxter, quartermaster of Camp No. 9, supplied some of the missing details. He said that Police Lieutenant Hoy, attached to the vice squad, had visited the camp last night and suggested they shut down until "we get this thing figured out."

JACOBSON ELABORATES

What was to be figured out, apparently was broached in no uncertain terms in Council chambers yesterday by Jacobson, who elaborated on his [illegible] charges when asked for details by the other Councilmen.

Summed up, the Councilman produced letters showing Mayor Cryer [illegible] the Police Commission to grant a permit for the camp to operate after he (Cryer) had been so requested by Marco Hellman. It was [illegible] the concession was to [illegible] the purpose of raising [illegible] send the veterans' drum corps to the national encampment at [illegible]. Jacobson then expressed the belief that the "gambling den" was being run by Farmer Page, who [illegible] little local reputation in the realm of games of chance, and that the veterans' organization was [illegible]. Furthermore, said Jacobson, [illegible] he and the Police Commissioner had visited the place and [illegible] the police, no officers responded to their call and he wanted to know "who was the dominating [illegible] in the police department."

All these remarks by the local [illegible] were made pursuant to a motion he introduced asking that the police department be asked to investigate the camp and report the facts to the Council. The measure was sent to the Council's Police and Fire Committee for a report and recommendation.

BAXTER AROUSED, TOO

Whatever may have been Jacobson's feelings as he described the "camp," they were no stronger than Quartermaster Baxter's last night as he discussed the Councilman's action.

"Yes, I was in the Council Chamber yesterday and heard Jacobson orate," said the war veteran. "More than that I was the man who was instrumental in getting the permit [illegible] the place. It was operated [illegible] to get sufficient money to send [illegible] corps back east where they, [illegible] in many cities, would have [illegible] a good advertising medium for Los Angeles. Farmer Page was never [illegible] the place to my knowledge. As [illegible] gambling, we issued script and [illegible] of the different games [illegible] them in for merchandise. [illegible] all the hellish activities that [illegible] taking place.

"Personally, I think Jacobson was [illegible] for a lot of publicity. I [illegible] all about the workings of [illegible] to him in the Council [illegible] this afternoon and he said: 'I don't care, I'd do the same [illegible] if it was run by the Methodist Church!'

"[illegible] were not trying to break laws [illegible] think it was stretching a point [illegible] of it. As for Mayor [illegible] didn't know what our camp [illegible] and was only trying to help [illegible] organization."

STREET WORK POSTPONED

[illegible] of the assessments for the opening and widening of Flower street from Washington street to Thirtieth street was yesterday postponed by the City Council until September 1, next.

IOWAN GIVEN POST BY MRS. McPHERSON

AIDE NAMED BY TEMPLE EVANGELIST

Rev. John Goben Selected by Mrs. McPherson as Her Chief Agent in Chicago

Rev. John Goben, Iowa evangelist, yesterday was named by Aimee Semple McPherson as her chief field agent and added that work of organizing the Chicago "Lighthouse," first of a proposed chain of churches, will be started within a few weeks.

Mr. Goben will leave for the East next week to begin plans for the Chicago revival, which is expected to produce enough members and funds to start the church, Mrs. McPherson said.

The new field agent for the evangelist has been in Los Angeles for a week conferring with Mrs. McPherson on the plan.

Mrs. McPherson yesterday took occasion to deny statements credited to members of her church that the evangelist's power over the church is reduced to naught by her "cabinet control" plan, announced yesterday. Mrs. McPherson declared that while all seven of her department heads, who will form the board, will have a vote in the temple's operation, she still controls all matters of business and policy.

A huge electric sign, which the evangelist announced was a gift to her by a New York sign manufacturer, is to be installed on the temple, Mrs. McPherson announced. She describes it as "the largest in the world."

The evangelist's advisers yesterday declared that construction of a fourteen-story hotel building across the street from the temple, on property owned by Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, her mother, will depend upon whether outside promoters will undertake the task. The evangelist will lease the ground for such an enterprise, but will have no hand in its operation or financing, her advisers stated.

A financial settlement between Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. McPherson is expected to be completed within another day, Mrs. Kennedy announced yesterday.

OBSCURE MINISTER CHOSEN FOR FIELD POST

DES MOINES (Iowa) Aug. 4. (AP)—An obscure minister, who came here last winter and incorporated under the name of the Des Moines Gospel Tabernacle, has risen to fame. He is Rev. John Goben, who is to act as chief field agent for a chain of Four Square Gospel "lighthouses" which Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, proposes to establish throughout the country.

Shortly after Mrs. McPherson conducted a revival meeting here early in the spring, her converts flocked to Mr. Goben. It was then his influence as a revivalist gained recognition. He figured prominently here a month ago, when he became estranged with the Des Moines Ministerial Association. Since that time he has gained a large following. His organization

LUNCHEON FOR FIRESTONE

[illegible] of Dickering for Rubber Company Site Expected to be Told at Chamber Affair

[illegible] of the negotiations which have been under way for the purchase of a site which will be used to provide Los Angeles with a $7,000,000 [illegible] plant of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, O., are [illegible] to be announced today at a luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce. [illegible] Firestone, son of Harvey S. [illegible], president of the company, [illegible] conference all day yesterday [illegible] the purchase of the site and it [illegible] that an important announcement will be made by him or [illegible]tive at today's luncheon. [illegible]stood that the deal for [illegible] involves more than $2,000,-[illegible]

[illegible] announcement was [illegible] yesterday as a result of [illegible] but it is expected [illegible] decision will be reached [illegible] or early this morning by [illegible] of the rubber company who [illegible] for the purchase of the [illegible] bounded by Alameda, Manchester and Santa Fe streets and the [illegible] Pacific Railroad.

[illegible] city and county officials [illegible] well-known Los Angeles business men have been invited to the luncheon arranged by the Chamber of Commerce and it was predicted yesterday that a conclusive announcement will be made at this gathering as to the progress of the negotiations.

The factory would make this city one of the leading rubber centers of the country and furnish employment to between 2000 and 3000 persons.

Today's Bible Text

HIGHER CHEST BUDGET FIXED

Total of $2,750,000 Will Be Sought in Drive

Amount $250,000 Higher Than for This Year

Representatives of 150 Aid Agencies at Meeting

The Los Angeles Community Chest budget for 1928 was set yesterday at $2,750,000, approximately $250,000 more than was raised for the current year, according to announcement by W. L. Brent, chairman of the budget committee.

The $2,750,000 is to be raised during the Chest's fourth annual appeal, from October 31 to November 9, next. It will care for the financial needs of 150 relief and welfare agencies of the city.

Determination of the amount of the budget was reached at a conference at which representatives of all the 150 agencies supported by the Community Chest were present and submitted individual agency budgets. These budgets will be cut to the bone in order to conform to the budget total, William Lacy, president of the Chest, stated.

MAXIMUM GOOD GIVEN

"Maximum good at minimum cost" is being given the people of Los Angeles by the several Chest-maintained institutions, speakers at the conference declared. Among those who spoke in praise of the work being done by the agencies were Edwin A. Meserve, campaign chairman for the fourth annual appeal; Don M. Claflin, American Legion; I. Irving Lipsitch, Federation of Jewish Welfare Organizations; Ross Lopez, Central Employment Bureau for Veterans; Rev. T. J. O'Dwyer, Catholic Welfare Bureau, and Mrs. Hancock Banning, Assistance League of Southern California.

Warm indorsement of the Community Chest, now entering its fourth year in Los Angeles, was expressed by the agency representatives. Whereas three years ago the Chest was accepted as a promise, it now is regarded as an indispensible instrument of civic betterment, it was declared.

CIVIC UNITY GROWS

In this connection it was cited that since the institution of the Community Chest here there has been a notable growth of civic unity; health conditions have been improved; important educational and reconstructive programs have been carried out, and a new spirit of service generated among the people.

Greater efficiency and smaller expense also have characterized the welfare work of the various agencies. It was pointed out, due to the systematized financing and avoidance of duplication that have followed organization of the Chest.

The Chest, in its three years' existence, it was stated, has paid practically the entire cost of its administration, including annual budget appeals, out of economies effected through supervision of the work and expenditures of the agencies maintained by it.

LOCAL AREA FEELS TWO TEMBLORS

Slumberers Awakened But No Damages Reported Over District About City

Slumberers in Los Angeles and vicinity were disturbed but outside of that no damage resulted from two temblors which were felt early yesterday morning. The first earthquake was noticed at approximately 4:25 a.m. yesterday. This was followed by a second shock a few minutes later.

According to reports to police and to Sheriff Traeger's office, the only damage from the two quakes was the bursting of a water main at Second and Hope streets. The shock was felt in Hollywood, Santa Monica, San Pedro, Long Beach, Catalina Island, Pasadena, and a number of other beach cities.

It was reported the shock at San Bernardino was not felt until two minutes after the local temblors and that no damage resulted in that vicinity. The earthquakes did not disturb Santa Barbara or El Centro.

Col. H. B. Hersey, in charge of the local United States Weather Bureau, described the quakes as "gentle, undulating waves." This office had not received any reports of damage.

Burial Alive of Kittens Not Proved in Court

Failure of the State to establish the corpus delecti yesterday brought complete exoneration for Marie Rose, 340 West Eleventh street, at the hands of Municipal Judge Bullock on a charge of cruelty to animals based on an accusation that she had buried four small kittens alive.

When the case was called for trial, none of the witnesses for the prosecution were able to testify to the asserted burial. Nor was the State able to produce evidence of the bodies having been found. Officers of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals testified they had dug up the woman's yard but were unable to find the kittens.

Judge Bullock accepted a defense motion to dismiss on the ground of corpus delecti not having been proven.

Miss Rose was arrested last week on reports of neighbors that the woman had tortured the kittens.

MOTHER HAS PLENTY OF HELP

Girl Quadruplets Her Little Fairies

Leota, Mona, Roberta and Mary Keys.

HOUSEKEEPING presents few problems for Mrs. F. M. Keys of Hollis, Okla., a vacationist at Redondo Beach.

Mrs. Keys is the mother of the only set of quadruplets on record in the United States who have survived infancy. Consequently when there is a room to be swept or dishes to be washed, a young army of 12-year-old femininity descends upon the task and the work is out of the way in a jiffy.

The girls demonstrated their ability yesterday. Included in the picture are Leota, Mona, Roberta and Mary, but which is which is a question. Outside of the girls themselves and their mother, it is doubtful if anyone knows.

The Keys family is vacationing at 425 South Catalina street, Redondo Beach, following a transcontinental auto trip.

TEN-WORD TEST BALKS TEACHERS

None in University Class Spells More Than Six in List Correctly

A ten-word spelling test that bested faculty members and students alike, proved to its originator, Dr. E. A. Wilson, summer session instructor at the University of California at Los Angeles, his contention that spelling in English is more difficult than spelling in most other languages.

Wilson selected ten words, all of which are in fairly frequent use, and submitted them to his class, comprised for the most part of adults and teachers. Not one could spell more than six in the list correctly, insufficient for a passing grade.

The ten words which comprised Dr. Wilson's list, in their correct form, are: Sacrilegious, rarefy, naphtha, picnicking, paraffine, supersede, tranquillity, liquefy, battalion and kimono.

As Dr. Wilson's class, in most cases, spelled them, they are: Sacriligious, rarify, naptha, picnicing, paraffin, supercede, tranquility, liquify, batallion and kimona.

City Urged to Pay for Police Garb and Guns

Councilmen Hughes and Jacobson yesterday urged the City Council to take steps to provide uniforms, revolvers and handcuffs for policemen, these now being paid for by the men. Councilman Hughes said that uniforms of policemen are often torn and damaged in battles with burglars and bandits and that it is unfair to require them to provide these uniforms and also the weapons which they used to protect the public.

The Council received a communication from H. H. Marsh recommending that the city pay for the weapons and handcuffs.

The communication went to the Council's Police and Fire Committee.

Steeplejack Sets Flagpole Sitting Record

The world's record for continuous flagpole-sitting was eclipsed at one minute past 2 p.m. yesterday, according to backers of the unidentified steeplejack perched in a bo'sun's chair appended to the flagpole of the Rose Room at Eighth and Springs streets. The flagpole-sitter, however, continued to sit. It is his intention to remain aloof until noon today and thereby establish a mark of eighteen days for the feat, bettering the record held by V. H. Crouch, who sat for seventeen days and two hours at New Bedford, Mass., by an even twenty-two hours.

When the sitter descends he will disclose his identity.

State Asked to Value Systems

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners of Los Angeles yesterday filed an application asking the State Railroad Commission to determine the amount of compensation to be paid by it to the Southern California Edison Company for distributing systems in Tuna Canyon, Mar Vista and Barnes City, recent addition.

LAW MUFFLES WEDDING BELLS

Pasadena-Riverside Marriage Held Up by License Delay While Messengers Try to Stem Tide of 300 Guests Invited to Ceremony

Cupid and his quiver went into hiding in the fastness of the Pasadena hills yesterday, where he will remain for another day at least to ponder over the tangle the State Legislature has gotten him into because of the new-fangled marriage law.

Also special messengers today are scurrying around Pasadena and surrounding towns in an effort to stem the flow of 300 guests scheduled to start toward the Pasadena Presbyterian Church tonight to attend the wedding of Miss Elsa Carlson of Riverside and Luther Hoffman of Pasadena.

The prospective bride and groom yesterday called upon the County Clerk for a marriage license, the application for which they filed Wednesday, but were informed the license cannot be issued until tomorrow morning, three full days following filing of their application, in accordance with the new law, which went into effect the 1st inst.

Undaunted, the guests, to whom invitations have already been sent announcing the affair for tonight, are being informed that the ceremony will take place tomorrow night.

Miss Carlson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlson of Riverside, is assistant superintendent of the Pasadena Preventorium at Altadena. Mr. Hoffman is director of religious education at the Pasadena Presbyterian Church.

Helen Carlson, sister of the bride-to-be, will act as maid of honor, while Miss Hazel Ashby and Mrs. La Verne Beyerle will be bridesmaids. Cecil Hoffman, brother of the groom, will be best man. Ushers are Stanley Carlson, brother of Miss Carlson; Donavan Stoner, Fred Hawkins and Theodore Hawes.

TRAIN CRASH VICTIM DIES OF INJURIES

Santa Monica Woman in Beverly Hills Crossing Accident Succumbs

Mrs. Edna Williams, 42 years of age, who was critically injured Wednesday night when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband was struck by a Santa Monica-bound Pacific Electric train at the Wilshire Boulevard crossing, died yesterday morning in Receiving Hospital in Beverly Hills without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Williams, according to Police Surgeons Braithwaite and Lewis, who attended her, received frontal and basal fractures of the skull, a broken collarbone, broken ankle, four broken ribs and internal injuries.

An inquest will be conducted before Deputy Coroner Dayton in the Beverly Hills Mortuary at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Witnesses subpoenaed by the police declare that the Pacific Electric train which struck the Williams automobile was traveling at a rate of speed between forty and fifty miles an hour at the time of the crash.

Chief of Police Blair of Beverly Hills declared that he will rush to completion the installation of traffic signals at the intersection where the crash occurred. At this point the Pacific Electric tracks and Santa Monica Boulevard in two sections intersect with Wilshire Boulevard and heavy traffic has made it especially dangerous.

Mrs. Williams resided at 1550½ Fourth street, Santa Monica. Her husband, who suffered a fractured arm, was recovering yesterday in the Martin Sanatarium in Santa Monica.

POLICE GRAB SOLICITORS FOR REALTY

Eight Women Urging Tour Out to Projects Arrested; Four Men Also in Net

Caught in a police drive on real-estate tour solicitors, twelve men and women yesterday were taken into Municipal Court on charges of soliciting from public sidewalks.

Among those arrested in the drive were eight women who were haled before Municipal Judge Bullock and released after the court had suspended $10 fines. The women gave their names as Mrs. Lillian B. Schlarkey, Mrs. Vashti Stone, Mrs. Carrie Rudy, Mrs. Elizabeth Dillion, Mrs. Ida Becker, Miss Alice Floyd, Mrs. Daisy Tresemant and Mrs. Harriette Crayton.

Appearing before Municipal Judge Bush, where they gave the names of Paul N. Gage, Andrew Baskin and Jesse Wilson, three men were released with $25 suspended fines. A fourth man, Rawley Haas, failed to appear and bail was forfeited.

Deputy City Prosecutor Gray issued the twelve complaints after numerous reports to Chief of Police Davis by citizens who asserted they had been annoyed by solicitors.

Red Line to Run More Busses on Pico Boulevard

Increasing the frequency of service on its Pico Boulevard motor coach line, announcement from the Pacific Electric Railway yesterday made public its revised schedule to become effective next Monday.

Fifteen-minute service henceforth will be operated between the Pico street terminus and Beverly Drive during both morning and evening rush hours, while half hourly service will be given between the city terminal and Westwood. Under the new schedule ten additional trips will be made daily between Beverly Drive and Pico street, and eight more than heretofore operated between Westwood and the city terminus.

The fifteen-minute service to be operated replaces the twenty-minute previous headway, while the half-hourly service is double that of the former schedule.

STREETS TO BE DECORATED

The Board of Public Works was authorized by the City Council yesterday to enter into a contract for an amount not to exceed $500 for decorating the downtown city streets from the 22nd to the 27th inst., in honor of the forty-fifth annual convention of the National Association of Stationary Engineers, to be conducted during that period at the Ambassador Hotel.

STRIP ANNEXING MEETS SETBACK

Appellate Court Rules on Long Beach Proposal

Proceeding Would be Blow to Los Angeles

Efforts of the city of Long Beach to annex a shoe-string strip which would include the main-line railroads from Los Angeles to the harbor district within its boundaries and preclude Los Angeles from annexing thirty-three square miles of territory lying between the Los Angeles business and harbor districts, met with at least a temporary legal setback yesterday. The Appellate Court ruled that the Superior Court must ascertain all the facts and determine whether the annexation proceedings are valid.

The ruling was contained in a voluminous opinion filled with a highly technical discourse which pointed out that in several instances annexation proceedings similar to that of the beach city in the present case have been held invalid by high-court decisions.

MERITS NOT CONSIDERED

Justice Houser, who wrote the decision, in which Presiding Justice Conrey and Justice York of the Second District Court of Appeal concurred, made it plain that the actual merits of the controversy were not considered in ruling but the truth of the assertions in the sworn petition for an order requiring the Superior Court to conduct a hearing was assumed. He held that in his opinion the petition is sufficiently convincing to make it necessary for the Superior Court to determine the facts and rule on the validity of the annexation sought.

Before the case was taken to the higher court, the Superior Court had refused to issue a writ of certiorari on the petition of A. C. Brown and others who live in the strip proposed to be annexed and are opposed to annexation. Issuance of such a writ, which has been ordered by the Appellate Court, would result in all records and facts being brought before the Superior Court preliminary to a ruling on the validity of the annexation proceedings.

MUST BE CONTIGUOUS

In setting forth the reasons why he thinks a Superior Court ruling is justified and necessary, Justice Houser stated that the annexation laws under which the proceedings were taken required that the territory to be annexed must be contiguous to the municipality seeking annexation and the highest courts in the State have held that it must also be inhabited.

According to the records now before the Appellate justice, Long Beach made no effort to show that the strip is contiguous and it is in fact comprised of eighty-two parcels of land of which seventy-two are uninhabited.

In naming the principles to be considered in such cases, Justice Houser cited the Capuchina Land Company case in which the similarity to the Long Beach annexation proceeding is apparent.

In the language of the court, "the territory sought to be annexed in the Capuchina case consisted of two separate parcels, one of which was inhabited and contiguous to the boundaries of the city seeking annexation, and the other parcel, although uninhabited, adjoined the first parcel. It was held that in such circumstances the proceedings were invalid."

LARGER AREA INCOMPASSED

According to the decision, in addition to comprising a comparatively small area of inhabited community the territory sought to be annexed includes a shoe-string strip 100 feet wide incompassing an uninhabited territory of thirty-three square miles.

City Attorney Stephens, who appeared before the Appellate Court to protect the interests of Los Angeles, pointed out that this strip starts at the northern boundaries of Virginia City, a Long Beach suburb, and runs west and south through Davidson City and the classification yards now being purchased by the Los Angeles Harbor Department to the boundary between the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors. It includes, according to Stephens, portions of the railroad lines between Los Angeles and the harbor district, and, if held valid, will be in effect a fence around the territory naturally tributary to Los Angeles Harbor.

The boundaries of the proposed strip, according to the opinion, were drawn in such a manner that in some instances they cut houses in two, separated some buildings from others on the same property and include railroad rights of way and portions of county highways.

PLOT CHARGED IN BOND QUIZ

Murray Asserts Attempt Made to Get $15,000 From Father of Young Burglar Suspect

Testimony concerning an asserted plot to extort $15,000 from the father of a youth charged with seven counts of burglary upon the representation that they would fix the case and have the court records destroyed, will be introduced to the county grand jury Monday, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray.

Evidence in at least eight other cases also will be presented to the grand jury at that time, Murray said, if the questioning of ten bail bondsmen summoned to appear is completed soon enough.

TRAP ARRANGED

The affidavits charging an extortion plot will be backed by the testimony of the parties involved who have been subpoenaed to appear and testify.

According to Murray, the plot centered about Vernon Grace, who faced seven charges of burglary. Four men asserted to have been associated with Charles Malaby, recently arrested after a sensational chase, charged with accepting money to fix a case, approached George E. Grace, father of the boy, and sought $15,000 as a fixing fee.

FOUR DISAPPEAR

Grace sought the counsel of his attorney, George E. Stoddard, who arranged a meeting with the men to trap them. A friend was obtained to pose as a wealthy backer who offered to pay $7500 to get the youth's bail reduced. Before the deal was consummated, however, Malaby was arrested and the four men disappeared.

Vagrancy charges against John B. Shepard, an employee of Bertelson Groves Bonding Company, were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Willis on motion of Deputy City Prosecutor Barnes. The dismissal was said to have been based on the BRIDGE—we read in the public prints—is supplanting baseball. But this is not the fact.

It's golf.

Which is the best thing that ever happened to America. And, incidentally, America is the best thing that ever happened to golf. Took the snobbishness out of it. Especially has this happened to golf in California, where the country clubs are democratic—and plentiful.

PRINCE OF WALES

Being the Prince of Wales is no light job. It involves wearing every kind of clothes there is and even playing pit boss down in coal mines.

With the growth of independent power in the British colonies, the royal family has become of overwhelming importance as a symbol of the empire.

And the empire is exceedingly fortunate in its present royalty—simple, lovable folks—making good in a difficult job.

DEMOLISHED FORTS

Germany has made good its promises—and has razed its fortresses. The irony of which is that the forts were worthless. The World War proved that no fort can withstand modern artillery fire. Belgium was supposed to have the most perfect fortifications ever constructed. They were torn up like wet tissue paper.

CAVE PEOPLE

H. G. Wells once predicted that half the world will have to live in underground burrows—so crowded will be the surface of the earth.

The underground ranch made by an Italian in Fresno indicates that it will not be so bad—if it comes to that.

An underground city—intended to house hundreds of thousands in war time—has been built in France. Undoubtedly—when the military secret wears off—such cities will be used in peace times.

GOOD HUSBANDS

A magazine writer has catalogued husbands—to his own satisfaction—according to races.

Irishmen are wonderful lovers, but rotten husbands; Americans are O.K. but very sentimental; Englishmen cold and stupidly conceited; Frenchmen politely crude; continentals have the old idea that women are chattels.

RACE CHARACTERISTICS

Rats!

There are no such things as race characteristics of this sort. Just as young sailors try to swagger along the street as they think sailors should walk, and cowboys try to imitate the wild westerners they see on the cinema screens, just so the races sometimes try to live up to fiction.

ENVIRONMENT

I have known Scotchmen who were spendthrifts; "cold" Englishmen who were childishly sentimental; yellow-streak Irishmen, boorish Frenchmen and even gabby Indians.

It is their environment, not their blood.

HERE IS WHY

Scotchmen are stingy because it's hard to make a living in a cold, barren, unproductive country like the Highlands.

Chinese are polite and formal because they live in such crowded conditions that social traffic—so to speak—has to be regulated by rote.

PERFECT-BACK OWNER CHOSEN

Chiropractors Award Honor to Virginia Parent

Selection Made Out of Field of 250 Contestants

Three Other Girls Also in Winning Class

The most perfect back on the Pacific Coast, chiropractically speaking, belongs to Miss Virginia Parent, 960 South Oxford street. Miss Parent was selected out of a field of 250 contestants as the owner of the most perfect vertebrae at the fourth annual convention and lyceum of the National Chiropractors' Association and Los Angeles College of Chiropractic yesterday afternoon. It was pointed out that this recognition means that Miss Parent's back is not only the most beautiful, but also indicates the most normal condition or alignment of any of the contestants.

Second, third and fourth positions in the contest were won by Ruth Hurschler, 100 California street, Walnut Park; Hortense Petra, 5200 Marathon street, and June Lee, 739 Garland avenue, all of whom were declared to have backs which verged upon the border of absolute perfection. The judges were headed by Dr. Charles E. Wood.

CHIROPRACTIC STANDARDS

Dr. Wood said the selection of Miss Parent's back as the prize winner was not influenced by sheer beauty, but was judged strictly by chiropractic standards and incidentally he hinted to the runners-up that, if they were to take a few adjustments to line up the erratic vertebrae, they might be in line for a cup when the chiropractors conduct their next convention.

Miss Vivian Du Barry, winner of the 1926 trophy, was introduced to the delegates and it was she who presented the cups to the winners. It was announced that several more cups and medals will be awarded to other contestants Sunday afternoon at Venice. The judging committee, however, declined to reveal the names of the other winners.

Dr. W. L. Lynch, chairman of the board of judges, stressed the fact that the first essential to physical perfection is health. Perfect health, he pointed out, is indicated by a perfect body, and the first essential of a perfect body is a spinal column which is beyond the criticism of even a chiropractor.

DAY'S SPEAKERS

Other speakers on the day's program were Dr. Leo B. Arnold, Dr. George W. Crowde, Dr. L. P. Clarke, Dr. Perry A. Mulikin, formerly a champion wrestler; Dr. Edwin Doutt, Dr. G. Henry Ford and Dr. Harold H. Reuss.

One of today's most important addresses will be delivered by Dr. J. P. Mason, president of the Mason Chiropractic Sanitarium, who will discuss "Progression or Retrogression."

The convention will close tomorrow night with a vaudeville show for which several acts have been donated by the Orpheum, Pantages, the Hillstreet and other theaters.

AILMENTS EXPLAINED

The reason why human machinery goes wrong was explained by Harold H. Reuss, doctor of chiropractic, last night in a lecture illustrated with X-ray photographs. His subject was "Anatomy, Physiology, Pathology and Diagnosis of Gastro-Intestinal Tract." The photo negatives shown dealt with most of the minor human ills as well as the beginning of some of the more complex maladies.

Most of these may be avoided, the speaker pointed out, by a simple chiropractic adjustment of the spinal column. "Impinged nerves," Dr. Reuss said, "have more to do with physical comfort than most persons realize, and a few minutes in the hands of a capable 'chiro' may save hours of suffering or even death."

CHEF PLANS NEW DISHES FOR CLASS

Mrs. Wyman Prepares Program for Free Cooking School Meeting Today

Mrs. Mabelle E. Wyman, instructor at the free cooking school in the patio garden of the Southern California Manufacturers' Exhibit, 130 South Broadway, has prepared an interesting program for her class this afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

The list of demonstrations includes Italian meat fritters, Cuban string beans, a tea pastry and a fudge cake with a special frosting. As usual, she will answer questions and give general information on cooking methods.

There will be the usual Friday afternoon class one week from today, but there will be no classes held on the 19th and 26th inst. These free cooking classes will be resumed September 2, with a grand opening and under more favorable conditions than is possible under the present arrangement. During Mrs. Wyman's vacation the last two weeks of this month, plans for making the cooking school exceptionally interesting and attractive will be perfected. Announcement will be made at a later time just what these plans are, but Mrs. Wyman's students will be assured a much more complete school in the future than has been possible in the past.

Hearing in Auto Death on Today

Preliminary hearing of Fore Costner, 22 years of age, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of 17-year-old Juanita Fay Bennett of Pomona, the result of an automobile accident in Brea Canyon, July 10, last, will begin today in the Justice Court of Pomona.

Miss Bennett was almost instantly killed when the car operated by Costner overturned on a sharp curve. Miss Regene Vollandt and R. E. Myers, other members of the party, are still at the Pomona Valley Hospital suffering from injuries incurred in the wreck. Costner was not hurt.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fisher will argue that Costner was driving at an excessive rate of speed when the accident occurred, while Stanley Visel, defense counsel, will contend that the mishap was unavoidable.

CURTIS BACK TO NOME ON ARCTIC TRIP

Local Writer and Artist Tells Hardships of Party on Cruise to Eskimos

Edward S. Curtis, Los Angeles photographer and writer, and a leading authority on the North American Indian, has arrived with his party at Nome, Alaska, after a two-months' cruise among the Nunivak Islands, according to a report received yesterday. The message stated that the party endured severe hardship and danger while on the cruise, which was undertaken for the purpose of studying living conditions among the Eskimo inhabitants of the Nunivak group.

Mr. Curtis, author of "The North American Indian," a series of twenty volumes, illustrated by photographs taken by himself, left this city early in May, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Beth Curtis, and a secretary. Arriving at Nome, the party chartered a forty-foot launch for the Nunivak cruise. The last news of them was in a letter received July 3 by the manager of Curtis's Los Angeles studio which gave no account of any particular hardships.

The present expedition was engaged in by Curtis for the purpose of gathering data which will complete the twentieth and last volume of the series to which he has devoted twenty-five years. His studies of the North American Indian have included those of the United States and Canada as well as the Eskimo tribes which inhabit the Alaskan islands.

Hero Surprised by Gift of Cup for Saving Life

When Bertram Cohn of 1700 New England avenue received a silver, gold-lined cup bearing this inscription: "Presented to Bertram Cohn for saving a life, July 31, 1927," he was dumbfounded.

It was not that he did not understand the reason for the gift. His body was still sore and his ears still roaring from his successful struggle to rescue a young woman at Anaheim Landing last Sunday afternoon. She had gone with "The Ramblers," an athletic organization, for a beach trip but had carried her flirtation with Neptune to such a point that she was in danger of being carried away. Cohn saw her predicament and went to the rescue. He remembered the smiles and handshakes of strangers standing by when he dragged his fair prize from the surf.

Until yesterday, however, Cohn thought the incident had been forgotten, for all the witnesses had promised to keep mum. But somebody found out and then came the cup.

Aims Kick at Dog, Falls and His Leg Snaps

As Harold Morrison, 70 years of age, a bill-passer, stopped at 1730 West Seventieth street yesterday to deposit a pamphlet beside the door knob, the door suddenly opened. Out dashed a bulldog.

The animal made a lunge at him, Morrison says, and he kicked to defend himself. Morrison put such vigor in the kick that he lost his footing and fell to the sidewalk. When a passerby reached him he was moaning with pain.

At the Receiving Hospital an examination by Police Surgeon Kirkpatrick disclosed that Morrison was suffering from a broken leg.

POLITICIANS LINKED WITH JULIAN CASE

Two Widely Known Men Said to Face Prosecution on Usury Charges

Evidence involving at least two politicians prominent in municipal affairs, indicating that they received exorbitant and usurious rates of interest from loans made to the Julian Petroleum Corporation, was in the hands of City Prosecutor Lickley last night. The prosecutor is understood to be contemplating actions against the politicians by charging them with usury in complaints.

One of the politicians said to have derived illegal interest from a loan of $100,000 obtained by Julian stock through Jack Bennett, asserted confederate of S. C. Lewis, former president of the concern. The other is understood to have allowed a similar loan and received large interest rate in return.

A score or more others also are facing complaints from the City Prosecutor charging them with usury in loan manipulations.

According to information at the City Prosecutor's office, many others who received asserted illegal interest rates from loans to the Julian Corporation are returning large sums to the treasury now presided over by the receivers. Dr. Lickley said ample time would be given all to make restitution.

Meanwhile, the fate of the reconstruction program fostered by Lewis and presented to the board of directors of the California-Eastern Oil Company was hanging in the balance. The plan neither has been accepted or rejected, although tentatively looked upon in general as feasible after several modifications have been agreed upon.

D. P. Kendrick Funeral Rites to be Tomorrow

Funeral services for Justice of the Peace Daniel P. Kendrick of Tulare, 67 years of age, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. from the chapel of Evergreen Cemetery, where interment will take place.

Justice Kendrick was born in Salado, Tex., and came to Los Angeles in 1877. He practiced law here for a short time and then made his home in Tulare, where he was justice of the peace at the time of his death.

He leaves a brother, William T. Kendrick, Sr.; two nephews, William T. Kendrick, Jr., and Victor Kendrick, all prominent attorneys of this city; and two sisters, Mrs. Decima Bryan of Los Angeles and Mrs. Agnes Levi of San Diego.

Death came to Justice Kendrick last night after a throat ailment of three months at his brother's home, 681 South Bonnie Brae street. Funeral services are in charge of Ruppe Mortuary, 842 South Figueroa street.

City Inspector Meets Death as Autos Collide

Paul A. Winkler, 39 years of age, an inspector in the city engineering department, sustained injuries from which he died at General Hospital in a traffic accident while en route to his home, 30 Dudley street, Venice, last night.

At Fifty-third and Hub streets, police reported, Winkler's automobile collided with another machine. He was thrown through the windshield of his car, striking his head on the curb. His skull was fractured.

Delyre, wife of the German Consul; Mrs. Albert Wilson, wife of the principal of Manual Arts High School; Mrs. Axel Beskow of Stockholm, Sweden; Mrs. Sven Lokranz, Mrs. Harold Stonier and Mrs. Dustin, wife of the dean of University of Southern California law school.

HILL LEVELING UP IN COUNCIL

Seventh-street Assessments to be Studied Today

Levy for Cut of Mile Will Total $2,422,355

Litigation May Delay Start of Work Many Months

The City Council is scheduled to consider at 1:30 p.m. today the $2,422,355 assessments for cutting down the Seventh-street hill from Figueroa street to Lucas avenue, about one-half mile.

The cutting down of the Seventh-street hill has been considered by City Councils for many years, as it is believed that the elimination of this hill will speed the westward development of Seventh street as a business thoroughfare.

DEEP CUT AT KIP

The present proceedings were started by the former City Council. The engineering plans provide for a practically level grade of 1.3 per cent instead of the present hill. The deepest cut will be between Kip and Bixel streets, where the reduction of grade will be eighteen feet.

After the engineering plans had been approved by the former Council the Board of Public Works held a long series of hearings to determine the amounts to be paid property owners on Seventh street for damages to their property by reason of the cut and the changes that would be necessary to the buildings on the street. These damages as awarded by the Board of Public Works total $2,152,867.

LITIGATION MEANS DELAY

The present Council is hopeful that the few Seventh-street property owners who object to the Board of Public Works' awards will withdraw their objections so that the damages and assessments can be confirmed by the City Council without delay. Litigation will delay the improvement two or three years. A few of the property owners indicated that they desire and will battle for larger damages than the Board of Public Works had allowed.

If the objections are withdrawn or adjusted the Council will confirm the assessments. As soon as these are collected the actual work of cutting down the hill and paving the new street can begin. The board has received a low bid of $242,734 for this work and this sum is included in the total assessments now before the Council.

COURT VICTORY WON BY WOMAN

Ex-Aide of Schwarz in New Step Toward Freedom

Further Prosecution for Jury Tampering Unlikely

[illegible] Wallington, former secretary to Barney Schwarz, convicted stock broker, yesterday won another step in her two-year fight to escape a prison sentence on charges of tampering with a jury when Judge Bowron of Superior Court sustained a demurrer to a grand jury indictment against her. With the court's ruling, it is considered the prosecution of Miss Wallington is at an end and no attempt will be made by the District Attorney's office to procure a new indictment in the case.

Miss Wallington had been accused on two counts of tampering with the jury in the first trial of Schwarz, who is now in San Quentin serving a sentence for violation of the Corporate Securities Act. She had pleaded guilty to the charges on one occasion and was sentenced to San Quentin by Judge Burnell, who denied her application for probation.

Miss Wallington then filed proceedings with the State Supreme Court alleging that she had been promised immunity if she pleaded guilty and claimed she wished to withdraw her plea. The Supreme Court ordered a hearing and last week Judge Bowron allowed Miss Wallington to withdraw her former plea of guilty. It was then she interposed the demurrer to the indictment, and succeeded in having the latter instrument thrown out of court on technicalities.

[illegible], manager of the exhibit, has gathered together over a period of several years a great mass of industrial knowledge concerning the inception and growth of the various types of industry between the [illegible] and the Mexican border.

The industrial information is to be issued each month in the nature of a little "house organ" or bulletin.

Besides telling the story of the finished product and the firm back of it and the idea which has developed the finished product for the market, this industrial information will deal with community groups and their growth problems.

The industrial information will be placed in the hands of purchasing agents, buyers, dealers, manufacturers and merchants up and down the Pacific coast and will be available for use by the twenty-seven foreign consuls.

Information may be gained on this by calling the Manufacturers Exhibit, Telephone Mutual 1814. Copy for the first issue is now in preparation.

Committees at Library Named

Committees appointed for the ensuing year by the Board of Library Commissioners show to some extent the scope and variety of work, financial and administrative, covered by the city department. Committees, with the president, Orra E. Monnette, ex-officio member, follow:

Gifts and donations, commissioners E. N. Martin, chairman, and Mrs. Otto J. Zahn.

Finance and budget, commissioners E. N. Martin, chairman, and Mrs. J. Wells Smith.

Salaries and employees, commissioners Mrs. J. Wells, chairman, [illegible] and Very Rev. Francis J. Conaty.

Central library, commissioners E. N. Martin, chairman, and Very Rev. Francis J. Conaty.

Library school, commissioners Mrs. J. Wells Smith, chairman, and Mrs. Otto J. Zahn.

Branch libraries, commissioners Mrs. Otto J. Zahn, chairman, and Very Rev. Francis J. Conaty.

Public schools, commissioners Mrs. J. Wells Smith, chairman, and Mrs. Otto J. Zahn.

Building committee, commissioners Mrs. Otto J. Zahn, chairman, and Mrs. J. Wells Smith.

Texas Minister May Be Asked to Wilshire Church

An invitation to Dr. L. D. Anderson of Fort Worth, Tex., to become pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church was being discussed yesterday by members of the church following the announcement by church officials to the effect that Dr. Anderson will conduct services at the Wilshire church next Sunday morning and evening.

Dr. Anderson is pastor of the First Christian Church at Fort Worth, with a membership exceeding 3000, and is regarded as one of the leading ministers of the Lone Star State. In [illegible] he was called to California to deliver the chief address at the State Convention of Christian Churches. While in Los Angeles Dr. Anderson will be a guest at the Chapman Park Hotel.

A special musical program at the Wilshire church Sunday evening will include selections by Stewart Bra-

WEED FUND APPROPRIATED

To continue the work of the city's building department, which is ridding vacant lots of weeds and then billing the owners of the property for the work, the City Council yesterday appropriated $8280. The money will be returned to the city when liens are collected.

ACCIDENTAL FIRE STEALS SCENE

Barn Burns During Lynching Episode

Hot Stuff!

Actors turn firemen during shooting of western. Inset—Ethylen Clair.

IN THE midst of a spectacular lynching scene which was being filmed for a Universal serial picture, fire accidentally broke out yesterday on a set at the company's studio at Universal City and cowboys, actors, directors and assistants assumed the roles of firemen to prevent the flames from spreading to other sets. The barn, full of hay, was burned to the ground before the flames were conquered.

A cigarette thrown away by a cowboy is believed to have started the fire. A lynching scene in a serial, starring Ethylen Clair and William Desmond, was being filmed when the fire broke out. Cowboys, in the midst of a terrific struggle, were compelled to "cut" without instructions from spreading to highly inflammable to quench the fire.

The Universal City Fire Department was summoned and kept the fire from preading to highly inflammable sets adjoining. Carpenters were set to work to construct a new barn.

When the director on the set saw the flames break out he decided to incorporate the fire scene into the film although it had not been scheduled. He called for additional action and sent all the by-standers rushing into the scene to stage a rescue and save the hanged man so that the scene might be logically used.

No Laughter Heard as Joke Ends in Court

Another practical joke has ended in court.

Yesterday the District Attorney issued a complaint against W. J. Massey, a police officer stationed at Wilshire division, charging him with assault with a deadly weapon upon A. E. Withers on April 24, last.

The complaint was the result of Withers' sense of humor and Massey's lack of humor which resulted in a fight in which Withers received a bullet wound in the shoulder, according to the District Attorney.

According to Massey's story he and Withers attended a party on the night of April 23. During the evening Withers let the air out of the tires on Massey's automobile and put sand in the carburetor as a joke.

The next morning when Massey discovered the disabled car he accused Withers of the trick and a fight resulted. Massey asserted that he fired the shot in self-defense after Withers attacked him. Withers charges that Massey fired the shot without giving him a chance to defend himself.

Overtime Pay Rate Reduced

In an effort to reduce the amount of overtime paid to garbage collectors and other engineering department employees, the City Council yesterday, on recommendation of its Finance Committee, instructed the City Attorney to revise the salary ordinance so that overtime shall be paid for at the regular rate of pay.

Overtime is now paid at the rate of time and one-half, and the garbage-collection department overtime bills alone amount to between $8000 and $10,000 a month in the summertime when collections are heavy.

The report also recommended that no overtime be paid unless the extra work had been authorized by the Council.

POLICE SEEK YOUTH FOR ATTACKING CHILD

Police were searching for a youth who enticed a 6-year-old girl from her playmates and attempted to attack her in a vacant house at Seventieth street and Broadway yesterday afternoon. The child's screams put the intruder to rout. Passers-by described the youth as 17 or 18 years of age, about five feet seven inches in height and weighing about 130 pounds; of light complexion and red hair. He was wearing a dark cap, a shirt with white collar attached and blue denim dungerees.

CAFE PARTY ON TONIGHT

At the Moulin Rouge Cafe tonight Sally Rand, film actress, will head a group from the De Mille studio that will dine and dance at the Sixth-street cafe. Miss Rand is to be hostess and will award a silver trophy given by the cafe management to the couple winning the regular Friday-evening collegiate dancing contest. Miss Rand also is expected to do a special number herself as a highlight of the program.

BLOSSOM TO ADDRESS LIONS

Walter G. Blossom, superintendent of education for the Southern California Edison Company, will be the principal speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Los Angeles Lions' Club in the Music Room of the Biltmore today. President Sam Carpenter will preside and Jack Frost will be chairman.

SLAUSON PROTESTS DENIED

Protests against the improvement of Slauson avenue from Figueroa street to Wilton Place were denied yesterday by the City Council and the improvement will now proceed.

STREET LIGHTS FAVORED

The installation of ornamental lighting posts on Robertson Boulevard from Pico Boulevard to Airdrome street was yesterday recommended to the City Council by the Board of Public Works.

EXPLANATION EASY

New Vacancy on Play Commission

Judge Daniel Beecher, new appointee to the Superior Court bench, made his farewell appearance with the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Commission, of which he had been president, yesterday, to announce his resignation and express the interest he has had in this city department for the last three years. P. H. Halbriter, vice-president, succeeded to the presidency, pending an election to be held when a successor to Judge Beecher had been named.

Former President Dr. E. P. Ryland was recently appointed to the park board and was succeeded in membership by Eugene Rittenhouse. The resignation of Judge Beecher created the second vacancy within thirty days.

UNUSUAL ART EXHIBIT ON VIEW TOMORROW

An exhibit of art designs, frocks and house furnishings which portray figures suggested by the title of some well-known book or play is to be displayed tomorrow in the patio of the Southern California School of Architecture by Louise Strang Griswald, art instructor in the summer session of the University of Southern California. Among the exhibits are beach coats and pajama breakfast suits covered with conventionalized designs of "The Covered Wagon" and characters from "The Shanghai Gesture," original conceptions and work of Gladys Griffin and Muriel Stimson, two summer co-eds of the Trojan campus.

SOUTH PARK CONCERT BILLED

A concert by Killgrove's Band is to be presented by the City Park Board at South Park Sunday afternoon. Arthur Merz, baritone, will sing the prologue from "Pagliacci." The same musicians will play at Westlake Park later in the afternoon.

COUNCIL WILL DINE

The City Council yesterday accepted an invitation from the Electric Club to be present at a luncheon of the club at the Hotel Biltmore on September 19. President Bonelli of the Council will deliver an address at the request of the club.

PICNIC SCHEDULED

Former residents of Polo, Ill., and vicinity will have a picnic in Echo Park one week from Sunday. In case of rain, the affair is to be postponed to the following Sunday. Mrs. R. B. Graham is in charge of arrangements.

STAR INTRODUCES ELEPHANTINE HAT

Betty Bronson

If you see somebody walking down Broadway or Hollywood Boulevard with a hat with elephant-like ears and a couple of eyes in it, let this be warning that it's a motion-picture actress.

Betty Bronson introduced the new Chang bonnett in the film colony recently and it promises to become quite the thing in the local cinema world.

BEWARE THE PIT

To avoid peach wars in future growers and canners alike should shy from throwing the first stone.

SLIPPERED NOT SLIPPERY

It isn't the fellows who spend their evenings at home, with slippers on, who do the most slipping.

NOT OFTEN APPLICABLE

WON'T TUMBLE

Uncle Sam and John Bull may not be able to walk on their hands, but they certainly can take a firm stand on their arms.

PASSE

Russians are being ordered out of Turkey. It has been a long time since Turkey red has been popular, even for table cloths.

NOT SEXTONS

The Digger Indians are said to be very melancholy people. Still it seems a little too depressing to call them the grave Digger Indians.

BAFFLING

There's safety in numbers. With a crowd of moving targets to select from the reckless motorist may as well hit anybody else as hit you.

MIGHT BE HANDY

Edsel Ford has ordered him an old-fashioned two-seated surrey—such as grandpa used to drive. Possibly this is the family idea of preparedness.

DECADENCE

We're certainly getting too soft. The children always used to be ready and eager to turn the ice-cream freezer. But now if they can't use an electric freezer they prefer to just phone and have some ices brought in.

IT DOESN'T FOLLOW

Just because you can park your car all day at a Broadway curb without getting a tag, Mr. Motorist, don't imagine that you can make a successful argument with a cop who has halted you for not making a boulevard stop.

ON WITH THE DANCE

They are dancing again in the restaurants of Italy. For several months the patrons of the cafes were denied the right of the floor, but suddenly the restrictions were canceled. The dance may go on, but the gliders are warned to be more modest and discreet. It is understood that a world without dancing is now impossible.

MAKING FACES

American women traveling abroad are warned that they are not to make faces at French traffic officers. They may curse them or stick out their tongues at them, but when they contort their faces in derision or defiance a heavy fine or possible imprisonment awaits. A visitor who puckers up her map at a strange cop is no lady.

A NEW BOGEY

The game of golf is being sadly commercialized in the very country where it originated, bonnie Scotland. At a recent tournament held on one of the most famous golf courses bookmakers appeared publicly on the course during the qualifying rounds of the opening championship. The golf enthusiasts are torn into two camps over this degradation of the greatest private sport, some claiming it to be a natural result of the private bets laid by players and their friends, others that it spells the doom of golf if it is to be commercialized after the fashion of horse racing.

So far nothing of this sort has occurred in even our most wide-open States, where betting on horse racing is quite legitimate. It would be too bad if such a fate overtook golf, either here or abroad. It is a fine game and anything that will drag the American business man away from his desk and out into the open to walk off his surplus poundage and get a fresh measure of health and a little relaxation is too valuable a sport to be risked by allowing the betting angle to enter in.

THE GENEVA DEADLOCK

Browning's optimistic idea that "what began best can't end worst" never has been exemplified in a larger way than in what has been called "the Geneva fiasco." Although disappointed at the outcome of the naval parley by which he thought to avert a race for sea supremacy on the part of Britain, America and Japan, as well as to curtail naval expenditure by all the powers, President Coolidge can take comfort from the fact that there now exists a better understanding as to America's peaceful aims, especially in the matter of the construction of auxiliary war craft, and that these aims will affect the naval programs of Britain and Japan and possibly afford a basis for truer parity than now exists between our Navy and theirs.

When, on February 10, the President sent his note suggesting the conference to four of the leading powers, France and Italy declined to attend it, Italy's main reason being that her geographical position called for full defensive measures, while France replied that the League of Nations was the proper medium through which an agreement should be reached. Britain and Japan welcomed the suggestion, but, while Japan's attitude at the conference was most conciliatory and accommodating, that of Britain appeared quite the reverse.

The American program contemplated the application to auxiliary war craft the same ratio of 5-5-3 which was agreed upon at the Washington conference of 1922 with reference to capital ships. But Britain's stipulations were such as to create a wide disparity in the matter of cruisers and their armament and that disparity was all in her favor. Britain wanted the privilege of maintaining and supplementing her large fleet of cruisers of the smaller class, to meet which we would have had to construct twenty-one vessels of that type at a cost of $400,000,000, while our naval needs were for a few cruisers of the 10,000-ton type. These Britain, after much debate, finally agreed to allocate to us and to agree to an armament for them of a certain number of eight-inch guns, but to limit to guns of lesser caliber the armament of smaller craft. It was this evident desire on the part of the British to dictate the establishment of the classes of cruisers and their armament that broke up the conference, as America could not concede the points they insisted upon.

What would have amounted to a four-year naval holiday on the part of Japan and Britain was proposed by the Japanese delegates, to permit the United States to catch up with them in cruiser construction, but this compromise was not acceptable to either of the other conferring powers, as it did not appear to be very clear as to whether it was to apply merely to the "built-and-building" programs and not to the projected programs. Though presented in an amiable and conciliatory spirit, the plan, therefore, was not deemed practicable.

President Coolidge watched the progress of the naval conference with keen interest. He instructed our delegates to make every effort to reach an agreement with those representing the other powers. But with characteristic firmness he would not and did not concede the points so vital to America's interest in the matter of sea power. He maintained the same stand which he took in his special message to Congress on naval armaments last winter. In that message he said that far-reaching building programs had been laid down by certain powers and that there had appeared in our own country, as well as abroad, a sentiment urging naval construction on the ground that such construction was taking place elsewhere. "In such sentiment," he said, "lies the germ of renewed naval construction. I am sure that all governments and all peoples would choose a system of naval limitation in preference to consciously reverting to competitive building."

But in setting forth, as he did in his message, the consequences of a possible deadlock, he frankly admitted his recognition of the difficulties that might bring about that result and intimated his willingness to stand by the outcome in any event. This means that if the deadlock continues indefinitely over the present adjournment, America will, all unwillingly, have to build more and more cruisers, submarines and destroyers and that Britain will gain nothing by her obstinacy in not accepting a program that would have saved both nations enormous expenditure.

One thing is clearly established by the collapse of the conference, and this is that while sincerely hoping for the reasonable limitation of naval armaments, America was not ready to concede everything in sight to gain that end, nor willing to accept anything less than true naval parity.

THE LURE OF YOSEMITE

The tourist guide books list only one Yosemite. It is our own—one of our truly great possessions. And in the month of June just past—not an accepted high-peak month of the summer season—780 automobiles from thirty-nine States, two Territories and two foreign countries entered the portals that inclose this bit of nature that will charm and soothe the men and women of the world as long as time shall be.

A striking feature of this report which detailed the number of foreign cars passing into the park during June is the statement that of these cars Washington sent 122 automobiles and Oregon eighty-six. These last figures attest the lure that this valley holds for those who love nature in her wildest and most sublime moments. For Washington is itself a State of wondrous beauty. It has waterfalls that are greater in volume perhaps than those of Yosemite. It has forests that are more entrancing even than the wooded hills of this gorge on the Merced. Washington's lakes and rivers are attracting more and more the beauty-seekers. Oregon is a beguiling land of mountains, sea and waters. It, too, has great natural playgrounds — waterfalls, lakes, streams that glisten in the yellow sunshine and tumble over rocks—but not a Yosemite. So the people of Washington and the automobile tourists of Oregon come—perhaps doubting—and go away filled with the mystery, the age-old sense of something almost supernatural, that hovers over the snow-clad peaks that fence this valley of subtle wizardry.

It is not the delicate Bridal Veil Falls that make Yosemite. El Capitan, rearing his white nightcap in the clouds, is not Yosemite. The Sentinel, standing guard for all time over the treasures of this storehouse, is not Yosemite. Mirror Lake is not paramount or even necessary to the painting that some Supreme Hand has worked on this great canvas. Glacier Point, the Merced River, North Dome, Washington Column and the Royal Arches—these are not Yosemite as they stand alone. But all together, as a composite picture, bustling with the wild life in the glory of the sunrise, calm with the hushed voices of the evening or wrapped in the somber mantle of the night—these are Yosemite, a mosaic of wild beauty.

Yosemite is no longer inaccessible, but with difficulty California has done its duty by this reservation. Broad, safe roads lead into the valley. It is no longer the trip of a pathfinder. But the secrets and the glories that nature has deposited there have been guarded by zealous hands in order that not one iota of its beauty may be lost to future generations while taking care of the present.

In a Gilded Cage

MEETING EUROPEAN COMPETITION

Americans read in greater quantities than any other race of people, but, sad to say, our consumption of print includes very little literature. Some demon statistician at Washington has figured out that the number of magazines and newspapers published last year amounted to 200 for every man, woman and child in the country. Against this huge figure there were just 1¾ books published for each member of our population and one-half of these were school text-books.

It is sadly true that most Americans confine their reading matter largely to magazines. We are a nation of short-story "hounds." The average person is too restless to settle down to an evening of quiet reading. Even if we wished to, the distractions at hand are too numerous to enable him to concentrate his attention on anything particularly lengthy. The movies struck the library a severe blow, and the radio may be said to have administered the knockout. This is an era when one can be highly entertained cheaply and without mental effort, and reading a book requires a little of the latter.

RUSSIAN BRAIN STORMS

Talk about fertile-brained American press agents! Those who have charge of the Moscow propaganda bureau easily will win in a walk any race with our fabricators of glowing statements, as a recent report emanating from the soviet capital will illustrate. The Bolshevik news factory sent out a dispatch stating that a group of students from Bates College of Lewiston, Me., touring through Russia, had expressed surprise that the soviet workers had made so few mistakes in their "gigantic attempt to revive the life of the nation on the basis of justice and humanity."

But now comes Harry W. Rowe, bursar and alumnus secretary of Bates College, who says that the institution has no student representation traveling in Russia, nor is anyone connected with the college officially touring that country. So that the soviet news report, as might have been expected, falls down completely Brain storms are of frequent occurrence in Red Russia, which has hatched up all kinds of yarns for home consumption about the hostile attitude of England, America and other countries in order to excite antipathy against them among its own people, who, if they realized the attitude of cool aloofness and utter indifference to their affairs, when they are not of an aggressive missionary nature, would not let their minds be troubled by the fantastic tilting at windmills in which their leaders so love to engage.

BIG FISTS

Jack Dempsey was accorded a monster welcome upon his return from his battle in New York. Seldom has any citizen received the plaudits that fistic Jack garnered on that colorful occasion. We would not snatch away a single leaf from the chaplet placed upon his brow by adoring friends or hush a word of praise given him by the multitude.

However, a scientist climbed into the High Sierras and captured the cosmic ray and flung the harness upon the pesky thing and brought it down out of the universe and exhibited it among men for the first time. He was given no special recognition by his fellow-citizens. He might have roped an Arizona canary as far as the crowd cared.

A local artist painted a picture of the desert that bids fair to command a fortune after the genius is dead and cannot use it. But no police had to rope back the gibbering throngs from the salon displaying it. Nobody lost his life trying to get a glimpse of him.

A rare soul indited a song that will linger in the heart of humanity while life will last upon the globe. Nobody met her with blaring bands of welcome. The streets were empty of all acclaim.

The financier went abroad and greatly served his country upon a delicate mission. Outside of his immediate family no one met him at the station. He slipped into town all unconscious of his greatness. No mob made a wild rush for souvenirs at his coming.

But a husky chap with big fists lambasts a fellow-mortal and doubles him up in defeat and we shout in exultation because our town possesses the bigger and better—fists. We fall down and worship muscle. We go into ecstasies over beef. Little wonder that schoolboys go in for football instead of scholarship. They need no sensitive detectors to locate the ideals of the masses.

QUANTITY NOT QUALITY

America in general is optimistic over the excellent reports of conditions from every section of the country, in industry, agriculture and business. While the individual producer has special troubles of his own, nature is in a generous mood and excellent crops are in prospect. The only note of discord is the fear expressed by some that the present good times will be followed by a series of lean years, with decreasing wages and loss of profits.

On this Charles M. Schwab, who is in condition to speak with authority, gives us a message at once of warning and cheer. His warning is that Europe is fast "coming back" to more than pre-war efficiency and her factories will soon be turning out vast quantities of goods, produced at costs materially below those of this country—principally by reason of low wages. Business cares nothing of methods of production, but is concerned solely with the question of its cost; hence the warning that American manufacturers must introduce economies in production if the present high wages and markets are to be maintained. This warning is timely, as all who have kept informed of European conditions know, but how shall we take advantage of it so as to compete successfully with future conditions?

Employers naturally wish to maintain wages that will enable the workers to enjoy the American scale of living. The most modern methods of scientific management and the most up-to-date labor-saving machinery are already in use. There remains to be considered only the labor element and the only way employers can enlist its aid in increasing production is by policies that appeal to the workers' sense of loyalty, enthusiasm and self-interest.

Mr. Schwab is a firm believer in co-operation. Speaking of his own great business, he says they could not make the success they have made without the whole-hearted aid of their men and the men know that the company is always ready to do all that it can, within reason, to advance their interests. The result is loyal co-operation with more than half of the men stockholders in the company. It is a further development of that American spirit of mutuality that will meet successfully European competition. "With it properly developed," says Mr. Schwab, "we can bring about still further achievements."

OVER THE HOT SANDS

By the time they get that railroad built across the Sahara Desert lines of planes may be flitting blithely from oasis to oasis and the road will only be important for freight. But the French Assembly is about to appropriate $800,000 toward the surveys and preliminaries for a trans-Sahara railway and some day it will be built. The desert is so immense that one railroad would almost seem lost in its vast spaces. Yet the value of a north and south line to civilization and commerce would be immense. It is nearly 1000 miles across the sandy waste at its narrowest point and the project would offer many new problems for the construction engineers. The French have pushed a chain of posts into the desert from Algeria for hundreds of miles, but the greater part of the Sahara is still an unknown world.

BARLEY CAME FIRST

Barley has been cultivated longer than wheat, as far as evidence now in hand indicates. In the Journal of Heredity, Dr. O. F. Cook, of the United States Department of Agriculture, discusses the researches of an English scientist, Prof. C. Elliott Smith, who has been examining the remains of grains found associated with the mummies of the most ancient times in Egypt—frequently inside them. In these oldest mummies, the grain is always barley, never wheat, whence the conclusion is drawn that the Egyptians knew barley long before they cultivated wheat.—[Indianapolis News.

PAYING THE PRICE

BY EUGENE BROWN

Dear Calvin: Your little note concerning your future withdrawal to the Presidency came to us as quite a shock. It leaves us in a sort of fog—if you know what I mean. We had rather figured on being all set for the next five years. Your action is a good deal like sending back the groceries that had been delivered.

I am the handsome man with the high forehead and low shoes who voted for you in my Glendale precinct some three years ago. Possibly you could recognize me by my voice, which has been mentioned as being a subdued baritone. It has also been referred to as vox populi by some of our foremost editors.

What I am getting at is this: We have been so well satisfied with your work and so sure that it would continue that we hate the thought of having to knock off for a month or two to pick another chief. In fact, we have grown a bit touchy about it.

You see, we have been able to save quite a bunch of government money and make a deep cut in our taxes. Most of our Presidents have been a bit careless in this matter. They have said that this was a big and beautiful country and it took a lot of money to run it—and they would see that the dough was spent. They could find no fun in piling up a surplus in the treasury while a horde of eager politicians sought to blow it in for the glory of the party.

That is why so many of them cannot understand your Scotch passion for thrift. Your adventure in running the country on business rather than political lines is clear over their heads. They can't speak the language. You have them fadded. Likewise the work you have been getting out of such citizens as Hoover, Mellon and the rest is most amazing. Those humans certainly know their spades. So you see that when things are running so well for the country the rest of us don't care so much what the politicians care about it. Let them snort.

But we hate to think of a break in the picture. We were running as smooth as an oiled watch and thought we were all fixed for the next five years when here comes your disturbing message. Now we are all up in the air. We are not even sure that we guess your intention. You had a lovely and desirable job and were holding it down to the queen's taste. Now it is a bit hard for us to understand your readiness to retire.

The thought sometimes comes that perhaps you crave a bit of real privacy. Mostly the President of our glorious democracy has about as much solitude as a drum major at an Elks' convention. Ofttimes I can realize the sorrow you must feel in being at the beck and mercy of every guy with a kodak. It must be a nuisance to be summoned from your breakfast in order to be photographed on your front porch in the company of some loose-lipped hero who is making a one-stop trip from Boston to Palm Beach on roller skates.

Before you can resume your bacon here comes a delegation from the ranks of the Amalgamated Nuts. They have been holding a convention in Philadelphia and ran over with a brass band to pay their respects. They calmly take possession of the place. They back you into a circle on the White House lawn and a flock of cameras snap you as you are pressing the perspiring fin of the grand geezer. The cameramen will tell you to smile, when you don't really know whether to cry or laugh out loud. After they have captured your grin the photographers will calmly request you to bring out the wife and dogs and make it a real picture.

Any time the secretary of the Peewee Club of Mossville is in Washington he has to have his picture taken as standing on the White House piazza with his arm carelessly thrown over your shoulder to indicate the chummy relationship. You never saw him before and hope you never will again, but there he is giving a treat to the camera at your expense.

You may not be very beautiful, but you have to be mighty good to stand all this monkey business. The Americans have gone dotty over the camera. One-half the people come to California to photograph her majestic mountains, her mighty trees, her spreading seas and other impressive scenic effects. The other half will bring up in Washington and seek to film their great executive in any posture in which he may be captured. They snap him at his desk, at his lunch, in his library or as he walks or rides.

And you have to look pleasant through it all.

I'll bet $1 that they have tried many a time to catch you in your bathtub. A Hollywood cameraman would put it across the first day. Even when you are on your vacation the kodak fiends are still hot on your trail. They have shot you wearing hats that date back to Buffalo Bill. They have sought to make you smile while impaling a helpless worm on a barbed hook and they have snapped you trying to coax a reluctant raccoon from the tree on which it had found lodging.

All this is mighty embarrassing to the dignity of a sober American citizen and sometimes we feel that the man who holds the Presidency pays a frightful price for the honor.

Perhaps that is the way you feel about it.

So no more at present.

Cleanse skin of make-up, etc., this way, if "That schoolgirl complexion" is your aim

By NORMA SHEARER

LETTING make-up, powder and rouge stay on the face over night is a grave beauty mistake. That tends to clog the pores; invites blackheads and imperfections.

Hence experts urge nightly cleansing with a TRUE COMPLEXION SOAP and water.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly at night. Note how much better your skin in even one week.

GET REAL PALMOLIVE

Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and TAKE CARE. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

SOCIETY

BY MYRA NYE

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Trippet II have made the sudden and happy decision to travel for an indefinite time in continental Europe, Egypt and the British Isles. A bon voyage party will be given in their honor by Mrs. Trippet's sister, Miss Jean Wilson, tomorrow evening at her parents' home in Hollywood. The affair will be a dinner-bridge and covers will be laid for thirty-six.

Mr. and Mrs. Trippet have recently returned to Los Angeles from Palo Alto, where they resided at 332 Forest avenue during the university year. Mr. Trippet received his B.A. degree in June and passed the California bar this week. The young people expect to sail from New York the 20th inst., and will purchase a motor car at Havre, thence motoring extensively for at least six months. Upon their return they will reside in this city.

Wraith-Howson

Miss Helen Howson, only daughter of Miss Grace Howson, was married Tuesday afternoon to Howard Wraith. The lovely bride was frocked in flesh-colored chiffon and her attendant, Miss Ione Kenkins, was attired in an orchid frock of the same material.

Herbert Terry was the bridegroom's attendant.

The marriage was celebrated in St. Augustin's-by-the-Sea at Santa Monica.

Mr. and Mrs. Wraith left for a brief honeymoon in Yosemite Valley, and will reside at 720 North Ridgewood Place, Hollywood, upon their return.

Mr. Wraith, who is associated with the Standard Oil Company, is president of Alpha Sigma Phi Gamma fraternity.

San Diego Wedding

A wedding of great interest which was announced only yesterday occurred several weeks ago at the home of Mrs. Mary Howes, 1228 Twenty-third street, San Diego, when Giacomo Spadoni of Chicago and Miss Helen Outland of Los Angeles were united in marriage.

Mr. Spadoni, a native of Northern Italy and a graduate of the Bologna Musical Conservatory, is world famous in operatic circles. In 1910 he was engaged by Pietro Mascagni to produce "Isabeau" in New York City. He has been with the Chicago Opera Company as assistant conductor and coach for ten years, with the Ravinia Opera Company for eight seasons, and with the California Opera Company for five seasons. He has served as assistant conductor and chorus director of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Company, and has conducted operas in Mexico, Havana, Cuba; New York City, Chicago and Ravinia Park. Maestro Spadoni has been re-engaged with the Chicago Civic Opera Company for two more years. His family is an honored one in Italy, where his grandfather, Felice Orsini, was a leader and martyr in the cause of liberty for his country in the time of Napoleon III. Maestro Spadoni is a naturalized American citizen.

Mrs. Spadoni, who has been residing the past three years with her mother, Mrs. Lenora Outland, and her brother, Hadley Outland of 1959 La Salle avenue, Los Angeles, is a brilliant young pianist of Chicago, being a member of the Chicago Women Musicians' Club and other musical clubs of Chicago, having received her education in the Bush Temple Conservatory of Music and the Chicago College of Music.

Maestro and Mrs. Spadoni are spending the summer at Highland Park, near Chicago, where Maestro Spadoni is conducting his ninth season with the Ravinia Opera Association. They expect to return to Los Angeles for the opera season this fall and will then make their home here.

From Lake Arrowhead

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Condley of Hudson street have returned from a sojourn at Arrowhead Lake Lodge, where they spent a week boating and fishing.

Mrs. Lannie Haynes Martin, who spent two weeks at Lake Arrowhead as the guest of Mrs. Nellie Coffman, is spending part of August in Long Beach visiting Dr. Josephine Jackson. Dr. Jackson has opened her attractive beach home after nearly a year's travel through Europe.

To New York

Mrs. Harold Lacy and daughter, Miss Violet Lacy, of 2275 Mar Vista, Altadena, left Monday for New York. They plan to visit relatives en route and sail for Europe next Tuesday for a tour of the British Islands and continental Europe.

At Hotel Del Monte

Dr. G. P. Waller of Los Angeles and Miss L. P. Waller of Washington, D.C., are spending the week at Hotel del Monte.

Happy News

Mr. and Mrs. Loren William Odell are happy in the arrival of a son, Loren William, Jr., born at the Hollywood Hospital, July 28. Mrs. Odell formerly was Grace Lucille Muir, and is from Hammond, Ind.

Returned

Dr. and Mrs. John V. Barrow with their two sons, John and Carlos, have just returned from an enjoyable vacation of three weeks, when they visited Yellowstone Park, fished and hunted in the high mountains and enjoyed the trails on horseback. On their way home they visited at Lake Tahoe for several days.

For Alaska

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dnuneen, Mrs. Grace B. Caress, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Caress and small daughter Eleanor, are leaving on the S.S. Alexandria for Seattle, where they will connect with the Dorothy Alexander for Alaska.

Mrs. Thompson Will Entertain

Invitations were received yesterday from Mrs. Charles Henry Thompson for a high tea to compliment and honor Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Hertz, Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, the 19th inst., from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon at her home, 10001 Sunset Boulevard.

Dr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Pierce and Master Clarence Cook Pierce have returned from a five weeks' trip to Alaska.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

Much has been written about the menace of thumb-sucking. It arches the roof of a child's mouth; it causes the teeth to grow out of alignment so that mastication is difficult. Malnutrition follows because of the inability to chew the food properly and to eat enough because of this difficulty. Adenoids are encouraged because of the constant sucking.

All these effects are well-known ones attributed to thumb-sucking but heretofore we have laid it to the action of the sucking and not to the underlying real cause which is rickets. Rickety children are much more likely to be thumb-suckers than the healthy child. This is due undoubtedly to the child's malnutrition, his unsatisfied appetite and the comfort he gets from his thumb. The reason for the malformation of the mouth is because the bones of rickety children are soft and easily bent and pushed out of shape. Such children are subject to bow-legs and knock-knees and pigeon-breasts all because the weight of the body is too great for the soft bones and they are bent out of shape. This happens also to the thumb-sucking child. The soft bones of the roof of the mouth are easily misshapen by the constant suction.

All of this should make it clear when a child persistently sucks the thumb or fingers the first way to cure it is to be sure that his diet is correct, that he has plenty of sunlight and that he gets cold-liver oil. This removes the cause of the thumb-sucking and if the child is not rickety the thumb-sucking will not cause the malformations of the mouth. This puts thumb-sucking somewhat out of the class of habits to be cured and puts it into the correction-of-diet class. Surely this should allay the worries of the mother who is struggling to break her child of thumb-sucking. Correct the diet so there is no danger of rickets and then let the habit take care of itself.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

(This is a continuation of several articles I have written for you on the subject of rheumatic fever. I hope you have saved the other articles, and I suggest that you make a scrapbook of them to serve as future reference.)

TREATMENT AFTER RHEUMATIC FEVER

After the rheumatic fever has subsided and the temperature is again normal, the patient will find himself very weak and, in many cases, he will be unable to support his own weight for a few days. Exercise should be started cautiously, first in bed, remembering to keep the body well covered with woolen bedclothing or woolen garments. However, no exercise of any kind should be taken as long as there is the slightest fever.

When the temperature has been normal for at least twenty-four hours patient should start taking light finger and arm exercises, and finally mild exercises with the legs. As soon as the patient can support his own weight he should take short walks through the rooms of the house, taking only a few steps at first and gradually increasing the distance, with long periods of rest in between times.

There will be a very slow increase of appetite, and no heavy food should be used for several days. The non-starchy vegetables, such as spinach, string beans, summer squash, etc., may be used, either cooked or raw, and the patient should be encouraged to eat liberally of these vegetables even though not having much appetite. This is because, while these vegetables are low in food value, they furnish bulky material which will assist in bringing away much poisonous mucus from the alimentary tract and assist in getting the digestive system in good condition to take care of more nourishing foods.

One enema daily should be continued for several weeks in order to assure proper intestinal cleanliness.

As soon as the appetite returns, an egg or two a day may be added to the diet, together with well-browned Melba toast. Then, after a few days, a quarter of a pound of lean meat should be taken daily if the appetite dictates. Starches and sugars should not be used for some time.

The patient must not try to go back to regular duties until he is sufficiently strong, and until the heart action is The pulse will be with a proper gime, will slow within a short time.

The one who has a spell of rheumatic member that it can again in the same fore. It will be well over again the first which appeared on Wednesday.

COLD MEAT WITH TOMATO JELLY

Place a finely chopped onion in an earthenware saucepan. Cook in butter until the onion browns. Then pour in a small can of tomatoes or four large fresh tomatoes. Break a stalk of celery into very small pieces and add to the tomatoes. Add also a tablespoonful of wine vinegar, half a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of paprika. Dissolve four tablespoonfuls of gelatin in twice the quantity of cold water. Pour this into the pan and stir well. When all have been thoroughly blended, pour into a mold that has an open center. When cold pour from the mold and fill the center with chopped cold meat. Veal, lamb and chicken are delicious thus served.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Dry in the Dark

Dry the white silk stockings at night or in the cellar where it is dark. Strong light will turn them an ugly yellow.

Keep Them in Shape

Before cleaning white shoes be sure and put shoe trees in them. The wet cleaning is apt to get the shoes out of shape unless they are held firmly.

Cleaning Bronze

Dust the bronze ornament well. Then rub with a cloth moistened with sweet oil. Polish with a soft chamois until it glows and all stains are removed.

Flying Crumbs

When grinding stale bread in the food chopper tie a paper bag on the end of the grinder. This will prevent the crumbs from flying all over the floor.

Greasy Heads

If you have a day-bed or box couch that is along the wall where guests will lean their heads against the paper, hang a print or tapestry over the place. They can be cleaned more readily than greasy wall paper.

Rubber Gloves

Many housewives wear rubber gloves for most of their housework. They will wear so much longer if after they have been washed, rinsed and dried they are sprinkled with dry cornstarch both inside and out. The gloves can be slipped on readily, too, if this is done.

THESE SUMMER JOBS

"Oh, Professor, I beg your pardon," [illegible] in confusion. I had just been [illegible] to tip him a dime.

"Oh, that's all right," he laughed [illegible]; "the tips are taken into [illegible] in my pay, you know. [illegible] small regular stipend and the [illegible] up the rest."

[illegible] that I held the dime awkwardly now, how can one tip [illegible] professor? But I finally got [illegible] hand, still more awkward [illegible] to receive it, and tried [illegible] the incident by saying flip[illegible] that I hoped he would accept [illegible] quite a matter of dis[illegible] to have tipped a professor. [illegible], he had taken a summer [illegible] parking station near a big [illegible] theater. I hadn't quite real[illegible] professors often take sum[illegible]. Of course, college boys [illegible] in these summer jobs [illegible] of them are in the tip[illegible], as it were. There is just [illegible] about tipping that feels [illegible] lacks dignity—for the [illegible]. And accepting tips must [illegible] undesirable affect upon any [illegible] characters.

[illegible] a bright college girl who [illegible] at a summer resort as a [illegible]. Her pay was $25 a month [illegible] but the tips often amount[illegible] $15 a week. Bragging [illegible] amount of their tips was [illegible] the game. She had gone up [illegible] pretty, dainty, refined miss. [illegible] than three months, she [illegible] with quite a little hard[illegible] her pretty mouth. [illegible] had over $200 accumulated [illegible] for it. But somehow I could [illegible] it was worth the price.

[illegible] there was the dear boy that [illegible] as a steward on a steam[illegible] during his college vaca[illegible]. There, too, the tips were a [illegible] part of his pay. He too, came back $200 richer—but he had lost something somehow in his self-respect. You cannot feel the social equal of a person who can tip you. And that waiting-hand attitude for every small service, which must inevitably accrue from a job in which tips form the larger part of the reward, is cheapening, hardening.

On the other hand, I know half a dozen manly college boys who went out to work on the land during vacation. They dug irrigation ditches, they hoed weeds, pruned trees, picked fruit, baled hay, fed cattle, built fences—working side by side with Mexicans as common laborers. No tips for those jobs—eight hours work for eight hours pay. These boys came home with a nice little wad too, and their self-respect strengthened. No one has been able to patronize them with dimes and quarters. They get hot and dirty, they sleep in uncomfortable quarters, they eat coarse food—but they keep their manhood unimpaired. Every cent they earned was earned by the sweat of their manly young brows.

I am always hearing traveling Americans snort disgustedly about the everlasting hands waiting for tips in Europe. Anyone would suppose that the nefarious tipping system had been abolished in this country. One American was astonished that he should have been able to tip a country station master in Europe—but he wasn't half as astonished as when I was able to tip a gentlemanly young college professor at that parking station, that the job actually took these tips into permanent consideration. There is no real democracy in a country where tipping is not only prevalent but encouraged. There is a curious difference between personal and impersonal service. And the ditch-digger has it all over the waiter or the steward in manly independence.

SEVEN TIMES A GOVERNOR

In the long list of men who have served as executives of the various States of the American union few can claim such a record of service as Aram J. Pothier, who is now serving his seventh term as Governor of Rhode Island. Gov. Pothier recently celebrated his seventy-third birthday anniversary. He is a native of Quebec who emigrated to the United States soon after completing his schooling and located in Woonsocket, R. I. In 1875 he became a clerk in a bank with which he has ever since been identified. In 1887 he entered upon his public career as a member of the lower house of the Rhode Island Legislature. Subsequently he served as auditor and Mayor of his home city of Woonsocket. In 1898 he became Lieutenant-Governor of Rhode Island and in 1909 was first elected to the Governorship. Gov. Pothier's present term will expire in 1929.—[Exchange.

SAVED BY ANGLER

Fishing from a little boat 100 feet off shore in the Little Manatee River, Ruskin, Fla., Daniel Holloway upset the boat in attempting to raise the anchor and struggled helplessly in the water. His son, Horace, unable to swim, and with no other help near, made a cast with rod and line. The hooks of the bass lure caught in the clothing of the drowning man. His son drew him to shore and revived him.

CO-EDS SHOW THEIR SKILL AS MERMAIDS

Pool Program Feature

Diving performance given at University of California at Los Angeles.

Expert co-ed swimmers at the University of California at Los Angeles demonstrated every form of water entertainment from designing flower gardens in the university pool to aquatic wrestling matches at the summer-session splash yesterday afternoon.

To the music of a violin the girls showed the crowd of students how to paddle in rhythm. The tilting contests resulted in the defeated co-eds taking unexpected dips in the pool.

In forming the flower gardens bright colored bathing caps were worn and the participants treaded water in the positions designated by the swimming instructors in charge. Exhibition diving and trick swimming rounded out the water demonstration which was given under the direction of women swimming instructors. Members of the advanced classes of co-eds who have taken instruction in the pool this summer were the participants.

CLIPPED WHISKERS OF THACKERAY BUST

To clip the whiskers of the famous dead enshrined in marble in Westminster Abbey is a curious fancy for a gentle little old lady to harbor, but the way Lady Ritchie, Thackeray's daughter, succeeded in trimming the whiskers of her father's bust in the Poets' Corner of the abbey is told by Mrs. Desmond MacCarthy in her reminiscences, "A Nineteenth Century Childhood."

For many years, whenever she went to the abbey, Lady Ritchie had deplored the length of the whiskers on each side of the face of her father's bust. The Italian sculptor, Marochetti, made them too long and they spoiled the likeness for her. She longed to have them clipped, and so at last she begged Onslow Ford, the sculptor, and the dean of Westminster, to let her have her wish. As usual she won her way.

Mrs. MacCarthy, then a young girl, drove one morning to the abbey with Lady Ritchie—who was her aunt. The dean was ready for them. He led them down into the crypt, where they found in an alcove Mr. Ford, his assistant, and the bust of William Makepeace Thackeray that had been moved there from its niche in the Poets' Corner. Mr. Ford was very cross, for he did not like undoing another sculptor's work, and if the daughter of Thackeray had not been such a charming old lady it is probable that she would not have had her own way.

Finally, the job done, the bust was flicked over with a cloth as after a shave, and carried up into the nave and back into its own niche, and the silence and dignity of the abbey received it again. Lady Ritchie surveyed it in silence, and then departed.

"Aunt Anny is a little emotional as she gets into the victoria," chronicles Mrs. MacCarthy, "smiling at her tears, then weeping again a little at her smiles; she is triumphant, for it has been a great relief to her mind."—[Exchange.

CANNIBALS GO IN FOR MUCH REFORM

The British Solomon Islands have for generations been the paradise of the romantic novelist, the happy hunting ground of head-hunters, one of the last strongholds of cannibalism.

But it is all untrue. The Solomon Islander would be insulted and shocked if he were accused of what he would call, in beche de mer talk, "Kai Kai man."

One frisky youth on a plantation where the Burns Philp Company's steamer loads copra once called out tauntingly to the boys in the surf boats, "Hurry up, you-man-along-bush. You fellar savey Kai Kai man. You too slow. You all the same Mary" (woman.)

Whether the allusion to their forefathers' cannibalism was the unbearable insult or whether the comparison with women angered them beyond endurance, no one was quite sure, but the short boys bolted into the brush when these boat crews leaped on shore armed with sticks and knives to make them swallow their ill-chosen jeers regarding cannibalism and women.

I am convinced that the present-day native of Fiji and the British Solomon Islands has an abhorrence of cannibalism and that its practice has ceased.

It is true, however, that the natives of Malaita, in the Solomons, are fierce and suspicious, and treat every man as a possible foe until he has proved a friend. They seek immediate revenge if they are satisfied that one of their people has lost his life as the result of an assault by a European employer stationed at one of the plantations in the Solomons. They do not wait for the particular white man who committed the grievance. All heads of white men are equal to them, and woe betide the first recruiter of laborers or trader whose vessel touches at their village. He may be, if he is not exceedingly careful and well armed, destined by these natives to be the sacrifice which will atone for the death of their countryman.

A bad employer is hated by other respectable Europeans who recruit native laborers. They are never sure that they have not been singled out as a proxy for the offender.—[R. F. Thompson in the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

HE FOUND THE SKINS

When Fred Gun-a-Noot, a northern Indian, was in Stewart, B. C., last fall, he was deeply impressed with a large auto. Being told the price in dollars his face fell, but when told that fifty beaverskins would buy the car he grinned and departed. Winter and spring passed and the dealer was surprised to see Fred back with a grin that spread over his countenance. His surprise was greater when the Indian conducted him to a pile of fifty prime skins averaging $40 each. That closed the deal.—[Vancouver Times.

MONA LISA'S SMILE

Leonardo Da Vinci's famous painting of Mona Lisa has an interesting history that is partly legendary. According to history the artist, some time in the first five years of the sixteenth century, painted a portrait of Lisa Gioconda, a rich notable of Florence, Italy.

The favorite story is that he lingered over the task for years and that he never quite finished the portrait to his satisfaction. According to legend, Da Vinci painted more than one portrait of Lisa. It is related that one was delivered unfinished to the woman's husband, who was not very enthusiastic about it. Then he painted another which he worked up in a special manner with a view to capturing the French King's attention. As Lisa was then dead, he put into the canvas something that never was in her—something that he supposedly got out of himself. And it was that something that produced the celebrated "enigmatic smile"—a smile of the eyes, not of the lips, that has bewitched the world ever since.—[Kansas City Star.

Economic distress caused by a hailstorm July 13, 1788, helped to start off the French revolution.

Aged slowly in wood for FLAVOR

Do you know Heinz Vinegar is so good because it is aged in wood—a patient, leisurely process that mellows and matures it? That is why it has the true bouquet, aroma and flavor which only slowly aged vinegar can have.

Because of this, Heinz Vinegar improves every sort of sauce and dressing. It brings out the natural flavors in green things. It makes a delicious salad dressing and gives a refreshing, inviting taste to ever so many hot weather dishes.

RADIO BANQUET BOOSTS SHOW

Good Attendance Marks Annual Affair

Pianist Furnishes High Spot on KHJ Program

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

It looked last night as if everyone around Los Angeles who is interested in radio, except the fans and artists, was crowded into the banquet hall of the Alexandria.

Practically every member of the Radio Trades Association, representatives from six of the local broadcast studios, and a handful from allied industries, such as the electric, music and similar fields, were represented to the tune of upward of 500 persons.

The event was the annual banquet and festivities preliminary to the Los Angeles radio show which will open this year at the Ambassador on September 5, next, as the "Radio Show Beautiful."

According to Waldo T. Tupper, show manager, the 1927 exposition will be the largest ever held west of Chicago both in dimensions, quality and variety of exhibits. The California show will be held previous to the other two large shows at Chicago and New York.

FIRST DISPLAY HERE

These three local points in the radio trades of the country always bring out the largest attendance crowds and the latest in radio equipment. This year a large number of local displays from the exposition will journey to the East at the close of the show to be demonstrated there.

According to Tupper's address of the evening, there will be three inventions of more than passing interest at the Southern California affair. The speaker declared he was definitely assured of a radio-controlled automobile display as well as a Vitaphone demonstration. Negotiations are also under way with the patent holder of television for a unique display at the local event, but the negotiations are still in their preliminary stages.

As president of the association John W. Boothe presided. He said that Victor M. Clark, in past years impresario for the Los Angeles show, will again have charge of this phase of the work, while F. C. Porter, at one time secretary of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, will assist in a managerial capacity.

Tupper laid particular stress on the miracles of the modern science of radio and the appropriate displays which will be brought forth at the September gathering.

AUTO TO BE FEATURE

One feature of the showmanship at the exposition will be the radio-controlled automobile which will parade around town before and during the show, according to the exposition director.

Last night's affair was attended by a contagiously enthusiastic audience which augurs well for the success of the 1927 radio fashion show.

The high spots of the musical broadcast from KHJ last evening included J. Walter Leopold, composer-pianist, in some of his popular song hits. Leopold, who is appearing locally in vaudeville, is a frequent performer from the studio.

Harriet Andrews, accompanied by Mrs. Walter C. Fisher, entertained for the first time since her return from the north. Her radio program included ballad songs and semiclassic selections.

WIDE WORLD HEARD

There are few ensembles that can offer such a wide versatility of programs as the Zoellner uartet and their Thursday KHJ program brought from all corners of the earth a musical treat.

The opening number was a quartet by Alfred Hillan, Australian composer, which was followed by a suite for two violins and piano by the Polish composer, Moszkowski. America was next represented by Nevin with his Venetian Love Song; then Russian with Gretchaninov and his Andante opus 2. Concluding the Zoellner recital was the Danish folk song, Roselil, by Sandby.

The KHJ child hour brought to the ether waves Joyce Coad, "Little Red Riding Hood," with a Pocahontas story, Dickie Brandon, screen juvenile, with a Guest poem; David Rosenthal, saxophone pupil of Lewis D'Ippolito, of the Thompson Progressive School of Music, with a Chenette and Friedland selection; Rosetta Lewin, "Curly Locks," in recitations; Leonard Stein, juvenile pianist, in a Mendelssohn selection, and Katherine McCoy, child singer, in an interesting group.

OFFICERS IN VAIN CHASE OF ROBBERS

Fugitives Make Escape After Police Interrupt Activities in Hollywood

A robbery and an attempted robbery late last night led Detective Lieutenants Cowart and Dickey in a backyard chase in Hollywood after they had surprised a man said to have attempted to enter the home of J. D. Maliboff, 912 North Madison avenue, and two others who had just left the home of Vincent J. Orlando, 4401 Burns avenue, after taking clothing from the latter home, according to a report by the officers at Hollywood Station.

At the Madison-avenue address a neighbor reported that a man was attempting to enter by a screen window. When officers arrived the intruder fled with the officers in pursuit. Although they fired a volley of shots he refused to stop and eluded the officers.

As they were going back to their automobile the officers heard a woman scream and arrived at the home of Orlando where the cries were coming from, but were too late to capture two men who had entered by a back stair and stolen guests' clothing during the course of a party on the lower floor of the house.

Captain of Detectives Cahill of Georgia Street Station was on his way home last night when he saw a man, he reported, trying to enter a house at 1504 West Eighth street. The suspect gave his name as Ralph Phillips, 25 years of age, and said that he arrived in Los Angeles early last night. He was booked on a charge of suspicion of robbery.

OHIOANS PLAN OUTING

Harry B. George, president of the Ohioans, is completing plans for the summer outing of the Buckeyes in Bixby Park, Long Beach, Saturday. He and Secretary Frank M. Bering plan to care for 20,000 at the county headquarters. The program will include song and oratory. Orra Monnette, native of the Buckeye State, will be one of the speakers. Every Ohioan, from the northern line to the southern, is invited to come and meet the old friends.

FAST EATER

People at Shelbina, Mo., are still wondering how many grains of corn an industrious rooster can pick up in sixty minutes. This uncertainty resulted when a rooster in a store window quit and went to sleep after eating 744 grains in ten minutes. The merchants owning the rooster had offered a prize to the person making the nearest guess to the number the bird would eat in an hour.

RICH WOMAN TRIES SUICIDE

Mrs. Mabel Anna Schiffman Takes Poison

Was Given $5,000,000 in Suit for Separation

Hospital Surgeons Say She Will Survive

Mrs. Mabel Anna Schiffman, who filed a separate maintenance suit against her reputed millionaire husband, Rudolph J. Schiffman, October 22, 1925, was taken to the Receiving Hospital last night suffering from admittedly self-administered poison. Police Surgeon Saverein was unable to diagnose the poison, and as Mrs. Schiffman's condition was serious she was ordered to the psychopathic ward of the General Hospital.

In the suit against her husband, who is the son of the late Dr. Rudolph Schiffman, wealthy patent-medicine manufacturer, $15,000,000 in community property was listed. In a court judgment May 11, last, she won an award of approximately $5,000,000.

DONE WITH THIS EARTH

Detective-Lieutenants Jarvis and Hamilton immediately began an investigation of the asserted suicide attempt. Upon questioning Mrs. Schiffman they declared she told them she was "done with this earth" and if this attempt on her life failed she would make another.

Mrs. Schiffman was taken to the hospital from her home at 718 South Hobart Boulevard. The officers questioned Mrs. K. Wold, a sister, 460 Witmer street, who summoned the police ambulance. She was reticent under questioning, the officers said, but they determined that Mrs. Schiffman was in litigation with her husband who is in Europe.

The name entry on the hospital blotter was "Annabelle Gorman," which was Mrs. Schiffman's maiden name. Her age was given as 37. Police surgeons believed the crisis was past when she was ordered under psychopathic observation.

ONCE DIVORCED

In Mrs. Schiffman's separate-maintenance suit the property listed included real estate, bonds and cash. She charged her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment, declaring that he separated from her December 6, 1924, going to Europe, where he has since resided in Paris and Berlin. At that time she said he had never written to her or communicated with her.

She asked the custody of a son, Rudolph J. Schiffman, Jr., which was granted May 11, last.

When Dr. Schiffman died his son was not mentioned in the will, but it later developed that valuable properties had been placed in trust with a Minnesota corporation.

The Schiffman's were once divorced in St. Louis, but remarried in New York City February 24, 1920 and have the 16-year-old son, Rudolph, Jr.

RITES FOR EX-STUDENT TOMORROW

Services Arranged for Former University Man Killed in Auto Crash

Funeral services for Gilbert P. Helms, 23 years of age, and formerly a prominent student at the University of California, who was killed instantly yesterday morning in an automobile accident, will be conducted from the W. A. Brown funeral parlors, 1815 South Flower street, tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Mr. Helms was traveling on San Fernando Boulevard between Newhall and Saugus when he crashed into a truck. He was thrown against the post of the windshield of his roadster, which resulted in his instant death.

An active student in campus affairs at the State university in Berkely, he was a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and was manager of his fraternity house while in school. He finished his commerce course there in 1926 and had since been in the real estate and oil business in Los Angeles.

He leaves his mother, Jessie Helms Hersee, 27 Avenue 42, Venice; a sister, Marjorie Helms, a recent graduate of Los Angeles High School, and an uncle, Roger S. Page, Los Angeles attorney.

ADDED SEQUENCES TO BE FILMED BY URSON

Studio advices on Frank Urson's production, originally based on the Richard Harding Davis story, "The Bar Sinister," have been so glowing that Cecil B. De Mille yesterday granted an appropriation for making added sequences for the picture, a forthcoming novelty of the movie season.

The Urson film is now called "Beautiful But Dumb," and parallels the vicissitudes of three human characters and a trio of canines. Vera Reynolds is starred with Kenneth Thomson and Claire McDowell in support.

The De Mille studio looks to the Urson feature to win laurels as the most unusual novelty of the coming film season and the De Mille aide and director is currently developing his story to its fullest cinematic scope, launching production on new sequences yesterday.

THEATER NAMES NIGHT FOR FIRST NATIONAL

Lewis Stone, Donald Reed, Natalie Kingston, Virginia Lee Corbin, Jack Mulhall, Dorothy Mackaill, Harry Langdon, Johnny Hines, Doris Kenyon, Billy Dove, Ben Lyon and Alice White are among the First National stars who will attend the Saturday midnight performance of Will Morrissey's "Exposures," now playing at Macloon's Music Box Theater in its third week, according to an unconfirmed story.

"First National Night" will be officially observed at the popular midnight performance, and special numbers are being planned to celebrate the occasion.

This is the second of the series of studio nights planned by Morrissey. It is his intention to "honor" a different Hollywood studio every Saturday midnight.

GAG MAN IS MADE DIRECTOR

Lew Lipton to Put M.-G.-M. Comedy Team Through Paces; Fox Signs Two Former Noted Paramount Directors; Three Hopeful of Playing Lorelei

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Lew Lipton's job used to be to think up funny things for the actors to do. Now he has got to get out on the set and tell them how to do it.

It was all settled yesterday down at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio that being a mere gag man was hiding Lipton's light under a bushel. So he was handed a megaphone together with his first directorial job.

That job will be nothing less than putting George K. Arthur and Karl Dane through their paces in the next co-starring wagon of the two. It is to be a film version of Margaret Mayo's old farce, "Baby Mine," which served to open Daly's Theater in New York in 1910, and which has been playing off and on everywhere ever since.

Lipton has been acting as comedy constructionist at M.-G.-M. studios during the past three years, indeed ever since and before the movies gave the gag-men their new title.

F. Hugh Herbert and Sylvia Thalberg are writing the adaptation and work on the picture will be commenced as soon as the scenario is finished and the cast selected.

This will be the second co-starring vehicle of the comic duo, the former being that highly successful picture, "Rookies."

A film version was formerly made of the play, about ten years ago, by Samuel Goldwyn and Edgar Selwyn.

Three Hopefuls as "Blond"

Scouting about yesterday, trying to find out ahead of official announcement time if possible who would probably play the much-talked-of role of Lorelei in Paramount's film version of Anita Loos's "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," I learned from one of those talkative little birds so often spoken about but so seldom met up with, that there are three candidates who, at this writing, have each an excellent chance of landing the Lorelei job.

EDNA MURPHY

The young actresses in question are Edna Murphy, Greta Nissen and Constance Howard. Anita Loos, who presumably knows better than anybody else what actress most resembles her brain child, is aiding in the selection. She leaves shortly for Del Monte, however, where she is to work on the picture script.

Fox's Two New Directors

Two new directors have been signed by Fox Films, according to announcement by Sol M. Wurtzel, general superintendent of the West Coast Studios. They are Richard Rosson and Victor Heerman, both associated with Paramount until recently.

Heerman's first directorial assignment for Fox will be "Ladies Must Dress," an original story by Ray Cannon, which he will make under the supervision of Kenneth Hawks. Rosson has not yet been assigned a story.

Jessel's Big Cast

Having completed the first picture starring George Jessel, Warner Brothers are going right ahead with plans for his second, "Sailor Izzy Murphy," which will have a pretentious cast. Audrey Ferris, as heretofore announced, will be the leading lady.

GEORGE JESSEL

Warner Oland will have an important featured part, and Otto Lederer, John Miljan and Theodore Lorch will have important roles. The story was written by E. T. Lowe, Jr.

Pola Negri and Hubby Depart

Mystery surrounds the departure of Pola Negri and her husband, Prince Serge Mdivani, from town yesterday. The pair left for a ten-day vacation, but kept their destination a secret. However, we did learn that the Paramount star and her husband are to spend their vacation at a mountain resort, and one rather suspects it is Lake Arrowhead.

POLA NEGRI

"I am going away for a real rest," said Miss Negri. "That is why I do not wish anyone to know where we shall be."

Upon Miss Negri's return she will be active preparing for her next starring vehicle, which will be a story by Ernest Vajda, Hungarian playwright, based on the life of Rachel, famous French tragedienne.

Mel Brown Triumphant

Wearing a smile like the cat that has been at the cream, Mel Brown came home yesterday from Santa Barbara, where he had been showing his latest Universal picture, "Buck Privates," during the American Legion convention there, the picture meeting with a howlingly enthusiastic reception at the hands of the ex-soldiers.

Every male player in the picture is an ex-service man, which makes it a unique production. The background is the Rhineland country during its occupation by American troops.

Mr. Brown tells me that he expects to start camera work on his next production, "No. 10 Washington Square," in about three weeks. Harry O. Hoyt and Jack Townley are working on the story.

Edward Connelly In It

Edward Connelly, stage and screen veteran who won much popularity years ago when he interpreted the role of the old colonel in "In Old Kentucky," Charles Dazey's famous racing melodrama, is going to have a nice part in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture version. He will be seen in the role of the Sheriff. Edward Martindel will play the old southern colonel.

AUTOS STOLEN

The following cars were reported stolen in the past twenty-four hours from the streets of Los Angeles by the theft bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California:

Chevrolet coupe, 1364-312; Hupmobile touring, 1176-700; Buick coupe, 1332-333; Chevrolet touring, 1249-049; Chevrolet touring, 621-961; Jordan roadster, 1178-595; Ford roadster, 1346-412; Willys brougham, 1063-016; Chevrolet roadster, 958-439; Ford touring, 10-667 Ariz.; Ford roadster, 807-677; Ford touring, 1133-049; Essex roadster, 866-287; Paige roadster, 586-630.

TOO MUCH OF GREAT MAN

John Morley's "Life of Gladstone" is, of course, one of the greatest biographies ever written. Dr. Charles F. Thwing, president emeritus of Western Reserve University, was once discussing it with Morley, and the latter told him that Mr. Gladstone left no fewer than 300,000 distinct pieces of paper, some of large, some of small, content; some of great significance, some of no meaning.

"But I had to examine each one, and it almost killed me," added Morley.

Morley was once staying with Andrew Carnegie and a phonograph was doing its best to entertain the company by grinding out its songs and speeches.

"Would it not be good if we had had the phonograph in the days of Mr. Gladstone and could have preserved his voice for our present hearing?" remarked Mr. Carnegie.

John Morley replied with a wearisome sigh:

"I heard Mr. Gladstone's voice all I wanted to."—[Exchange.

PITY THE WHALE!

The lesson was about "Jonah," and the teacher wished to emphasize the fact that Jonah's disobedience caused discomfort to all on the ship.

"Jonah suffered for his disobedience, but who else had to suffer because the prophet sinned?" he asked.

"Please, sir, the whale," replied one boy.—[Exchange.

"OLD-TIMERS" TO GATHER

To bring before the public the actors of previous years, the Hollywood Play House will hold an "Old-timers' Night" on the 15th inst., for all the elderly troupers now in Southern California. The ooId-timers" will witness a performance of "If I Was Rich," the current comedy hit of William Anthony McGuire.

Charles Dow Clark, well-known trouper and now enacting the role of Splevin in the play, will act as host. At the conclusion of the performance he will introduce the men whose names have been household words in America and Europe for many years.

RUSSIAN LEADER THRILLS CROWD

lowitsch Conducts With Manifest Power

ahms Symphony Given Sympathetic Reading

ation at End of Work Lasts Several Minutes

BY MABEL MORSE JONES

witsch brought a new and enthusiasm to the Bowl when he stepped briskly on last night to conduct the for the first time in sev-. He had unusual suc- last winter as soloist with Philharmonic. Ever a forceful this pianist-conductor audience aware at once, of and personality. appearance and in the quick- of action, Gabrilowitsch seemed and more keenly interested any previous performance It may be that his distin- father-in-law's informality has effect, for he surprised the Bowl fans by appearing in a light sack suit rather than the customary black and white of evening. Mark Twain would have been delighted at this waiving of the conventions, I am sure.

He was more than warmly received at his entrance and at the end of the great work of the evening, the Brahms First Symphony, the ovation lasted several minutes.

Los Angeles is indebted to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Doheny for the two Gabrilowitsch concerts last night and tonight, and for the two extra rehearsals which put an extra finish of excellence upon his performances.

The immortal Brahms first was indeed given a polished and beautiful presentation. Its prophetic, dirge-like drum-beats brought back in memory the scene of its last hearing in Los Angeles. It was the last symphony conducted by the Philharmonic's departed leader.

Gabrilowitsch gave it a warmly colorful interpretation, showing his deep understanding of the work, an evident reverence for the composer and a broad musicianship. He is a master of light and shade and plays upon an orchestra with much the same certainty and knowledge of desired effects with which he plays upon a piano.

Although comparisons between conductors may not be always fairly made, it is permissable to compare the variedly expressed talents of an artist. In estimating the work of Gabrilowitsch, one is naturally impressed by his pianistic power over an orchestra. At times the ideas of a pianist are rather too apparent. In the case of too hurried passages and a tendency to look too eagerly forward to the grand finale, this was true last night.

To my mind, he is greater as a conductor than as a pianist and that is rating him very high as a conductor for his position as a pianist is unassailable and has been so for many years.

The second Chausson number to be played at the Bowl within a week was his early symphonic poem, "Viviane." Like the symphony it is melodically rich. Some of the melodies are not exclusively Chausson's but the ingratiating French "atmosphere" is everywhere uppermost in this work and its smooth harmonies fall gratefully upon the ear. Los Angeles is to hear more of Chausson the coming winter when the Persinger String Quartet presents his concerto for piano, solo violin and string quartet.

The concert closed with the "traditional" Liszt Hungarian Rhapsody conducted with true Russian vigor.

Tonight, Gabrilowitsch will conduct a program of well-known favorites and Carmela Ponselle will make her western debut singing arias from "Aida," "Tosca" and "Carmen."

"WHEN LADIES PLAY"
30 MERRY MERMAIDS

Play Becomes Property of Triumvirate

Wednesday night marked the seventy-fifth performance at the Belasco Theater of Elmer Harris's comedy hit, "The Great Necker," with Taylor Holmes and Nat Carr in featured roles. With the completion of that showing—which, incidentally, was the biggest Wednesday night of the play in patronage and revenue—it became the property of the Messrs. Belasco, Butler and Davis, the producers.

Besides the world rights for dramatic production of "The Great Necker," the producers acquire the right to 50 per cent of all future motion-picture and stock revenue, under their contract as members of the Producing Managers' Association, with the author as a member of the Authors' League.

When "The Great Necker" was produced it was believed that but twenty-five of the seventy-five performances necessary to obtain these valuable perquisites would be given in Los Angeles, twenty-five in San Francisco and the other twenty-five in other California cities. The comedy, however, was received with an enthusiasm that has mounted consistently from week to week. At the Wednesday matinee the Belasco seating capacity was unequal to the demand for admission, and many were turned away, a report says.

Lillian Gish to Do Picture for Griffith Again

Lillian Gish, screen actress, who with her sister Dorothy, gained fame in early pictures directed by D. W. Griffith, will join that director again for the first time since their early work together, according to Hollywood rumor.

Miss Gish is at present working for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Her contract with that organization expires within a few weeks and it is then she will join Griffith at the United Studios, according to reports.

Everyone concerned in the matter yesterday refused to verify the rumor but no person interviewed issued a positive denial. At United Artists' studio Griffith's press representative stated there was no confirmation to be released as yet.

The Gish sisters became prominent after working with Griffith in "The Birth of a Nation." Later Lillian Gish made "Broken Blossoms" and "The White Sister" for him" and then severed her connection with him and has worked for Inspiration Pictures and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer since.

Clubs Sponsor Excursions to Biblical Play

The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a large excursion into Hollywood tonight, to view the Pilgrimage Play. Also, the Los Angeles Rotary Club will visit the hillside playhouse to witness this sacred drama.

The story of the earthly career of the Savior, as recorded in the Four Gospels, is considered beautiful and impressive. The charm of the drama is enhanced by the setting of the picturesque theater, which is just off the thronging roadside among the hills of Hollywood. Here, on the hillside stage, beneath the same stars that shone on Bethlehem 2000 years ago, many events are visualized as the story of the life of the Christ is reverently unfolded from the prophecy of His birth to the glorious ascension.

An outstanding feature of the current season, which closes on the 20th inst., is the interpretation of the role of the Christus by Ian Maclaren, which is proving wholly satisfying in its dignity, depth of feeling and rare spiritual understanding. A supporting cast of 125 players is headed by Mary Worth, Hedwiga Reicher, Adda Gleason, Reginald Pole, C. Montague Shaw, Boyd Irwin, James Neill, Jr., and Lafayette McKee, and a large choir supplies the inspiring music that accompanies many of the impressive scenes.

"Smile, Brother, Smile"

Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill

In the new First National picture of that name, which comes to Loew's State today. Mulhall seems to be complying with Miss Mackaill's spoken request.

John Gilbert's Latest is Seen

John Gilbert's latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring picture, "Twelve Miles Out," is the feature screen attraction which opens today at Grauman's Egyptian Theater for a run of one week.

The picture is an adaptation of the stage play of the same name, and the cast supporting Gilbert includes Joan Crawford, Ernest Torrence, Bert Roach, and others. Jack Conway directed.

Gilbert is seen in the role of a carefree, untroubled exponent of rum-running. Critics have said it is one of his best characterizations, and the picture itself is decidedly unusual.

On the stage, Lynn Cowan and his Jazz Jesters head the new Fanchon and Marco idea "Jade," which features Prosper and Maret, "originators of the slow-motion adagio."

Bookings for West Coast Greater Movie Season at Grauman's Egyptian have been announced, the season being scheduled to open at the Hollywood house with Emil Jannings in "The Way of All Flesh," his first American-made Paramount picture.

"Westcotts" is Still Running in Windy City

With one of the best casts seen locally for some time, "The Wild Westcotts," the family farce of a pleasure-mad generation, will have its western premiere at the Vine-street Theater on the 17th inst.

This production, which has enjoyed extended runs in the East and still captivates the theatergoers of Chicago, where it is in its eleventh week at the Cort Theater, is being produced here by Arthur William Green and Henry Kolker.

Kolker is personally directing the local presentation of the play.

Hays Happy to Learn of Event

The following message was received yesterday by Harold B. Franklin, president of West Coast Theaters, Inc., from Will Hays, president, Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.:

"I am very glad to learn that the West Coast Theaters will celebrate the opening of greater movie season beginning the 18th inst. Continually striving to serve the entertainment-seeking millions, the motion-picture has grown amazingly. Each year has shown a definite improvement over the year preceeding and in the season of 1927 to 1928 I believe will be recorded even greater advances in this art of properly and constructively entertaining the people of the world. It will, indeed, be a 'greater' season of fine motion pictures."

One of the greater movie season pictures of 1925, "The Big Parade," has created a record in that it is now being shown as a greater movie season picture of 1927 at the Criterion Theater, its popularity and quality having remained undimmed during two years' run.

"MAINE" LUMBER CAMP NEEDED FOR PICTURE

There seems to be one "location" that California does not include. That is a Maine lumber camp, of the 1898 era.

Clarence Brown has to have one for his production of "The Trail of '98," to be used as the location where Karl Dane is introduced into the vivid story of the Klondike gold rush.

There are old lumber camps in California, but they are in redwood forests. In the districts where the pine trees resemble those of Maine the camps are ultra-modern in appearance and equipment.

Brown and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios have five men fine-combing the forest districts within 500 miles of Los Angeles with the hope that they will locate the ideal place so as to obviate the necessity of Brown's taking the company to Maine.

Girls Put on Impromptu Act

Mary Pickford's thirteen "best girls" enjoyed an actual stage experience Monday night at El Capitan Theater when they joined the cast of "Laff That Off" in a series of impromptu sketches following the play.

The lucky thirteen were entertained by Henry Duffy and Dale Winter at a theater party and subsequently taken back stage and introduced to the players, Frank Darien, Helen Keers, Kenneth Daigneau, Olive Cooper and Joseph De Stefani. After the impromptu acts the thirteen guests formally opened the theater's new green room, the actor's traditional lounge room, where a buffet supper was served to the players and the out-of-town guests. The girls were selected for the thirteen-day vacation by leading papers in thirteen cities and will terminate their holiday Tuesday.

Spectacle Has Place on Bill

The Chinese spectacle, "Twenty Minutes at the Mandarin," will be one of the trio of headline attractions scheduled to open at the Orpheum Sunday matinee. This announcement was made yesterday following negotiations which finally culminated in persuading the Chinatown production to leave San Francisco for the first time. The act features a group of Chinese artists including Anna Chan, William Law, the Mandarin Orchestra and "Oriental Beauties." The two other headline features will be Mercedes, the noted psychic, and Harry Burns, assisted by Florence Foreman and Tony DeLuca, in "I Think You Touch." Other features on the new bill will be Haru Onuki, Japanese prima donna, and Eddie Nelson, who remains for one more week.

Rehearsals Are Promise of Hit

Monday night William H. Clifford's new play, "Behind the Veil" will be ushered in to the Majestic Theater.

The rehearsals of the company are moving along rapidly and everything points to a smooth first performance, it is said.

"Behind the Veil" is described as one of the most unusual plays of the decade. "Amazing" lighting and scenic effects will be displayed before the audiences. They are being created by Frederick Robinson.

Some of our foremost authors have declared there are only seven plots to all the plays that have ever been written. William H. Clifford says he has brought the eighth plot to realization.

Plan to Offer Drama in East

According to word received here yesterday from Ramon Cerva, author of "The Scarlet Virgin," at the Orange Grove, the comedy drama is to be presented in New York this season.

"The Scarlet Virgin," although having been presented in Boston, was overlooked by New York producers because of the campaign then being waged against suggestive plays.

According to Cerva, arrangements are now being made for the Gotham premiere and it is predicted with unbased assurance, that it will meet with immediate success there.

EAST TO SEE BIG SPECIALS

NEW YORK, Aug. 4. (Exclusive)—"Les Miserables," Universal films production of the famous Victor Hugo classic, will open on Broadway on the 21st inst. "Uncle Tom's Cabin," slated for the initial opening, will not make its appearance on Broadway until September.

"Wings," Paramount's latest offering for two-a-day goers, will open on the 12th inst. instead of the 16th. "The Patent Leather Kid," with Richard Barthelmess in the stellar role, makes its bow on Broadway soon.

MASSIVE EFFECTS INTRIGUE

"Metropolis" is Lacking in Story Interest, But Amazing Technical Feat

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Buildings soaring 1000-stories to the skies; elevated railroads rushing along hundreds of feet above the ground; airplanes plying about high above the street of a giant city, a mechanical creation brought to life and infused with being; mysterious evidences of the vast potency of electrical power in the future . . .

These are some of the things that you can see in "Metropolis," and it almost requires a side show ballyhoo to arouse them. This picture is one to announce them. This picture is one of the most amazing technically that has yet reached the screen. Jules fiercest imaginings hardly have figured its equal, though I believe Wells some time ago took occasion to pan it.

"Metropolis" is on view this week at the Metropolitan Theater. It is a novelty, but empty. All the marvels of its stupendous settings, created in considerable part doubtless through the use of miniature, leave one curiously dissatisfied, because of a story that seems propaganda, and that on this account lacks humanness.

"Metropolis" is some sort of preachment on the capital and labor situation, and the dangers of too much mechanical progress. It has a bugaboo type of plot that starts nowhere, and that gets little further. There is, perhaps, an undercurrent in it that suggests socialism, with a trace of Bolshevism beside, although most of this has been smothered by the huge sets.

Fritz Lang directed the production in Germany. The preachy part of it is tedious, but there are moments that in their mechanical dramatic force rise to magnificent and eye-assailing heights. The views of the Gargantuan city of the future have an imaginative lift to them that is especially visionary. The animation of the automaton by some process distantly related to radio-theraphy (the laboratory looks like a sublimated radio-therapy establishment, anyway) is immensely interesting. There are other scenes of a pseudo-scientific sort that overwhelm simply by the apparent hugeness of their machinery.

People are used in great masses, especially when the flooding and destruction of the gigantic city is shown. There is some superb direction of the mobs en masse, particularly in that episode where they set about to burn at the stake the woman created from the automaton. This woman, the tool of the master mind, which ruled the city by intellectual achievement and mechanical power, turned out to be a Frankenstein and led the working forces on their career of destruction. They, in turn, nearly destroy their families in their underground domain, when flood and other disaster breaks out, following the wrecking of the master mind's domain.

"Metropolis" is really a massive melodrama and spectacle, lacking the human quality, but impressive because of its grandeur technical. Actors seem of little importance against the huge sets, but some capable work is done by Alfred Abel, Brigitte Helm in a double role, Gustav Froelich and others. The picture may have been somewhat badly cut in the process of reaching this country. The adaptation, whatever that means in this instance, is credited to Channing Pollock. One presumes that this is the American adapation, although Julian Johnson is given credit as editor.

To add to the general spectacle, Fanchon and Marco have devised a prologue of exceedingly elaborate proportions. It is really the most beautiful they have yet staged at the theater. "Sea Nymphs" is the title and the costumes, especially in the opening part, as singularly varied and brilliant. Various sea denizens, including a nice red lobster, sea anemones, sea shells and even an alligator are represented in the ensemble. This portion of the act is enthusiastically applauded. Rube Wolf's humor was a little weak yesterday, but his music was fine.

The closing aerial mermaid acrobatics are almost too difficult to be good, but will probably be improved with practice. The eighteen or twenty girls that took part in this finale, posing on slack lines let down from above the stage, worked very hard and deserve very much credit. Rose Valyda was a hit with her songs.

Rogers to Have Excellent Cast

A choice cast has been signed by First National and Richard Wallace, who is to direct Will Rogers of Beverly Hills in "The Texas Steer" for Sam Rork. Mack Swain, Lucien Littlefield and William Orlamonde are to portray prominent roles opposite Rogers.

Moreover, according to Wallace, he yesterday added to this cast such prominent names as Sam Hardy for the characterization of Brassy Gall and Arthur Hoyt for Knott Innitts.

With Louise Fazenda already signed to the featured feminine role, studio executives predict that Wallace will add another winner to the list of box-office successes, as Paul Schofield is said to have written an excellent adaptation and continuity.

FAN MAIL FROM AFAR

Comedian Receives Letters All Around World in Single Day

Included in the fan mail at a local studio yesterday were letters from four points stretched at wide intervals around the globe. Iceland, Russia, Egypt and Arabia were represented in the mail.

The letters were addressed to Harry Langdon, First National comedian. The writers in each case estimated they were half way around the globe from Hollywood. Two of the four are also half way around the globe from the other two.

One letter came from Singurdur Benedictsson, Reykjavik, Iceland, another from Trooper R. Loveridge, Cairo, Egypt; another from Walter Brown, Aden, Arabia, and the fourth from Ethel Welch, Petrograd, Russia.

HELD OVER AT RIALTO

"Flesh and the Devil," which is now playing at the Rialto, will be held over for four days, closing Monday night. John Gilbert, Greta Garbo and Lars Hanson are featured. Richard Dix in "Man Power" opens on Tuesday for a three-day run.

Star Thinks of ex-Service Men

Elsie Janis has never forgotten the American doughboys, and with a view to providing for them should they wish to greet her premiere performance in "Oh, Kay" at the dedication of the new Mayan Theater on the 15th inst., has persuaded Gerhold O. Davis, producer of the play and lessee of the theater, to make the balcony tariff "within reach of the pocketbook of every member of the American Legion."

Opening night will be festive. Special features are planned whereby patrons can take part in one of the musical numbers.

SYD CHAPLIN COMEDY WILL OPEN SATURDAY

"The Missing Link" will come into the Broadway Palace Theater Saturday for its first popular local showing.

Syd Chaplin is featured in this Warner Brothers farce and it is considered to be one of the best that Syd has appeared in for some time. Charles Reisner directed.

In the supporting cast of "The Missing Link" are Ruth Hiatt, Tom McGuire, Crauford Kent, Sam Baker and others.

Fickle Flapper Causes Rumpus

"Beware of blonds, also brunettes, that's my philosophy of flappers," says Edward Everett Horton. "When it comes to philandering, the female of the species is more deadly than male."

He offers as an example the fickle flapper who causes all the complications in "In Love With Love," the farce coming to the Playhouse Monday night. When two of her suitors grow unusually ardent, this feminine Don Juan solves her difficulties by promising to marry both of them. But a third young bachelor appears on the scene (indifferent as bachelors always are,) and she promptly bids adieu to her adoring duo.

Horton in true bachelor fashion proves quite helpless and the flapper finally wins him—in the play of course. Off-stage Horton is still a bachelor.

"THE BRUTE" OPENS

HEAR STORIES OF CRUELTY

Witnesses Testify Before Santa Ana Grand Jury

Jail Conditions of County Investigated

Los Angeles Man Relates His Personal Experiences

SANTA ANA, Aug. 4.—When Thomas Beard, 83 years of age, retired business man of Orange, saw a jailor rip a scantling from a truck bed and flail a prisoner over the head, the scene was so revolting that he turned his head away, Beard was said to have testified today before the extraordinary session of the Orange county grand jury, called to sift reports that prisoners in the jail had been beaten, favored trusties given extraordinary privileges and similar charges.

The prisoner, one of a large number in the truck, screamed in terror, Beard was believed to have testified.

Previous to Beard, Jackson J. Parks, identified with a motion-picture company in Hollywood in a business position, former managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, testified concerning his arrest at Laguna Beach about a year ago for being drunk while attending a dance sponsored by the Laguna Beach Library Board. Parks was believed to have said that he was dragged from the dance hall by Deputy Sheriffs James Smith, since resigned, and Donald Mosely. Smith and Mosely handled him in such a rough manner, cursed and threatened him so often during the trip to the County Jail at Santa Ana, that he was in fear for his life, he was thought to have said.

The doctor who examined him for drunkenness demanded a fee of $3, Parks was understood to have said, and when the motion-picture man refused to pay, the physician wrote "suspicion of liquor on breath." The doctor asked him to repeat "Round the rough rock the ragged rascal ran," and when Parks was able to give a perfect performance of this tongue-twister, the deputy sheriff and doctor were nonplussed, Parks testified.

The jury that heard his case at Laguna Beach deliberated only a minute and a half before he was acquitted, Parks told friends before he went into the jury room.

Chief of Police J. S. Martin of Anaheim was a witness in the morning session. His testimony was thought to have touched upon that of Roydon W. Osman, former motorcycle officer of Anaheim, who was discharged, he said, after he had attempted to arrest a particular woman friend of Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan. Before he went into the jury room last week, Osman exhibited a letter bearing the signature of J. S. Martin, in which he recommended the services of Osman. Osman said the letter had been given him by Martin after he had been discharged.

William Duffy, a police captain of Long Beach, was another witness. His testimony was thought to have touched upon the reported arrest of a deputy sheriff at Long Beach several months ago, at which time a case of champagne was reported to have been taken from the officer's car. The officer was transferred from the Sheriff's department to the State motorcycle squad, it was said. The officer referred to is understood to have told Sheriff Sam Jernigan that he had been "framed" by a former Federal prohibition informer. Now facing prosecution in Federal court. L. G. Swales, foreman of the 1926 grand jury which gave the jail and the administration of the Sheriff's office a "clean bill of health," was another witness this afternoon.

EDISON COMPANY MUST PAY DAMAGES

VENTURA, Aug. 4.—A decision has just been handed down by the State Supreme Court affirming the judgment of Judge Franklin J. Cole of Imperial county, which awarded to Clarence L. Chrisman of Ventura damages and interest against the Southern California Edison Company amounting to approximately $20,000.

The case, which was tried in the Superior Court here about five years ago, with Judge Cole on the bench, involved the failure of the Southern California Edison Company to furnish water to Christman for irrigation purposes as provided by contracts entered into with the old Ventura County Power Company, the predecessor of the Southern California Edison Company.

PAYS FIRST FINE UNDER NEW LAW

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 4.—What is believed to be the first fine assessed in Orange county under the new State law making the speed limit forty miles per hour was paid in Judge Chris P. Pann's court yesterday by Mrs. Gertrude Erickson of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Erickson paid $18 for driving forty-six miles per hour. She appeared in court immediately after being tagged. That every mile over forty which is chalked against violators will cost the offenders $5 in his court hereafter is the assertion of Judge Pann. The rate had not been decided upon by the judge when Mrs. Erickson appeared in court, it is understood.

YOUTHFUL HIKER

PASADENA, Aug. 4.—Rushford Kittle of Troop 258, Chicago Boy Scouts, has just arrived in Pasadena after coming 1900 miles overland on $25 and an extra shirt. The 14-year-old boy hiked, worked and "bummed" his way, and plans to go on to Lower California and then up to Canada before returning to Chicago.

He started out with $25, but lost his last $10 in Yellowstone National Park and made his way after that on what he could earn. For two days he went without food, and slept out of doors most of the time, with no blankets.

CUT COST OF HOSPITAL

FRESNO, Aug. 4.—Cutting approximately $45,000 from the cost of the proposed County Tubercular Hospital at Auberry by changing the exterior finish from stucco to wood weatherboard, the County Supervisors reduced the cost of the structure approximately two-fifths and paved the way for its construction from the 1928 budget. Construction work will will be started this fall.

DEVELOP OLD MINE

Four-Million-Dollar Corporation Takes Over Claim With Long and Interesting History

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 4.—A small army of experienced miners on the way from Colorado and Utah will be set to work immediately at the tin mine in the hills southwest of Riverside. Offices for the company are being established by George W. Bryant, vice-president of the American Tin Corporation, a closed corporation capitalized at $4,000,000, at Sixth and Main streets.

More than $200,000 has already been spent in preliminary development at the mine during the last six months by Bryant, he said yesterday. Since February 1, an assay office has been established on the site and men have been kept busy making assays to determine, if possible, the probable production that might be expected. Since taking charge of the property, which the corporation is reported to have purchased outright, Bryant and his engineer, J. Tuttle, have made extensive surveys, unwatered the old workings and are now ready for the heavy machinery to grind and smelt the ore.

The venture is private, with a group of eastern capitalists interested, to determine if the old engineering reports of the former English company which first developed the mine are true as to extent and richness of the deposit.

The old tin mine property has an interesting history, dating back almost to the discovery of the West. Tin was discovered in what was known as the Cajalco Hills by Daniel Sexton, a pioneer of 1841, about 1850. When samples of the ore were sent to San Francisco great interest was aroused and a skirmish for possession of the properties began.

This was not definitely closed until about 1888 by a decision of the United States Land Office reaffirmed by Chief Justice Waite, which located the property on the San Jacinto Sobrante Rancho and not upon the Temescal grant made to Leandro Serrano in 1819. It was believed at that time to be the richest body of high-grade tin ever discovered anywhere and litigation over its possession involved a large number of persons and interests.

An English syndicate, which included many famous engineers and statesmen of the day, sent experts to investigate. In 1890 the syndicate purchased the San Jacinto Sobrante Rancho from the owners, after a number of exhaustive reports had been made. Man and money were poured into the mine from England. For some reason the English syndicate stopped development of the tin deposits and even refused to sell. It was believed that they did not wish the production to come into competition with the Cornwall mines and the mine was shut down in 1892.

Leaves Trail of Bad Checks

SANTA ANA, Aug. 4.—The disappearance of William H. Hanley, for several years business manager of the Santa Ana Register, was prefaced by the passing of no-fund checks amounting to several thousand dollars and nonpayment of debts of about $5000, it developed today when a check-up was made of the former business manager's financial status.

Finance companies in Santa Ana and Anaheim are said to have loaned Hanley about $1000, while a number of Santa Ana business men are also known to be worried concerning the failure of Hanley to meet obligations owed them. Mrs. Hanley was said to have been left virtually without funds.

Gambling at Tia Juana and in Southern California cities is said to have led to his decision to depart. His failure to report to his business office Monday was not taken as indicating that he had resigned, but when he failed to show up yesterday the true state of facts was revealed.

QUEEN CHOSEN TO RULE FAIR

STRATHMORE, Aug. 4.—Miss Gayle Mendelssohn, 19 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Mendelssohn of Strathmore, declared a direct descendant of Felix Mendelssohn, famous composer, with a five-to-one vote on the first ballot was chosen by the Strathmore Chamber of Commerce to act as queen of the Tulare County Fair to be held in Tulare this September.

In keeping with annual custom of the fair committee to let larger communities of the county take turns in choosing the queen, this honor fell to Strathmore this year.

Miss Mendelssohn will be crowned with an impressive ceremony on opening night, September 20. Six maids of honor will represent as many larger cities of the county, while other attendants will be selected by lesser communities.

Miss Mendelssohn is a senior in Strathmore High School. Like her illustrious ancestor, she has musical talent and is identified with musical organizations of the community. Her mother is president of the Strathmore Town and Country Club.

AIRPLANE FACTORY DEPENDS ON FLIGHT

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 4.—If Lieut. Norman A. Goddard successfully flies from San Francisco to Honolulu August 12 he will establish an airplane factory here for constructing ships of the type in which he plans to make the Honolulu hop, he announced today.

Lieut. Goddard has been offered sufficient support if the flight is successful, he said. He will keep the same wing construction in the planes which he plans to manufacture, but the rest of the plane will be slightly modified, he said.

To meet new requirements of the flight committee, Goddard last night installed two navigation lights.

He will arrive in San Francisco the 8th inst. for preliminary inspection.

AID TO RANCHERS

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 4.—D. T. Rewey, horticultural inspector of Porterville district for the past seven years, has been named a Deputy County Horticultural Commissioner by the Tulare County Board of Supervisors. Rewey is declared one of the most efficient men in his line of work in the county and was recommended to the post by F. R. Brann of Visalia, County Horticultural Commissioner. He will continue to make his headquarters in Porterville.

PREPARE DATA FOR HEARING

Pasadena Getting Ready to Present Case to Board of Water Rights

PASADENA, Aug. 4.—City Engineer Samuel B. Morris and his staff are working day and night in an effort to compile data in support of Pasadena's water claims in the San Gabriel Canyon, for presentation at the hearing to be held by the State Division of Water Rights, which is scheduled to start in Los Angeles Tuesday.

This city is asking that it be granted 65,000 acre feet of water from the present run-off in the canyon, to be stored for domestic consumption, either in a municipal dam or in the county flood-control dam. Unless this is done, Pasadena will face a water shortage in the next five years or so, officials assert.

The cities of Long Beach, Monrovia, Alhambra, Whittier and Compton, as well as several water companies, have also filed claims on the excess waters of the San Gabriel and will contest Pasadena's claims.

The Division of Water Rights plans to receive technical engineering reports and analyses from the interested cities when the hearing convenes. It is expected that the session will then adjourn for the purpose of allowing the officials to study the data presented before arguments are heard.

A survey by Harold Conklin, hydraulic engineer, shows that the average annual waste of water from the San Gabriel by run-off into the ocean has been 61,000 acre feet for the last twenty-two years.

Start Test of Market Law

FRESNO, Aug. 4.—Test of the new city free-market law which bars from the marketplace those who do not produce annually 65 per cent of the produce they offer for sale, was launched today when C. Rosselli, a huckster, was barred from the market by Marketmaster D. A. Bowen.

W. Penn Cummings, attorney for the hucksters who are opposing the ordinance, immediately filed a petition for a writ of mandate to force the city to permit him to operate on the market.

The fight of the hucksters was precipitated when the City Commission adopted an ordinance with a referendum petition, whereupon the City Commission repealed the ordinance and adopted the present one, which is more stringent than that at which the referendum was directed.

SALLY RAND GIVES VIEWS ON ALIMONY

VAN NUYS, Aug. 4.—Sally Rand, Hollywood blond picture star, came to Van Nuys yesterday and put up a $10 bail for an asserted traffic-law violation in San Fernando Valley. The case will come up later. While here Miss Rand kidded Ernest Stout, clerk of the Van Nuys branch of the Municipal Court, and others in the courtroom. She asked Stout what he thought of the new alimony law. Stout sidestepped the question, pleading he was not interested. Miss Rand stated she believed men were as much entitled to alimony as women, adding that she could count on her fingers a number of women she knew who were loafing on alimony they did not deserve. Miss Rand said she also approved the three-day marriage-license law, stating she was for anything that "had common sense to it." The speeding charge against Miss Rand was for going a bit too fast in one of the "slow-down" zones in the valley.

BUYS WATER CRAFT

BALBOA ISLAND, Aug. 4.—J. C. Axelson has sold his large cruiser, the Marje, to H. Fisher of San Diego. Capt. B. L. Marshall left Monday for San Diego to deliver the craft to its new owner.

The consideration involved in the sale approximates $16,000. Mr. Axelson plans on acquiring a larger and better boat. Mr. Axelson and two sons are proprietors of the Axelson Machine Company in Los Angeles and all three have summer homes on the island.

LET SCHOOL CONTRACT

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 4.—Contracts for the erection of two new school buildings have been awarded by the high-school trustees of this district, the successful bidders being J. S. Metzger & Son of Los Angeles, who will erect the new boys' gymnasium and swimming pool, their contract being $95,073 for the general work, and R. H. Williams of Glendale, who will erect the opportunity or part-time school building, his bid being $29,649.

EDITOR TO WED

BELL, Aug. 4.—George Wheeler, editor of the Industrial Post of this city, and Miss Mildred Mackinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Mackinson of this place, are to be united in marriage tomorrow night at 7 o'clock at the Little Church of the Flowers in Glendale. The ceremony will be read by Rev. Ralph C. Isbell of the local Presbyterian church. Only the relatives and a few friends have received invitations. The newlyweds will spend their honeymoon in San Francisco.

LAGUNA TAX RATE

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 4.—The tax rate for the city of Laguna Beach, with an assessed valuation of $1,098,650, was fixed at $1 per $700 at the City Council meeting last night. The County Assessor and the County Tax Collector were authorized to act as City Assessor and City Tax Collector for the first year.

REMINDER OF DAYS OF OLD MISSIONS

Picturesque Mill at San Marino Built for Padres' in 1810

To Restore Landmark

Mrs. James R. Brehm plans to put building back where it was at the beginning of the century.

PASADENA, Aug. 4.—The picturesque Old Mill of San Marino, built in 1810 under the direction of the San Gabriel Mission fathers, and one of the oldest structures in Southern California, is to be restored from its present state of crumbling disrepair to as near its original condition as can be achieved.

This was learned today from Mrs. James R. Brehm of 1450 Hillcrest avenue, Pasadena, daughter-in-law of the late Henry E. Huntington. Mrs. Brehm now owns the property on which the Old Mill is situated, near Old Mill Road, San Marino, and has commissioned F. H. Ruppel, local contractor who is also restoring the San Juan Capistrano Mission, to make the changes at the Old Mill.

Adobe brick made from the same materials that were used in the Mission days will be used in the exterior; mill stones, which were removed from the site and taken to the old Shorb estate for use as stepping stones will be returned, and hinges and other materials now kept as souvenirs will be replaced in their original positions.

The aim is to make the exterior look exactly as it did in 1812 when Father Jose Maria Zalvidea stood back and viewed the finished product of his Indian laborers. The interior, however, will be made suitable for a dwelling, Mrs. Brehm stated.

After it was built, the fathers found that their work had been in vain, so far as using it for grinding grain was concerned, because of faulty construction and improper location, but the building was used as a storage house and as a prison for unruly Indians.

Since the Mission fathers abandoned it, the property has been owned by Col. E. J. C. Kewen, former Attorney-General of California; Col. E. Mayberry, Archer Huntington and Mrs. Brehm.

During the Kewen regime, a story of hidden Spanish treasure on the premises grew up about a parchment given, in the regulation manner of fiction, by a dying sailor to an old servant. Many persons have dug around the historic structure in a vain search for the hidden hoard.

Mrs. Brehm's plan to color some of the tile with ox blood in the manner of old illustrates the care which will be taken to reproduce the exact conditions of the Old Mill's youth. Whenever the original process is necessary to achieve the desired effect faithfully, it will be employed, she said.

DEFEND SHIPPING PLAN

Railroad Official Says Grape Growers Are Not Aiding Them to Escape Responsibility

FRESNO, Aug. 4.—Denying that the California grape car plan of 1926, the American Railway Association's plan of distribution of refrigerators to grape shippers, was created by the railroads as a means of escaping their liability to provide sufficient cars as charged by the anonymous "Citizens Protective Bureau" in circulars distributed throughout the State, Charles E. Hoover, service agent of the Interstate Commerce Commission, told a Chamber of Commerce Committee of forty at a luncheon here today that the plan was erected upon recommendations he made to the commission in 1925 following a three-year study of the grape industry.

Exhibiting correspondence that passed between the car service division of the railway association, the service bureau of the commission and himself, Hoover proved his point, which was further corroborated by Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association, and former head of the car service division of the railway association, by whom the details of the car plan were worked out. A similar plan has been placed in effect for the 1927 shipping season.

Further indorsement of the Vineyardists' Association and Conn, was given today in resolutions adopted by the Fresno City Commission and the Fresno Exchange Club.

Following a meeting at Sanger last night at which the Chamber of Commerce there denounced the protective bureau's attacks on the association and lauded the movement to stabilize the grape industry, a group of citizens hanged the "bureau" in effigy to the chamber sign post. They hung a sign on the effigy bearing the warning, "Beware Citizens Protective Bureau, both members."

MINISTER GOES TO MONROVIA CHURCH

PASADENA, Aug. 4.—Rev. J. Alvin Shirley, assistant rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Pasadena, will become rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of Monrovia October 1, he announced today. He will succeed Rev. George E. Swan, who resigned on account of ill health.

Rev. Shirley came here a year ago from the Yukon, where he had spent two years. He is a graduate of Wycliffe College, Toronto, Can., and has held pastorates in several Canadian cities. No successor as assistant rector here has been selected.

NEW POLICE OFFICER

VISALIA, Aug. 4.—Paul Finley, for several years a resident of Visalia, has been appointed a member of the Visalia Police Department succeeding Patrolman Clarence Webb, who resigned some days ago. Finley has already assumed his duties as a member of the night patrol force. The appointment was made by Police Chief Harry H. Davis. Until recently Finley was employed by the Southern California Edison Company.

COMMISSIONER ILL

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 4.—Word was received here today that George A. Houser, member of the Alhambra City Commission, who left Tuesday with Mrs. Houser on a motor trip to Houston, Tex., had been stricken with appendicitis as he was driving into Globe, Ariz., last night. Houser was removed to a Globe hospital and an operation was performed today.

The Housers will give up their trip and will return home as soon as Mr. Houser is able to travel.

CHAMBER REORGANIZES

RESEDA, Aug. 4.—Councilman Randall is scheduled to speak Friday at the meeting to be conducted by the newly-organized Reseda Chamber of Commerce, of which Leland Pickering has been elected President. The new chamber has outlined a comprehensive program of development, in which it is asking the aid of almost every citizen in the Reseda district.

Mother Rushes to Bedside of Injured Youth

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 4.—Physicians are attempting to prolong the life of James Hancock, 14 years of age, accidentally shot through the abdomen by a bullet from his pal's gun on a hunting trip, until his mother, Mrs. Ida Lee Hancock, arrives from St. Louis.

Hancock was wounded early yesterday and late last night he began sinking. Today his condition was critical, it was announced at the General Hospital, and it is doubtful if he lives until his mother, who was in the East on a vacation trip, reaches his bedside.

Mrs. Hancock was notified yesterday of her son's condition and left immediately for California, expecting to arrive early Saturday.

The accident occurred when a rifle in the hands of Darrell Darnell, 14, was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Hancock in the body. Darnell assisted the wounded boy to walk half a mile to an automobile and then rushed him to the hospital. The injured boy was still conscious when he reached the hospital.

SPORTS FROCKS "DRESSIER"

Women's sports clothes are abandoning their former severe simplicity and are becoming "dressier," announces Mary Brush Williams, fashion writer, in an article in Liberty. Miss Williams, whose information comes direct from Paris, points out that:

"Molders of the fashions are bringing the most attractive features of the old-time formal dress, the ultra-modern sports frock, and the typical summer costume together into a type of dress that will be very pretty because appropriate to our activities and to our climate.

"Worth, the famous Parisian couturier," the writer continues, "is showing sports clothes with tight little sleeves five inches long. The clothes that carry this new five-inch sleeve are still sports clothes, so-called, but are of a character more formal than quite permissible even for the heavy sporting activity of sitting on the green sod watching a game."

NIGHTSHIRT LOSING OUT

Except for a few conservatives, American men have deserted the old-fashioned nightshirt as sleeping apparel and gone over to the pajama, according to Jack O'Donnell in an article in Liberty. "Today nine out of ten men wear pajamas," the writer declares.

"Last year," the writer explains, "American men spent $90,000,000 for sleeping garments. Of this amount $75,000,000 went for pajamas. Virtually all of the $15,000,000 spent for the old-fashioned nocturnal garment came from the pockets of men living in the nightshirt belt—the middle and northwestern sections of the United States. In those two sections and in upper New England reside the last of the old nightshirt guard—men who still regard pajamas as something effeminate.

"The popularity of pajamas is universal," the writer continues. "Yet, sixty years ago one would have been hard put to it to find a single pair in the United States. It was just fifty years ago that the first pair manufactured in America was turned out."

NOT HIGH COST OF LIVING BUT COST OF HIGH LIVING

VISALIA, Aug. 4.—Farmers of Tulare county enjoy many modern conveniences, according to a recent survey of 167 farms. Forty-six per cent are located from five to ten miles from a city of 2500 or more population, 30 per cent are fruit or nut farms; 35 per cent general farming; average acreage is sixty-one acres, although usually only about forty-five acres is under cultivation.

Out of every 100 farms ninety-two have central electric stations; out of every 100 forty-eight have tractors; out of every 100 thirty have milking machines; eighty-eight per 100 have piped water to the house; seventy-three per 100 have sinks with running water; fifty-five per 100 have stationary bathtubs; fifty-five per 100 have flush toilets connected with cesspool; ninety per 100 have electric lights; twenty-nine per 100 use electric ranges; twenty per 100 have stationary laundry tubs; fifty-two per 100 have washing machines; forty per 100 have vacuum cleaners; ninety per 100 have screens.

Libraries and other forms of entertainment are available in the communities reporting, while the greater portion of the homes have pianos, phonographs, radios and telephones, and ninety-seven out of 100 families have automobiles.

NERVOUS DISEASES AND GENIUS

It is entirely possible for a person to be neurotic, that is, have a nervous affection that gives rise to strange obsessions, and still lead a good life, even a great one, asserts Brenda Ueland in an article in Liberty. In proof of her assertion she cites several famous examples of men who became great in spite of abnormalities.

"Oliver Cromwell, Lord Protector of England," she points out, "had violent attacks of bad temper and once had a vision in which a woman of gigantic stature prophesied that he would be the greatest man in England.

"Goethe," she continues, "wrote much of his poetry while in a state somewhat resembling somnambulism and had periods of depression with hypochondrias and suicidal tendencies alternating with periods of extreme joy.

"Isaac Newton, who first expounded the theory of gravitation, at middle age would have strange mental states characterized by confusion, depression, and delusions of persecution."

RACE-TRACK BET SHARPS

The odds are against you in most cases when you place small bets on race horses at the track, declares Paul Gallico, well-known sports editor, in an article in Liberty. "Wander down through the scurrying pack along the track," Gallico writes, "and as you walk, suave gentlemen at your elbow will murmur, 'Are you taken care of, gentlemen?' 'Would you care to get a bet down?'

"They are the small bookmakers," the writer continues, "and they are out to trim you. Their game is to get you to deposit $100 or so with them and play against it. If you lose, they've got your money. And if you win, they shave you down to the shortest odds, and pocket the difference. If you win moderate sums from them, you are reasonably sure of finding them after the last race. If you clean up, you are not quite so certain of locating them."

NO OUTSIDE AID

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 4.—Hereafter the Porterville Fire Department must not respond to calls outside the city, according to decision of the City Council, this action being taken as protection for the city itself. Several times recently the fire department has sent the chemical apparatus to scenes of fires outside the city limits.

PRODUCE LETTER IN OIL CASE

Communication Deals With Property in Dispute in Ventura Litigation

VENTURA, Aug. 4.—A letter, dated April 21, 1925, and sent by Ralph B. Lloyd to Mrs. Lena Gosnell Bowyer at Seattle, which may have an important bearing on the $3,000,000 Gosnell-Lloyd oil-rights trial going on in the Superior Court here, was introduced as an exhibit in the case today by James E. Degnan, head of the counsel for the defense.

A portion of the letter follows:

"The oil wells on the Gosnell lease are falling off rapidly. (Then follows a detailed report of the activity of each of the fifteen wells on the lease.) The Shell company is carrying on an enormous amount of work, but they are having a great deal of trouble with water. In time I think they will rectify the trouble with water, and in a short time your royalty checks should increase in amount.

"Ira Gosnell sold out his surface rights to the Shell company, but as to his buying out or trying to buy out your father's oil rights I have never heard anything. We have, as you state, some very nice wells on our property. In fact three wells are the best in the State of California. There is no reason why you should not have some more good wells on your property, and with as much work going on as the Shell company is carrying on, the tide should turn in your favor."

It is understood that counsel for plaintiffs, in their cross-examination of Lloyd, may spend considerable time on the contents of this letter, which was written nearly two months before Lloyd purchased from Truman B. Gosnell the latter's one-twenty-fourth interest in the Gosnell lease oil rights for $72,000 and which the plaintiffs, Ira Gosnell and Lena Bowyer, in their attempt to recover them for their father, contend are worth at least $3,000,000.

Lloyd has been continuously on the stand since the plaintiffs closed their case yesterday morning and the counsel for the defense began to present their side of the case.

Legion Meet Comes to End

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 4. (AP)—Philip F. Dodson, South Pasadena, was elected department commander of the American Legion, department of California, at the final session here this morning. His selection was made unanimous and without a ballot, when Wilbur A. Getty, Santa Ana, withdrew his name following his nomination.

Father Stephen Barron was named chaplain without opposition; Louis Ruff, Los Angeles, sergeant-at-arms. Shortly after assuming his post as department commander, Mr. Dodson renamed James K. Fisk of San Francisco, as department adjutant.

Area commanders for the five areas were named as follows: No. 1: F. O. Reemer, Chico; No. 2, Bill Cox, Gilroy; No. 3, Tom Delaney, Los Banos; No. 4, A. D. Waddingham, Los Angeles; No. 5, C. M. Brown, Redlands.

Following the awarding of the trophies and some minor details the convention adjourned early this afternoon to meet in Stockton in 1928.

TELLS OF ROBBING MANY RESIDENCES

GLENDALE, Aug. 4.—The mystery surrounding a series of burglaries in Glendale, perpetrated during the summer, is believed to have been solved by the arrest of E. C. Burris, 5704 Fayette avenue, Los Angeles, by Detective Sergeant J. J. Claxton and Officer Culp of the local police, who captured the suspect in Highland Park last night. Burris is said to have admitted several burglaries in Glendale, and it is declared that some of the loot recovered by the detectives in his rooms has already been identified by Glendale owners. The fact that most of the robberies were made at houses at the junction of two streets led the police to give the suspect the title of the "corner house" burglar.

JUDGE'S RULE MAKES EXPENSIVE SMOKES

REDLANDS, Aug. 4.—It is bad luck to smoke in the forests of this section if the case is brought before Judge A. B. McCrary of Mission. The judge has lived long enough in this valley to know what the forest fires do, and this knowledge, combined with hot weather, makes a combination that is not so good for the law violators.

Today an even dozen men who tried to sneak a smoke on the side in the mountains were taken before Judge McCrary and he assessed each of them $25 and got the money in every case. They were James Ferriet, I. Torrey, R. E. Stacey, Carter Mullay, A. E. Newman, J. H. Mason, G. M. Evans, George Heinsch, R. E. Steir, C. R. Inman and W. H. Hamilton. Most of them are Los Angeles men.

BUSINESS MAN ON PLANNING BOARD

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 4.—William Frauenberger, prominent in local business circles, has been named by the City Commission as a member of the City Planning Commission to succeed Elmer Burlingame, resigned. Burlingame was president of the planning body.

The presidency has been vacant since Burlingame's resignation, but A. L. Boyden has been named acting chairman, and indications are that he will be elected president. The Planning Commission has been devoting its entire attention recently to a new zoning ordinance for the city.

HELD ON CHECK CHARGE

TULARE, Aug. 4.—Charles Bettencourt, asserted police operative, is held in the Tulare County Jail in Visalia in lieu of $1000 bond on a charge of writing fictitious checks to cover purchase of an automobile from a local dealer. Bettencourt is said to have signed a confession. He waived preliminary and was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff pending his trial in the Superior Court.

"Times" Daily Short Story

"THAT GAY YOUNG SET"

The Dangerous Woman Comes to Clairmont

By LUCILLE VAN SLYKE

NOTE: This is one of a series of short stories, each complete in itself, in which is retailed the uncivil war between the youngsters and the oldsters of an old-fashioned town

CLAIRMONT had been a sleepy Westchester village for a century or so when a transportation witch waved her wand, and almost overnight it began to be a modern suburb. The only difficulty was that the Dear Old Inhabitants, descendants of the Original Settlers, did not realize that anything so magical had happened.

Most especially Mrs. Philander Munro Findley and her sister, Miss Eunice Ralston, who had dwelt all their lives in the old Ralston house would not see that anything was happening.

But the Hon. Philander Munro Findley, Esq., was certainly sitting up and taking notice.

Their butler was allowed the afternoon off on alternate Sundays. Philander never had the whole afternoon off, but sometimes managed an hour or two for something that he called a "constitutional." Returning from this dissipation one shiny spring Sunday he paused outside the Ralston gates several minutes to chat with a slender young person who had hailed him most casually.

It probably wouldn't have mattered so much if it hadn't been the Sunday that the socially prominent Warringtons were coming to tea. Philander was perfectly aware, too, that his wife's most influential cousins, who had taken a house at Greenwich, were motoring down for tea also, and that they were bringing with them an ex-Cabinet officer and a famous lecturer and a woman who had been presented at St. James's. It wasn't exactly a tactful time for him to hang about the gate like an enamored schoolboy, giggling and ogling at a wickedly pretty girl in an atrocious green plaid sports frock.

He came into the library a few moments afterward, smiling most idiotically and strutting a bit. Philander was certainly unduly pleased with himself. He had just been flattered outrageously and he knew it. But, oh! how he had enjoyed the rare sensation!

He went straight to his wife's desk for the jelly-cellar keys.

"Well?" she demanded after an unusually eloquent silence, during which he had annexed the keys without so much as a jingle.

"She—er—was asking about a—er—restaurant—or—er—tea room," he explained lamely. "She—er—seems—a sprightly sort—"

"Sprightly!" Mrs. Findley's scorn was robust. "I saw her stop you! Impertinent would be a more accurate adjective! Just why it took you so long to explain that we have no such nuisances as public eating places I simply can't understand!"

Philander murmured something about the girl's agreeable manner.

Three minutes later an astounded pantry maid saw him filling a silver fruit basket with a reckless number of sandwiches and cakes, and ten minutes later the cook realized that he was crawling through the hedge with a bottle of currant wine under one arm and a bottle of milk under the other. Not that they did any tattling. Nobody asked them any questions and they told no lies.

Hopkins, the butler, merely said: "I think he just stepped out, madam."

It was when Philander did not step back that Mrs. Philander began to fidget. Under her breath she admonished her sister, "Find Philander!"

The Warringtons arrived, bringing with them a most frightfully distinguished archaeologist. The dignified old drawing-room was filled with decorous pleasantries. But no host presided. Eunice sidled back to whisper, "Can't find him!"

"The only comfort is," Mrs. Warrington pursued a much-mooted topic, "that the railroad tracks do intervene. At least, we do not have to see the cheap structures. And the persons who live in them!"

The hostess sat behind a gigantic silver urn, and in her agitation she quite forgot she was serving tea. "Their clothes look like the awnings and the shutters on their houses! There was a girl this very afternoon in a very gaudy dress asking Philander where she could find a tea room.

"Actually, when one motors through these new streets one sees babies being bathed and folks dancing and all that sort of thing—and there's a perfect bedlam of mechanical music—radios, phonographs and all that sort of thing! They have little cars painted all sorts of gaudy colors and they dash about—" She shuddered. But even as she shuddered she glanced complacently about her.

Practically all her life had been spent in this dignified old house, which had been the abode of three generations of Ralstons. The section 'round about was filled with similar edifices.

Perhaps the most beautiful of them all was the house next door known as "the old Bliss Mansion." It had been standing boarded up for a quarter of a century because one Eugene Bliss had run away and married a little southern girl without his father's permission. For the senior Bliss had never told his son or anybody else of the plans he had all worked out in his own mind that Eugene was to marry Miss Eunice Ralston. So Eugene had never returned to the twenty-two-rooms and five acres of gardens filled with gigantic weeping willows and fountains and sloping terraces.

But having learned from the senior Bliss after Eugene's departure of the plans that were to include her, Eunice had always felt aggrieved, if not jilted.

And Miss Eunice Ralston still kept an eye on the Bliss mansion. She interrupted her sister's tirade.

"That girl who was talking with Phil! She is prowling around the Bliss carriage portico!"

Of course, nobody actually ran, but certainly they all reached the long French windows rather quickly.

"My dears!" shrilled Mrs. Warrington, "the creatures are having some sort of picnic!"

It wasn't a picnic. It was an orgy. An orgy of daffodils and sunlight and sandwiches and currant wine. Almost simultaneously the audience discovered that Philander Munro Findley was leading the revels!

The orgy was evidently about over, for Philander solicitously helped the green plaid girl to stow the small persons into the tonneau. Then he helped her into coat and almost lifted her to the wheel of the car. The horn honked madly, and shrill above its clamor the girl cried gaily, "Au revoir, Philly!"

Philander waved the silver cake basket in farewell. Shortly afterward he strode into the drawing-room positively grinning.

"Good afternoon, everybody!" he cried boisterously. "Sorry to be late, but I—er—fact is—I was over next door. Most delightful young people. The girl especially. Most sprightly."

He teetered on his toes and began chatting with the slightly dazed lecturer.

"This young generation is so refreshing!" he informed that gentle person—whose last lecture had been entitled "The Modern Menace"—"so utterly fearless! Take this young pair as example. He had some sort of engineering job. Took cold. Flu, pneumonia—that sort of thing followed. She never whimpered, so he tells me. Just went out and found a job as mannequin. That dress—!" He chuckled. "Did you notice it? You must have! It seems that her boss found out one day that it was her fifth wedding anniversary and lost his head a bit—but thriftily. He presented her with this model that would not sell. They were most droll in discussing it—she says several chameleons have busted themselves from one glance!"

His fascinated audience stared at him. Was Philander drunk?

"Isn't he hopeless?" His dismayed wife tried to make light of the situation. "He picks up the most casual acquaintances—"

"But she is not a casual acquaintance!" Philander protested. "She is coming here to live. They all are. This week Saturday, if she can pawn her engagement ring for enough to get their furniture out of storage. Wouldn't take a loan from me. Proud as Punch. But, bless my soul! won't it be good to see lights in that dear old house again!"

For the moment he completely forgot his sister-in-law's imaginary romance, which had been the pet grievance of her life. She was utterly shocked as he casually added:

"Some sort of codicil in the will. No income, as I understand it, but they do inherit the right to live there. But that plucky little thing married him knowing he hadn't a cent, that his grandfather had never forgiven his father—"

The lady who had been presented at court let out an excited squeal.

"Why, Cousin Philander! Why didn't you say they were the young Eugene Blisses? Why didn't you bring them in? My dears, she was Barbara Lathrop—Back Bay and all that. A raving beauty. She was presented at St. James's the same year I was and then eloped with this young nobody—"

"One would hardly call the Blisses nobody!" Mrs. Warrington was downright bristling.

"Nobody compared with Babe's clan!" The St. James's heroine was not daunted. "Oh, isn't she a darling, Cousin Philander?"

"Most assuredly," Philander said solemnly. "The—er—fact is—we hoped she would come in for tea, didn't we, my dear?" He turned deferentially to his wife.

"You must come some time when she is here." Mrs. Philander could do very neat footwork. "We must do all we can to make them welcome in Clairmont."

"But what a relief!" the frankest of the Greenwich cousins picked up her teacup, "to find out that she is the right sort and not one of those objectionable persons from the new colony!"

The butler brought more hot water, the pantry maid had put a clean doily in the silver basket and filled it with cakes anew. Philander himself helped to pass them. The gentle tide of chatter flowed back to the exclusive charms of Clairmont.

"We have really succeeded," said Mrs. Warrington, "in maintaining a certain tone in the community because we have kept out such horrid innovations as road-houses and tea rooms."

"Tea rooms!" Mrs. Philander shuddered. "They always seem to me just resorts for persons who are totally lacking in background."

Only the St. James's lady persisted in discussing the dangerous young woman, who most fortunately, had proved to be not so dangerous, after all.

"What I can't understand," she fretted, "is how in this world they can afford to live here! Her family are all background and no money, and you say he hasn't a cent. It will cost a young fortune to keep a great house like that going—"

Philander, the dear old gossip, was almost bursting with importance. He threw out his chest grandly.

"The fact is—" he confided, "she—er—told me—her plans." Indeed, he quoted her exact words. "She is going to open the trickiest tea dive in Westchester! She says she knows she can get a young mob coming!"

His fascinated audience stared. Was Philander drunk?

LEGION POST HONORS ACTRESS

Film Player Installed as Godmother

Official Ceremony

HOLLYWOOD POST, No. 1508, American Legion, has installed Ruth Roland, motion-picture actress, as its official godmother.

Miss Roland was escorted to the hall with the colors and presented with a badge of office by Col. B. J. Brady, U.S.A., who in his speech praised Miss Roland's war service. Tod Brown, Commander of the post, was master of ceremonies. After the presentation there was an entertainment furnished by Eddie Gribben, Les Bates and Buddie Jameson.

HE WALKS IN BUT NOT OUT AGAIN

J. H. Carrington Goes to District Attorney's Office to Ask Aid in Finding Criminal But Detectives Hold Him on Charges of Mortgage Forgery and Theft

When J. H. Carrington, 27 years of age, feared that he would be arrested on a charge of forging and selling mortgages on property not his own he went directly to Ben Cohn and Charles Riemer, in charge of Dist.-Atty. Keyes's detective detail, and asked for their assistance in apprehending the "real criminals," according to the officers.

The result was a whirlwind investigation and young Carrington is now confined in the County Jail charged with two counts of forgery and two of theft and unable to furnish $4000 bail.

According to Riemer, Carrington would look about the city until he found a home belonging to someone who was spending the summer in the East. Then he would have a friend occupy the home posing as the owner. The next step, according to Riemer, was the forgery of a mortgage which Carrington would offer for sale. The purchaser after interviewing the "owner" of the home readily bought the mortgage at a favorable discount.

Carrington's manipulations thus far discovered involve property valued at approximately $50,000, Riemer said.

The forgery complaints were sworn to by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mahr, who charge Carrington forged a deed to their home; and Bertha Benjamin and Owen Wyatt, who accuse the man of forging a mortgage on real estate owned by them.

The complaints charging theft arose out of the purchase of an expensive automobile which Carrington is asserted to have obtained by trading a forged mortgage for it. He later is asserted to have borrowed $2200 on the car. The Allen Finance Corporation, which lent the $2200, and John W. Childers, who originally owned the car, swore to the theft complaints.

Congressional Party Will Go South Today

Members of the Congressional party who have been in Los Angeles on an official inspection tour will depart for San Diego today and will not return until the 8th inst., after inspecting border immigration stations.

According to plans the representatives will use San Diego as a base from where they will fly to border stations and inspect patrols and immigration officials.

In the party are Representative Milton W. Shreve of Pennsylvania; Anthony J. Griffith of New York; William D. Oliver of Alabama; Arthur Orr, clerk of the House appropriations committee; Maj. Melvin Jones of the budget bureau and Robe Carl White, assistant Secretary of Labor.

The visitors yesterday made a trip to Catalina Island.

PALOS VERDES CLUB MEETS AT BREAKFAST

Founded recently at Palos Verdes Estates, the Palos Verdes Breakfast Club will stage its second Sunday meeting at 8:15 o'clock on the 7th inst., at the golf clubhouse at Palos Verdes Estates. The club is founded primarily in the interests of sportsmanship. Its members' activities embrace horseback riding, golfing, tennis, boating and swimming. Membership in the Palos Verdes Breakfast Club includes all the privileges of the Palos Verdes Estates Golf Club.

AUTO MEDDLING PUNISHABLE

KHJ Listeners Told of New Motor Vehicle Law Features

In a talk broadcast over KHJ yesterday, Sergt. E. L. Johnson of the police bureau of public safety called attention to the California Vehicle Act, which provides that anyone breaking or removing any part of a vehicle for the purpose of injuring or destroying it or preventing its operation, without the consent of its owner, shall be guilty of misdemeanor.

Willfully or maliciously interfering with or preventing the running or operation of a vehicle is likewise a misdemeanor, the officer said.

MANY WOULD BE CINDERELLAS

Entries are becoming numerous for the Cinderella contest at the Knights of Columbus Mardi Gras and circus, which opens the 17th inst., it was announced yesterday by David G. Rice, in charge of details. The gold slippers which Cinderella will wear when she is crowned queen are ready for her, he said.

Hospital Groups to Get Together

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (AP)—An effort to create mutual relations between hospital associations of North America and Europe will be attempted in a conference at Paris, September 29, officials of the American Hospital Association, made known today.

Representatives from Central and South America, Canada, Japan and Mexico have been extended invitations to the conference and it is anticipated that most of Europe's leading hospital authorities will be in attendance.

The American associations which will likely send delegates are the American Nurses' Association, American College of Surgeons, American Medical Association, United States Public Health Service and the American Hospital Association.

EDICT ON NEW LAW

Rigid Enforcement in Matter of Accident Reports Ordered

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4. (Exclusive) Rigid enforcement of the new section of the State Motor Vehicle Act which requires all drivers involved in smash-ups resulting in injury or death to make an immediate report to the proper authorities today was ordered by Alexander R. Heron, director of the State Department of Finance of which the motor vehicle division is a branch.

The law provides that drivers in accident cases must forward, within twenty-four hours, a report of the accident to police headquarters, if the accident occurs in the limits of an incorporated city, or to the State motor vehicle division.

Heron explains that the reports will not be admissible as evidence in any criminal or civil trial and urges that police officers assist in enforcing the new law.

Fire Chiefs Open Oregon Sessions

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 4. (AP)—Opening the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs here today was marked by memorial services for three who died since the last meeting—Michael F. Hannan, fire marshal of San Francisco; S. Sidney Hose, Chief, Berkeley, Cal., and J. P. Nichols, Chief, Salinas, Cal. Chaplain J. H. Schively of San Francisco delivered the memorial address.

George M. Mantor of Seattle, president, opened the convention. William P. Cooper of Richmond, Cal., responded to the welcome extended by Acting Mayor C. A. Bigelow.

Addresses on technical subjects were on the program for this afternoon, speakers including Thomas H. Baird, Fresno, Cal., and E. L. Sinex, Montecito, Cal.

The Bargain-Hunter's Paradise

People do like to pick up useful things whenever they can, and pay less than they expected to pay. How interesting it would be, then, to shop where EVERYTHING on sale is offered at genuine price reductions!

Such a place is the "Miscellaneous For Sale" department of TIMES WANT ADS. A housewife will find here no end of things required in every home, such as odd pieces of furniture or complete sets, pictures, rugs, etc. A business man may stock up on office supplies or install time-saving equipment. The musician, the builder, the art connoisseur, the mechanic, the farmer—all are enabled to save substantial amounts in this bargain-hunter's paradise.

WANTED—HELP— Male

SALESMEN
$225 A WEEK

A few successful salesmen are wanted immediately for special work in connection with one of the leading sectional societies of Southern California.

Calling on members only, with proper credentials. A man who is intelligent, but not too clever, can earn $225 per week—right from the start.

Qualifications are: A good automobile; the ability to close a $3500 deal without getting "stage fright" and the desire to make some real money in a fine field. Real estate selling experience will be helpful, but is not essential.

Call Friday between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

5 HIGH CLASS MEN

Especially Desirable For Home Owners

Ten-year amortization loans on improved properties with prepayment option. "Any amount at any time without notice or bonus" and with full rebate of interest on principal repaid. Half-yearly payments cover principal and interest and extinguish the debt at the end of the 10-year period. A safe and sane plan which eliminates renewal expenses and worries and provides a wise and practical plan for the eventual payment of the debt. Low cost. No appraisement or escrow fees. Unlimited funds. Loans made in approved cities and towns in Southern California.
